

Board OKs publication

Presses to roll on '75 Sunburst

By GEORGE MALEK

In the wake of the Ohio Supreme Court's decision, the Washington C.H. Board of Education has approved the publishing of the 1975 Sunburst with pictures of all students.

The board met Wednesday morning in the superintendent's office and voted unanimously to authorize the printing.

There was no dissent on the issue, and the special board meeting was completed in 10 minutes. Several spectators, mostly high school-age students, attended the session.

The board noted that Sunburst advisor Miss Helen Hutson has two complete versions of the annual ready for the printers. One includes some 40 pictures of students who were in violation of the school code.

Miss Hutson said a copy of the proper yearbook can be sent almost immediately, and publication would be done by late summer. Distribution of the annual is expected by early fall.

Their concern appeared to be not only the yearbook publication but also the board's policy for the coming year. That subject was not discussed during the meeting, and board president Fred Domenico said the entire student handbook would be reviewed at a later date.

Board members did discuss the grooming code informally following the session.

OHIO SUPREME Court justices voted 5-2 last week to uphold a lower court decision which stated that the school must include the picture of Thomas McClung in the 1975 annual. Allen McClung, 546 Comfort Lane, the boy's father, filed suit some 15 months ago seeking an injunction against publication without his son's picture.

Washington Senior High School administrators had notified the parents that McClung's picture would not appear because the length of his hair violated the school's grooming code.

Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman denied the injunction. She said the school had reasonable rules for grooming and the right to enforce those rules.

An appeal to the Second District Court of Appeals in Dayton overturned the local judge's decision, and the Supreme Court concurred.

The high court, however, did not rule on whether or not the rule itself was valid. It cited inconsistent enforcement of the regulation as the basis for its decision. This leaves the question of the school's authority to regulate dress and grooming unresolved.

FOLLOWING MONDAY'S meeting, board members seemed to reach a consensus that they must either eliminate the grooming code altogether or incorporate in their school policy specific penalties for infractions.

Consistent application of penalties for any policy established would apparently satisfy the objections cited by the Supreme Court. On the other hand, the high court did not state that it necessarily found the current regulation within the boundaries of authority established by law. It is possible that even uniform enforcement of the present code would eventually be found unconstitutional.

Another factor which cannot be overlooked by the board is the effect of Title IX. This is a federal regulation which prohibits sexual discrimination by bodies receiving federal funds.

The regulation itself, established by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, states only that grooming codes may not be applied CIGARETTE VENDORS, wholesale and retail, in the Fayette County area must purchase their new cigarette license by May 24.

The licenses may be picked up at the County Clerk's office in the Courthouse. Retail licenses will cost $25 and wholesale licenses will cost $100.

LOCAL RESIDENTS wishing to join the United States Army can find the Washington C.H. recruiter, Sgt. Jerry Hill, at the Paul H. Huey Post 25 American Legion building, 212 N. Fayette St.

Sgt. Hill moved his recruiting office from the Army National Guard Armory, 201 S. Fayette St., earlier this month.

CHILDREN themselves need not be present for kindergarten registrations being held Thursday and Friday for the city school system.

Parents may register their children at Eastside School beginning at 1 p.m. each of the two days. They are asked to bring birth certificates and immunization records, but not the children.

Although babysitting services will be available, they will be limited, and parents are asked to make other arrangements if possible.

CORVETTE DRIVERS are invited to attend an organizational meeting of the South Central Ohio Corvette Club Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Sabina.

The club, a member of the National Council of Corvette Clubs, will serve members from Clinton, Fayette and Highland counties.

The club will sponsor rallies, tours and all types of sports car events according to Carl Anderson. Meetings will rotate monthly through the three counties.

Thursday's meeting will be held in the Clinton County National Bank Community Service Room in Sabina. For further information contact Anderson at 513-584-2871.

Foundation gives $2,000 to Community Education

At the annual meeting of the Charitable Foundation of Fayette County, which was held this week in the Senior Citizens Center, Hank Shaffer, of the Community Education Program, appeared before the group to discuss his program and the need for funds. Members of the Foundation agreed to give Community Education $2,000, the largest contribution made this year.

Shaffer described Community Education as a program which provides educational, recreational and cultural activities throughout Fayette County and for areas bordering the county. The program, which is financed entirely through donations, consists of classes which range from speed-reading to macrame. Since its creation in 1974, a total of 21,668 persons have been involved in the program.

When learning that the foundation had decided to contribute $2,000 to the program, Shaffer said, "This will certainly help since the amount of money we receive through contributions completely determines what we can do with our program. Now we will be able to continue providing the same classes that have been part of our curriculum in the past for at least another six months."

The election of officers was held at the recent meeting of the Charitable Foundation. George Finley, who was advanced from vice president, will serve as president. He is a former supervisor at Dayton Power and Light Company and is now the executive secretary of the Fayette County Fair Board. John Breiner is the immediate past president of the foundation.

Kenneth Walters was elected to the post of vice president and Frances White was chosen to serve as secretary for another term. Finley and William Lovell were re-elected to serve another 10-year term as trustees. Persons re-elected to the executive committee were William Junk, Willard Perrill and Joseph Peters.

Junk, who serves as treasurer for the foundation, reported that total assets of the organization are $24,629.39. He also announced that the only allocation made during the year was to the United Church Women, in the amount of $250, to help defray rent and upkeep at their used clothing center.

The Charitable Foundation was founded in 1953 and incorporated with 20 local business and professional men acting as the trustees. It provides as efficient machinery for managing contributions and bequests under the continuing judgment of an organized group of experienced and public-spirited citizens.

The funds in the foundation do not consist only of the gifts of a single individual or family, but of the many small and medium-sized gifts left at different times by various donors. Potential contributors, who in the absence of such an organization might feel that their gift alone would be insufficient to set up a separate trust, can use the general framework of the foundation for their charitable purpose. At the same time, separate identities are maintained and the gift can be used along with others in accomplishing a larger purpose.

The funds are placed in the custody of the foundation trustees and local financial institutions and thus are safe-guarded and invested, making available the income, and under certain conditions, the principal, for the purposes of the Charitable Foundation. At regular intervals, the trustees will make public, accounts of receipts and expenditures.

Membership of the trustees will change through rotation of appointments and all members will be chosen for their knowledge of the needs of the county and serve without compensation. Any contributor may designate his preference, and such wish will be observed by the trustees until changing conditions make such purpose unnecessary, undesirable, impractical, or impossible.

In such case, by proper action of the foundation, the funds can thereafter be used for such other charitable purposes as will, in the opinion of the trustees, more effectively promote the original interest of the donor.

Trustees of the foundation are Wayne Bower, John Breiner, J. Roush Burton, Colin C. Campbell, Robert A. Craig, Mac Dews Sr., Jean H. Dice, Ed Vollette, L.M. Hayes, Clifford E. Hughes, and Carroll Halliday; William A. Lovell, Carolyn Mace, Emerson Marting, Edward F. Moser, Willard H. Perrill, Joseph E. Peters, Arch O. Riber, Kenneth Walters, and Frances White.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the Charitable Foundation can consult any of the trustees, a local attorney, or banking institution.

Church upsets Carter in Nebraska

Ford playing high-risk politics

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

President Ford is playing high-risk politics in his struggle with Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination, raising the stakes state by state — and now he has virtually everything wagered on victory in Michigan next Tuesday.

There and in Maryland there is suddenly the chance of an opening for Democrats out to stop Jimmy Carter, still the dominant candidate for their nomination.

His string of primary victories was halted abruptly by Sen. Frank Church, an upset winner in Nebraska in his debut as a candidate.

Reagan gained 54 per cent of the vote to beat Ford in the Republican primary in Nebraska. Ford won in West Virginia with 56 per cent of the GOP ballots.

And while Carter was losing a close one in Nebraska, he won narrowly over Rep. Morris K. Udall in Connecticut.

Those decisions in Tuesday's primaries were the prelude to bigger tests next week.

Reagan confronts Ford in Michigan, the President's home state. Udall tests Carter there, while California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. challenges the Democratic frontrunner in Maryland.

Since Reagan started winning on May Day, Ford and his managers have pointed each week to the next set of primaries, calling them crucial ones.

That won't work in Michigan. Rogers C. B. Morton, the Ford campaign manager, said the President will have to win there to "prove he's viable ... to get his campaign turned around."

Another Ford strategist acknowledged a defeat at home would put the President in deep trouble. Ford was campaigning there today, and returning this weekend. Reagan was to hunt Michigan votes Thursday and Friday.

The Ford team is worried about possible crossover voting by conservative Democrats in Michigan now that George C. Wallace is virtually finished as a candidate. Wallace won the Democratic primary there four years ago, with 809,239 votes.

Reagan noted pointedly that his Nebraska victory was in a Republican-only primary, with none of the crossover vote Ford managers had blamed for earlier losses to the challenger. "This confirms my support is not a Wallace vote," he said.

Nonetheless, his Michigan organization is working to entice Democrats across the party boundary, into the Republican primary this time. Those Wallace votes are going to go somewhere.

Church, meanwhile, said he was struck with a Nebraska primary victory he called a miracle. Udall said that vote, and his close second in Connecticut, meant Carter's bandwagon had been stalled.

"Well, I can't win them all," the black-tied Carter said after a Democratic congressional fundraising dinner in Washington. "As far as a bandwagon goes, take one state at a time and campaign in all of them."

But unless he starts winning again next week, the stop-Carter effort he thought he had quashed by driving Sen. Henry M. Jackson out of active competition may be revived.

And that would mean new hope for the Democrats who seek to head him off and try to win another nomination for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who is not running but stresses at every opportunity that he is available.

Carter remains the commanding leader in Democratic delegate strength, his total at a projected 594 pending final counts in Nebraska and Connecticut. It will take 1,505 to choose a Democratic nominee.

Reagan increased his lead over Ford, with incomplete returns putting his GOP delegate count at 417. Ford has

Latest Hughes will 'probably phony'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Spokesmen for Hughes Tool Co. say they know nothing about a second purported will of the late billionaire Howard Hughes that was sealed in an envelope bearing the firm's name.

The three-page handwritten document that surfaced Tuesday was dated June 22, 1969, addressed to the Summa Corp. in care of the Clark County clerk, and delivered by mail. The return address read "Hughes Tool Co., Houston, Tex."

Summa Corp., the umbrella firm which controls the Hughes empire, was named executor of the estate.

But Summa spokesman Arelo Sederberg said in Los Angeles that the firm was not incorporated until December 1972 and that the name was not even under consideration much before then.

Sederberg said there is no connection between Summa and Hughes Tool Co. He said Hughes Tool's oil well division was sold to the public in 1972 and the remaining assets incorporated into Summa.

In Houston, Raymond Holliday, board chairman of Hughes Tool, said he knew nothing about the new document.

The envelope containing the document also held a small, handwritten note which asked that the purported will "be mail (sic) 30 days after my demise." It was signed Howard R. Hughes.

A court clerk said she turned the unopened envelope over to Summa executive Jim Cullen. It was later filed at the courthouse by William Morse, a Nevada attorney for Summa, and Wayne Williams, a trust officer of the First National Bank of Nevada, Hughes' temporary estate administrator in Nevada.

Judge Keith C. Hayes of the Eighth Judicial District Court will ultimately decide whether any purported Hughes wills are authentic.

Hayes earlier set a hearing on May 21 for a will found two weeks ago in the Salt Lake City offices of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

Distribution of the estimated $1.5 billion to $2.5 billion estate was earmarked as follows in the new will:

"First: To all my blood relatives I leave one-twelfth of my estate."

"Second: To Hughes Medical Institute of Miami, Fla., I leave one-sixth of all my assets."

"Third: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the University of Nevada and the University of California."

"Fourth: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the Universities of Texas and the University of Mexico City, Mex."

"Fifth: One-twelfth of my estate to be divided among the blind and homeless children of America and to the ones with medical needs."

"Sixth: One-sixth of all my assets to be divided among 10 living American individuals, bearers of the social security account numbers — 009-22-3345, 339-55-6648, 669-88-9951, 999-11-2254, 119-33-4446, 449-66-7749, 779-99-0052, 229-44-5547 and 559-77-8850."

Although the document said 10 Americans, it listed only nine numbers.

"Seventh: One-sixth of all my estate, I leave to all my blood relatives to put to use as they wish. May this document bring contentment and peace of mind to all."

Patricia Hearst faces
Harris in courtroom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst prepared to confront William and Emily Harris in court today as codefendants, not comrades, in their first meeting since arrest ended their underground voyage last year.

The three, once joined on FBI posters as America's most wanted fugitives, were due in court for a hearing on Miss Hearst's request to sever her legal ties to the Harris.

The 22-year-old newspaper heiress, now a convicted bank robber, wants to be tried separately on charges involving a day and night of violence in Los Angeles two years ago.

She was to be driven to court by U.S. marshals from the Metropolitan Correctional Center at San Diego, about 150 miles south of here, where she is undergoing diagnostic tests.

"She is not apprehensive at this time" about her meeting with the Harris, said her attorney, Al Johnson. "She feels it's something that has to be done and she's ready to face whatever has to be."

Miss Hearst has denounced the Harris as her tormentors and kidnapers. They have reviled her as a snitch.

The Harris, still avowed members of the Symbionese Liberation Army, oppose a severance of their trial from Miss Hearst's case.

Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler has set a tentative trial date of June 1, but federal prison officials say Miss Hearst cannot be available by then.

Miss Hearst, whose previous court date in the case was canceled when she suffered a collapsed lung last month, has not even entered a plea to the local charges of kidnaping, assault and robbery.

It appeared unlikely that she would plead until federal authorities have completed her psychiatric evaluation based on the San Diego tests. That examination is scheduled to continue until July 25 and could be extended another 90 days if doctors need more time.

The tests are a prelude to her final sentencing by U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver J. Carter on the March 20 San Francisco bank robbery conviction.

The charges against Miss Hearst and the Harris stem from a series of events on May 16, 1974, in which the three allegedly kidnaped two men, stole cars and participated in a shooting at a suburban Inglewood sporting goods store.

Mainly About People

Mrs. George (Edna) Naylor of 605 S. North St., is now recuperating at home after spending the past two weeks in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

Dewey Sheidler of 510 E. Market St., attended the State Life Insurance Convention held at the Hilton Hotel in Columbus, on Tuesday.

Candidates

Nebraska

With 97 per cent of the precincts counted:

Reagan 110,846 or 54 per cent.

Ford 92,833 or 46 per cent.

In the separate delegate election, with 73 per cent of the precincts tallied, Reagan led for 18, Ford for seven.

On the Democratic side there it was:

Church 66,693 or 39 per cent.

Carter 64,810 or 38 per cent.

Humphrey 12,735 or 7 per cent.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, listed, like Humphrey, despite his disclaimers of candidacy, got four per cent.

In the Democratic delegate contest, Church led for 15, Carter for 8.

West Virginia

With 80 per cent of the precincts tallied:

Ford 67,467 or 56 per cent.

Reagan 52,201 or 44 per cent.

The 28 Republican delegates there were uncommitted under state law.

Favorite son Sen. Robert C. Byrd won 246,601 votes or 89 per cent.

Wallace had 31,968 or 11 per cent.

There are 33 Democratic delegates, also uncommitted.

Connecticut

Carter 35,415 or 33 per cent.

Udall 32,959 or 31 per cent.

Jackson 18,962 or 18 per cent.

Uncommitted 13,774 or 13 per cent.

That was in party-sponsored balloting that is part of a complex delegate selection process. The 51 delegates will be selected in conventions in one month. The popular vote pointed to a lineup of 17 delegates for Carter, 15 for Udall, 5 for Jackson with the balance likely to be uncommitted.

FEC bill signed; no cash yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cash-starved presidential candidates will have to wait at least a few more days before they receive millions of dollars in matching federal campaign funds, despite President Ford's signature on a bill that releases the money.

The Federal Election Commission is now legally back in the business of handing out matching funds to qualifying candidates, but the new FEC has no members yet. Ford signed the bill restructuring the six-member board Tuesday, but he did not name anyone to the new FEC.

White House officials said they expect Ford to make nominations in the next few days, possibly by Thursday.

Ford said in signing the bill that he has some reservations about the constitutionality of some provisions.

But he said he signed it because "further delay would undermine the fair and proper conduct of elections this year."

It could be less than 24 hours between nomination of the new commissioners and $2.1 million in treasury checks being deposited in the campaign war chests of 11 candidates.

But there could be delays. The process includes Senate confirmation of nominees, which could be done in one day, swearing in ceremonies, an FEC meeting and writing of checks by the treasury.

If Ford nominated the new commissioners Thursday and the Senate acted immediately to confirm them, they could be sworn in and approve the staff recommendations on matching funds that same day.

FEC staff members said that in that case checks to the candidates could be available by late Thursday or Friday.

The candidates have received no federal funds since March 22 as a result of a Supreme Court ruling that the FEC was unconstitutionally structured.

Candidates have had to make economic and some have stopped active campaigning.

Ford's GOP opponent, Ronald Reagan, and some Democratic candidates have complained that they have to pay many expenses, especially for travel, in advance, while Ford uses the presidential jet and pays his bills later.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., quit actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination, blaming the lack of federal funds.

Ford is in the best shape financially. His campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, has announced a 25 per cent cut in the staff of the President Ford Committee because the Ford campaign is at the upper end of the legal spending limits and must conserve funds for the primaries yet to come and the GOP Convention in August.

Ford stands to gain the most from the first rush of funds from the commission — $865,674 already approved by the FEC staff. Reagan will get $389,895. Ford has requested $1.4 million and Reagan $603,000.

Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter leads Democrats in funds approved by the FEC staff — $313,886. His pending requests add up to $520,055.

Stock list goes down

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices settled back today amid some evident disappointment over the market's mixed showing on Tuesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off nearly 2 points in the early going, and losers took a 5-3 lead over gainers in the over-all tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said some selling had been prompted by the market's inability to move past its previous high for the year in two attempts during Tuesday's session.

The Dow, which hit a high of 1,011.02 on April 21, reached the 1,010 level early Tuesday and again at mid-afternoon. But each time it dropped back again.

Today's early gains included Transco Cos., up 3/4 at 11 1/2 in a 176,600-share block trade; NCR, off 3/4 at 29; Kaufman & Broad, down 1/4 at 9 1/2, and Raytheon, up 1/2 at 54 1/2.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average slipped .87 to 1,006.61.

Gainers held a 7-6 edge on losers among NYSE-listed issues, but the exchange's composite index was off .06 at 54.84.

Big Board volume climbed to 23.59 million shares, the heaviest total in nearly three weeks.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose 1.00 to 104.75.

differently to boys and girls. This would apparently prohibit any rules on length of hair which did not apply equally to both sexes.

Title IX does not specifically prohibit rules barring mustaches or beards, but HEW officials have issued opinions stating that they felt such rules were prohibited.

Board members stated following the meeting that they had attempted to enforce rules which were in keeping with the general preferences of the community at large.

Domenico stated that many people choose Washington C.H. rather than Dayton, Columbus or other large cities because of the intimacy and character of the community. Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor said school rules on grooming and other matters were devised to reinforce the standards set by the community in general.

The board president stated that he hoped there would be input from the student body as well as area residents to assist the board in reaching a decision on any policy changes.

All board members reached agreement that the jungle of governmental regulations was becoming overbearing. They noted that federal funds invariably have strings attached which tend to lessen the control of local officials over their own institutions.

Nestor said this has a leveling effect on all phases of government. It tends to require that every community have the same rules as every other community.

Jerry Sheppard, board member, said that if the trend continues, boards of education will be unnecessary. He said the matter of governing the schools could be turned over to an attorney who would simply interpret the rules and regulations established by state and federal authorities.

Bloomington committeewomen

In Paint Township, Bloomington Village, Charline T. Cunningham and Mildred A. Hunt will be running for posts as committeewomen.

Mrs. Cunningham, who resides at 91 Midland Ave., Bloomington, has never run for this position although she has been involved in the politics of the Republican party since she became eligible to vote. She presently is serving as Fayette County chairwoman, to which she was appointed in 1970, and she is a member of board of elections. Mrs. Cunningham said that she enjoys working with the public in this capacity.

Mrs. Hunt, who lives lives at 81 Biddle Blvd., is the Democrat candidate. She has never served as a committeewoman before but was asked to do so when the former committeewoman from Bloomington decided not to run for re-election.

Uranium enrichment debate set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to end the 30-year government monopoly over uranium enrichment is being sent to the House and Senate for floor debate by unanimous action of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

The bill, which the committee approved 16-0 Tuesday, would:

—Authorize the Energy Research

and Development Administration (ERDA) to negotiate government guarantees for the establishment of private uranium enrichment facilities.

—Retain congressional veto power over agreements negotiated by ERDA.

—Direct ERDA to work toward government construction of the next uranium enrichment plant, in case a construction agreement cannot be reached with Uranium Enrichment Associates (UEA), a private venture.

Nuclear power plants use enriched uranium fuel.

The bill, called the Nuclear Fuel Assurance Act, would authorize the federal government to guarantee up to $8 billion of private investment in a series of private plants providing uranium enrichment.

Ford administration officials who support the proposal have said there was little chance of private project failures that would require the government to spend most of this money. Nonetheless, the bill would authorize ERDA to guarantee that the enrichment plants, using government technology, would work.

It would also authorize ERDA to sell enriched uranium from its own stockpiles to private ventures or to purchase their private excess production to help them get started. That provision could end up requiring substantial federal investments, although not as substantial as the full cost of future uranium enrichment.

The Ford administration says enrichment plants needed in the future may cost $30 billion to $50 billion.

The U.S. government now owns and operates the nation's only three enrichment plants and would have to make the huge future investment if enrichment remained in government hands.

Sen. John O. Pastore, chairman of the Joint Committee, said Tuesday that the Nixon and Ford administrations were unwilling to finance further government plants, so there was no alternative but to promote private ventures.

The committee readily went along with his assessment, after revising the bill to make it clear that ERDA may not make any formal commitments to private uranium enrichers without specific congressional approval.

More controversial, however, was the UEA proposal to build the next enrichment plant, a huge $3.5 billion installation near Dothan, Ala. Two nuclear power plants planned there would cost another $1.2 billion.

casualties were reported in those cities.

In Vicenza, 75 miles southwest of the destruction area, many of the 100 prisoners in the local jail climbed to the roof and demanded to be freed to insure their safety. Despite warning shots from guards, the convicts refused to return to their cells, and police surrounded the jail.

Rounded by Udine's 90,000 residents were spending the night at home for the first time in six nights. When they felt a particularly strong tremor just before midnight, they rushed back to cars, tents and other makeshift shelters.

The toll from Thursday's quake remained at 914 dead, more than 3,000 injured and about 80,000 homeless. About 400 persons are not accounted for.

As national leaders of the ruling Christian Democrats and their Communist rivals bickered over the adequacy of the government's relief measures with an eye to the national election June 20, rival local political leaders joined hands to create a single body to coordinate relief work.

But Loris Fortuna, a Socialist member of Parliament, warned that the parties would soon be fighting over allocation of the relief funds.

"We want the money to go to the cooperatives, to the people who must rebuild their homes, to the municipalities, to the legislature," he said. "Naturally the Christian Democrats will be trying to re-establish the big industries, the big towns."

New military aid proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committees in both the House and Senate are offering new bills to replace a $4-billion foreign military aid measure vetoed by President Ford, but the new bills retain some of the provisions Ford liked least.

Ford vetoed the military aid bill on Friday, objecting to sections that would have temporarily lifted the U.S. embargo against Vietnam and allowed Congress to veto some of his military aid decisions. Both chambers decided not to try to override the veto.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and House International Relations Committee approved new bills Tuesday. Both bills drop the Vietnam trade provision, but retain some congressional veto powers.

The Vietnam provision would have lifted the trade embargo for six months, and then permanently if the Vietnamese cooperated in accounting for Americans still listed as missing in the Vietnam war.

Both committees tacked the $4 billion

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — "It is my devout wish to bring emotional depression into the open and so treat it as one does a physical infirmity... it must be treated, and the sooner the better."

So wrote ex-astronaut "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. in "return to Earth," a book in which he told of his quiet struggle to overcome emotional illness two years after becoming the second man in history to walk on the moon.

The book, which he coauthored with newsman Wayne Warga, now is a television movie starring Cliff Robertson as Aldrin and Shirley Knight as his wife, Joan. It'll be on ABC this Friday night and we urge you to see it.

It isn't a simplistic heroes-are-human yarn. It's a subtle, sympathetic, story of how one man acclaimed as a hero realized he had an emotional problem, how it affected him and his family and how he coped with it.

Most of Aldrin's book was devoted to his boyhood life, his Air Force career and what happened to him in the space program before, during and immediately after his historic Apollo 11 flight in July 1969.

In Friday's movie, the emphasis is on the last part of the book, which deals with his affair with a New York divorcee named Marianne, the psychiatric help he sought for acute depression after Apollo 11 and the disintegration of his 17-year marriage to Joan.

As Aldrin, Robertson does a superb, finely shaded job of depicting the gradual deterioration of a once supremely confident man now slowly withdrawing from the pressure of fame and a life-long desire to excel.

The tone is set early in the film, when he meets the divorcee — played by Stefanie Powers — at an aerospace industry dinner here. He tells her NASA prepared its astronauts well for the trip from earth.

"But they didn't prepare us for the return — that's the funny thing," he muses, speaking in a vague, detached, uncertain manner that becomes more pronounced as the story of his return continues.

Assigned as commandant of the Aerospace School at Edwards Air Force Base in California, he secretly seeks psychiatric help.

He tells his psychiatrist, "I'm not having fun anymore. There're no challenges, no goals. It's useless."

The treatment briefly helps. His spirits rebound, he wants a fresh start, wants to divorce Joan, the mother of his three children, and marry Marianne. It does no good that his doctor warns him "the other side of depression is an excessive sense of well-being."

But Aldrin's euphoria soon collapses when, after he tells his wife he wants a divorce, Marianne tells him she doesn't want to get married (in his book he says she married another man she dated during their affair).

He realizes he still needs psychiatric help. The final scene, a tense, strained meeting with Joan on a beach, contains a faint hint of hope — until an off-screen narrator says they later were divorced.

Aldrin, now a director of the National Association for Mental Health and a technical consultant for several business firms, has since married again.

Ice blamed for crop cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ice in northwestern Ohio was blamed Tuesday for cutting production of winter wheat by 11 per cent from last year.

The Ohio Crop Reporting Service said production probably would reach 66 million bushels, down from record 1975 production of 74.3 million bushels.

The forecast is for a yield of 41 bushels an acre in Ohio, one bushel an acre below the yields the last two years.

Harvested acreage is expected to total 1.61 million acres, 9 per cent below the total last year.

Abandoned acreage is expected to reach 140,000 acres or 8 per cent of planted area.

Production of winter wheat across the nation is forecast at 1.46 million bushels, down 12 per cent from last year's 1.65 million bushels. Yield is estimated at 30.8 bushels an acre, down 1.2 bushels an acre from 1975.

Class organized 45 years ago

The Marguerite Class held its spring banquet in Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church. The buffet dinner was catered by Miss Maxine Gilmerr. Mrs. Kenneth Arnold gave the invocation preceding the meal.

Mrs. Leonard Dellinger, president, introduced Mrs. Orville Jenkins who told that the class was organized 45 years ago and three of the eight charter members were present: Mary Alice Campbell, Dorothy Dellinger and Mildred Rodgers.

Mrs. Jenkins welcomed class members and their guests and also recognized Mrs. Florence Cook, assistant class teacher. Members introduced their guests. Mrs. William Rogers, presented John Huffman, a former student of the late Mrs. Robert E. Willis, who presented three piano selections: Poem by Fibich, Waltz A flat by Brahms, and Nocturne by Grieg.

Mrs. Richard Rankin showed slides of "Old Homes of Fayette County" and gave an interesting running commentary. She also stated she is having a National Historical Record compiled of homes over 100 years old. She answered questions from those present.

The tables were beautifully decorated using white place mats, red, white and blue candles, small American flags and Bi-centennial napkins. Favors of red, white and blue penutias with blue and silver wrapping were quite colorful.

Members and guests present were Mrs. Orville Jenkins and guests Mrs. "ilmah Hastings and Mrs. Senath Thompson, Mrs. Alkire, Mrs. Kenneth Arnold with Mrs. Rauh Harlow and Mrs. Ned Kinzer, Mrs. George Campbell with Mrs. Donald Dunn, Miss Debbie Dunn, Mrs. Richard Stout of Grove City, Mrs. Ruth Chaney with Miss Mary Jo Cullen, and Mrs. H.L. Hayes, Mrs. Ervin Miller and Mrs. Leonard Korn, Mrs. William Rogers with Mrs. James Nilan, Mrs. Fred Rost with Mrs. Charles Holbrook and Sheri Holbrook, Mrs. John Sagar Sr., Miss May Sauer with Mrs. Edward Caldwell and Mrs. Corinne Taylor, Mrs. Richard Rankin and John Huffman were guests of the class.

OSU Mothers meeting set

The Spring State Meeting for The Ohio State University Mothers' Association will be held Saturday, May 22nd, in the Tap Room of Drake Union at Ohio State Campus. Mrs. Donald Schorr of Mt. Gilead, state president, will preside at the business meeting at 10:00 a.m. State officers for 1976-77 will be elected and installed. Faculty members from the Office of Dean of University College will be present for question and answer period.

Lunch will be served at noon and can be attended by reservation only. Reservations are $3.25.

Dr. Wilbur A. Gould will present a program with slides on "Food Technology Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow". Dr. Gould is professor of Food Processing and Technology in the Department of Horticulture at The Ohio State University.

Membership in the association is open to mothers and guardians of any former of present student. Mothers not geographically located to permit active membership in an organized county chapter may become an associate member for $1.00 and order their luncheon reservation and membership

Posy Garden club entertains at picnic

The Posy Garden Club entertained the older class of children from the Fayette Progressive School with a picnic on Tuesday and a "Day on the Farm" at the home of Mrs. Jess Schlichter, president of the club. This completes the third year the club has worked with this group of 10 children.

After a walk to a little stream and a "spooky" old house, the children enjoyed a bountiful picnic luncheon served at one long table in the dining room. They also enjoyed games and "playing" the organ.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Cathy White and Mrs. Helen Pfeifer, teachers. Assisting Mrs. Schlichter were Mrs. Harry Thraikill, Mrs. Easter Woods, Mrs. Lester Haines, Mrs. Dorothy Bihl, Mrs. Bess Seaman and Mrs. Arthur Schlichter.

On June 16, the club plans a tour of Adena, the home and gardens. Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, tour chairman, will conduct a tree identification contest.

Phi Beta Psi Associate II elects officers

Nine members of Phi Beta Psi Associate II chapter met at the Pizza Hut for a noon luncheon, then went to the home of Mrs. William Heinz for a brief meeting, conducted by Mrs. Robert Hagerty, president. Reports were heard, and nominations for officers for the year were made.

Appointed were Mrs. Ford Wilson, president; Mrs. Frank Weade, vice president; Mrs. Paul Crosby, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Hugh Payton, smile girl; and Mrs. Heinz, librarian.

The next gathering will be June 9 in the home of Mrs. Omar Schwart, when the members will meet and then go to the dinner-theater at Reynoldsburg.

Founder's Day luncheon set

"Founder's Day" will be observed by Delta Kapa Gamma when the members assemble for a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Pickaway Arms, Circleville. Mrs. William Mace will be in charge of the Founder's Day ceremony entitled "Together We Remember Our Heritage." Mrs. Lucille Davis will be in charge of the initiation ceremony for four new members.

Mrs. Joe McClure will give the invocation and Mrs. John Rhoads will be in charge of the music.

The planning committee is composed of Mrs. Tom Mark, chairman; Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter, Mrs. James Eakins and Miss Marian Christopher.

First Presbyterian Church setting for marriage vows

Miss Linda Sue Van Bibber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Bibber, 1593 Ohio Rt. 41SE, became the bride of Gary Lee Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas of London.

The Rev. Gerald Wheat performed the double-ring ceremony May 8 in the chapel of First Presbyterian Church. Two vases of yellow daisies and white carnations two single candelabra and an open Bible graced the altar. Mrs. John Case was the organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin. The gown had an empire waistline, bodice overlay of lace, with round neckline and long lace sleeves. The train was of Chantilly lace with scallops on both edges. Her headpiece was a Camelot style cap with lace and pearl trim and two tier nylon tulle veil. She carried a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies, and a center corsage of white carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Janet Van Bibber was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a green and white flocked gown with round neckline, empire waist and short puff sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Duane (Diane) Earles, another sister of the bride, was bride's matron.

Her gown was yellow styled like the maid of honor. She also carried a colonial bouquet of green daisies and baby's breath.

Melvin Hamilton, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Duane Earles seated the wedding guests.

Melissa Van Bibber, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Wendy Van Bibber, also a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Their gowns were styled like the honor attendants. They each carried a white wicker basket of yellow and green daisies and baby's breath. Mrs. Melvin Hamilton, sister of the groom, was at the guest book.

Little Amy Van Bibber, niece of the bride, and Timmy Earles, nephew of the bride, were the ring bearers.

Mrs. Van Bibber chose for her daughter's wedding a street-length dress of aqua double knit. She also had an orchid corsage.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped with two white doves and wedding bells. Mrs. Charles Humphrey and Mrs. Charles Osborn were hostesses. Each wore a yellow daisy corsage and white apron.

Wedding plans announced by Miss VanDyke

Plans have been completed for the open church wedding of Miss Cathy VanDyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanDyke of New Martinsburg, and Garry Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Garrison of Greenfield.

The Rev. Earl Russell will perform the double-ring ceremony at 3:30 p.m.

Saturday, May 15, in the New Martinsburg United Methodist Church.

Danny VanDyke will present a prelude of nuptial music beginning at 3 p.m.

Smorgasbord planned by White Oak Grove

Sixteen members of the White Oak Grove United Methodist Women met at the church when Mrs. Donald Rife conducted the meeting. It was reported that five cards had been sent to ill members and 12 calls made to shutins. The annual Mother-Daughter banquet is planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, at the church, when a dessert smorgasbord will be featured. The Miami Trace Folksingers will present the program.

A Retreat for Women was announced for Saturday, May 15, at Lancaster

Campgrounds. On Sept. 29, a bus tour to Jackson is planned.

Mrs. Lawrence Newbrey presented the program theme, "All Are Called."

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. June 2 at the church.

Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, once an Ohio Supreme Court judge, became the first woman ever to serve on a high federal court. President Franklin D. Roosevelt named her to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Little guests attending the party were T.J.'s brother, Jamie, his cousins, April Dawn, Bruce and Kevin Eggleton, Christa Snyder, Darrell Hannah, and Amy and Gary Massie. They played games and all were given large balloons, as favors.

After T.J. opened his gifts, cake, ice cream sandwiches and Kool-aid were served. The cake was decorated with aqua and chocolate roses, and a donkey in the center. Additional guests were T.J.'s grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fries.

Women's Camp set in June at Kirkmont

Ladies of Fayette County-do you want some fun and enjoyment? Want to get away from doing laundry, dishes and cleaning for a few days? Well, Ohio's Women's Camp at Kirkmont Center, near Bellefontaine, is planned for June 10, 11 and 12. This is just the place to "get away from it all."

Any women from Fayette County is eligible to attend. Camp begins at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 10, and end after breakfast on June 12.

The ski-type lodge overlooks Logan County, and is near the highest point in Ohio. The registration fee of $18 includes meals and lodging and use of camp facilities for the three days. The deadline for registration is June 2. All registrations must be sent to Mrs. Dixie Anderson, 300 E. Walnut St., Hillsboro, Ohio 45133.

Marriages declining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer people are getting married and more are getting divorced, according to the latest government reports, but some experts say declining marriage figures don't mean a rejection of traditional values.

A new study by the Center for Health Statistics shows the number of marriages performed in the United States declined about 7 per cent from 1973 to 1975.

The center's provisional data shows an estimated 2.1 million couples were married in 1975, compared with 2.2 million in 1974, and an estimated 2.3 million in 1973.

But Paul C. Glick, a senior demographer in the Census Bureau's marriage and family division, says the decrease in marriages is more likely a result of changing population patterns than a rejection of traditional values.

"We're now seeing a passing of a peak effect of the post-World War II baby boom," he said. He said a marriage peak was reached in the early 1970s, when the bulk of the post-World War II baby-boom generation reached the early 20s, traditional marrying years.

- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups (1/2 pound) diced cooked ham.

The Major Samuel Myers Chapter U.S. Daughters of 1812 held the annual "Sunset Supper" in the Fellowship Hall of the Staunton Methodist Church on Monday.

After a sumptuous picnic lunch, the group was entertained with an illustrated talk entitled "America The Beautiful" given by Miss Mabel Spray. Miss Spray is a former Home Management and Family Economist associated with the Ohio State Extension Service. Miss Spray stated that in his Bi-Centennial Year all should review the past of this country and preserve the good, and good all, teach to the coming generations the love of the beautiful, the love of the good and the love of our country whose freedom all can enjoy.

"First, said Miss Spray, "in viewing the beautiful in America all need to look at the history of these United States." Much of it is preserved for all from Plymouth Rock to the present in the villages of New England — such as Sturbridge and Williamsport in Virginia. It is reflected by the monuments — Paul Revere in Boston, the Jefferson Memorial in Washington. It is found in the homes of great men as Mt. Vernon, Monticello, the Hermitage, or the home of Longfellow.

The second beautiful thing in America, the family and the family home, whether it be a log cabin or a mansion, tells much about this country, the family from the baby, the toddler, the school years the marriage and the beginning of another family through to old age which built this great nation.

The third beauty in America lies in the realm of religion represented by the churches throughout the land — from the log church of the pioneers or in the mountain community, the little white church by the side of the road, the country churches, the city churches to the beautiful cathedral. Beautiful buildings; beautiful settings!

For the next source of beauty, she chose nature. There are the animals — buffalo, bear, deer that have roamed this land since before man; birds; the flowers; and trees, from the flaming colors of the eastern trees in the fall to the palms of Hawaii; the mountains — Alaska's Mt. McKinley, the Grand Tetons, the Rockies and the Appalachians; the Alaskan Glacier; the numerous rock formations — the Bad Lands of the Dakotas — the Grand Canyon; the rivers, the lakes, the waterfalls, the ocean, the prairies, the fertile fields. From Maine to Alaska to Hawaii, wherever one goes God's handiwork can be seen.

The final beautiful thing is when man works with God to create. There is Mt. Rushmore, Hoover Dam, the replicas the Parthenon in Tennessee, Alaska

Pipeline, the Space Program with the flight to the moon; and many more. Truly, these United States of America are beautiful, she said.

In the course of the business meeting, which followed, it was announced that three books had been placed in the Carnegie Public Library as memorials for the late Mrs. Leroy Sollars, Mrs. Howard Stewart and Mrs. William Theobald. The books are "Talley's North-east Kentucky Papers", "They Went That-a-Way" by Hamlin and "The History of the Hocking Valley, Ohio 1883."

Other guests were Mrs. Paul Engle, Mrs. Harry Bell and Mrs. Martin O'Cull.

QUARTER HOUR COOKING features a handsome Banana-Corned Beef Hash Bake for the days when the clock is always way ahead of you.

Banana your way to dinner

Everybody has days when nothing comes out on time. Every task seems to take longer than it should. Suddenly everybody's asking: when are we going to have dinner? That's the time to turn to quarter hour cooking. Yes, it can be done — dinner in 15 minutes flat!

Banana-Corned Beef Hash Bake is a budget specialty, and it gives you a good main dish in 15 minutes. Bananas are a good value all year around, as the Banana Bunch, industry-sponsored center for consumer information, points out, and bananas are well-liked by everyone. In the corned beef hash bake, whole bananas are peeled, sliced lengthwise, and baked along with the canned hash.

Cooked bananas lend a mellow flavor in dishes made with meat, something special, yet so affordable. Another example of this handy art of quick cooking, combining bananas and meat, is a dish called Banana Rolls, in which slices of ham, bologna or turkey are wrapped around whole peeled bananas, brushed with a tangy mixture, and broiled. Nothing could be simpler, quicker — and the taste is delicious, the appearance different and appetizing.

Bananas contribute nourishment with their good supply of essential vitamins and minerals, a handy food to keep on hand. Try these quarter hour specialties for the days when you are rushed.

BANANA-CORNE BEEF HASH BAKE

- 1 can can (15 1/2 ounces) corned beef hash
- 2 large bananas
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

1 large tomato sliced
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Mound corned beef hash on heatproof platter. Broil 6 inches from heat for 10 minutes, until heated. Peel bananas, cut in half lengthwise and arrange around hash. Brush bananas with butter. Place tomato slices over hash. Broil 3 to 5 minutes or until bananas are heated through. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve with Mustard-Horseradish Sauce, if desired.

YIELD: 4 servings.
Mustard-Horseradish Sauce: In small bowl mix 2 tablespoons mustard, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon horseradish.

- BANANA ROLLS
- 4 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 4 teaspoons currant or other tart jelly
- 4 slices ham, bologna or turkey
- 4 bananas

In small cup mix mustard and jelly, set aside. Wrap one slice of meat around each banana, brush with mustard and jelly mixture. Broil 3 to 5 minutes or until heated through. YIELD: 4 servings.

Election of officers held

Kiwanians hear history of telephone companies

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club elected officers for the coming year at its monthly meeting Monday.

Tom Mossbarger was elected president while Gerald Ragland was voted to president-elect; Jack Sommers to vice-president; George Gibbs to treasurer; and Lester Bower, Kenneth Hughes and Robert Lawrence to the board of directors.

Also during the meeting Jerry Begin was presented with a nine-year perfect attendance pin and a schedule for club members to take care of the Old Washington Cemetery was announced.

Mrs. Susan Link, the local commercial manager for Ohio Bell, presented a slide and commentary program entitled "Hello Ohio." It traced the history and growth of the telephone industry.

This year the telephone is celebrating its 100th birthday, Mrs. Link said.

In 1876, Alexander Graham Bell and his associate, Dr. Thomas Watson, applied for a patent for a talking machine on Valentines Day. On that same day, an Ohio inventor, Elisha Gray, filed his intent to invent a telephone.

The rivalry between Bell and Gray was one of the most celebrated in patent history. Gray joined with Thomas Edison to work with the powerful Western Union Company to drive Bell's company out of business. The climax was that Western Union would settle out of court.

The first telephone was considered a hoax. Bell secured financial assistance and licenses were granted to local groups.

The first telephone established in Ohio was for Rhoads and Company, a coal company in Cleveland. The hook up was between the retail store and the wholesale office.

In 1877 telephones came in pairs—one for the house and one for the business, a truly private line. The need for a system of links between others was set up by Theodore H. Vail and the first switching exchange came into existence in 1878.

Early Ohio frontier society plagued by wealth of vices

Gambling, blasphemy, drunkenness and fighting were among the vices which troubled early Ohio frontier society. Severity of the Blue laws passed Feb. 9, 1809, will come as a surprise to modern Ohioans, for in many cases they included public whippings.

The laws were passed in the administration of Gov. Samuel Huntington, who grew up in Connecticut where such statutes had been in force for more than 100 years.

Use of corporal punishment (whipping) provided in some of the early laws was designed as a substitute for imprisonment, since at that time there were no suitable places of imprisonment except a few rude jails. Some argued corporal punishment was the best means of creating a proper respect for the law.

An 1809 law prescribed whipping for such crimes as attempted rape (rape was punishable by death); maiming, robbery, forgery, horse-stealing, burglary, counterfeiting and theft. The number of lashes specified for these crimes was the traditional maximum of 39, except for maiming and horse theft which could call for as many as 150. In practice, judges used wide discretionary powers in disregarding the letter of the law, or at least reduced the number of lashes to a minimum.

When a woman was whipped in Newark in 1812 "reaction of pain and disgust" made it the last of its kind in Licking County. Debate in the legislature over whipping continued in 1822 under the administration of Gov. Thomas Worthington. In the revised code of 1824 whipping was omitted from the list of penalties.

Worthington said he was much opposed to public whipping both because it was "a horrid spectacle and because, after suffering such punishment, the offender would have no remorse toward society thereafter."

High pressure moving into Ohio from Lake Superior brought cool temperatures overnight, but promises two days of sunny skies.

Skies will be clear through Thursday before increasing cloudiness spreads gradually east through Ohio late Thursday.

Cold Canadian air covered the state overnight, sending temperatures to record lows in Cleveland and Youngstown. Both cities reported 32 degrees at daybreak.

Today's highs were to climb into the upper 50s and low 60s north, reaching the 60s central and south.

Grease fire investigated

Washington C.H. firemen investigated the scene of a grease fire Tuesday.

An oven and surrounding structure in the Thomas A. McMurray residence, 331 Rawlings St., was burned when grease within the oven caught fire around 5 p.m. Tuesday, firemen reported.

The blaze had been extinguished by the time firemen arrived. The loss was estimated at $2,000.

Sleeping bags make great strides

By The Associated Press

A bone-chilling October wind spits pellets of freezing rain. The forecast was for steadily falling temperatures, sleet mixed with snow and brisk breezes throughout what promised to be a miserable night.

If we hadn't come so far, or if we had a little more sense, we might have called off overnighting in the tent next to the broad salmon river we hoped to fish the next day.

At turn-in time, my fishing partner and I wondered if we could stand the cold inside the 9 by 12-foot cotton shelter. We had no source of heat in the tent and would have to depend on warm clothing and our sleeping bags from dark till dawn.

My friend bundled up in as many different layers as he could wear and still fit inside the bag. I wore only one set of thermal underwear.

By morning I was quite comfortable and had not been awakened during the night because of cold. My friend shivered all night long and swore he was turning blue by sunrise.

The difference was our sleeping bags. He slept in an older bag with a fiber fill that was well mashed from use. My duck down bag was relatively new and immensely more efficient at retaining essential body heat.

Like almost everything else in the outdoor recreation field, sleeping bags have come a long way in a short time.

They now come in a wide variety of colors, insulating materials, styles, price ranges and sizes, from bags that will double up to sleep two to a half pint size for youngsters.

Despite improvements in man-made insulating fibers, experienced campers generally agree that prime northern goose down is the best all-round insulation available today.

Down is lightweight, highly efficient at retaining body heat while allowing moisture to "breathe" out, easy to maintain and long-lasting if cared for properly.

They are also the most expensive. Few campers need this quality, but one national firm offers its best bag, containing three and a half pounds of goose down and comfortable in temperatures from 30 below zero to 60 degrees above, for $159.

A good choice for the frequent camper who occasionally braves moderately cold weather is the lower priced bags of duck down and feathers. I have used duck down bag that is comfort rated from 25 to 70 degrees for years with good results. A flannel liner will keep you warm below 25 degrees and additional insulated thermalwear will lower the comfort range into the teens. A bag of this quality today would cost from $50 to $75.

One of the best man-made fibers in use today is dacron. Polyester fiber also is a relatively good insulating material which usually costs less than dacron.

Fit the bag you buy to your needs. It would be foolish to spend $100 for a goose bag for summer camping, or a cheap cotton-stuffed bag if you camp often in different seasons.

CORKSCREW — Cedar Point's "ultimate in a thrill ride," the Corkscrew, is being readied for opening day, May 15 at the Sandusky amusement park. At left are the corkscrew turns that will carry riders upside-down twice as it passes directly over the new Midway. In the background (center) is the 85-foot high hill, a quick dip and the 360 degree loop-the-loop. The addition of the Corkscrew makes five roller coasters at Cedar Point and increases coaster ride capacity by 35 per cent.

Park unveils upside-down coaster

SANDUSKY, — Cedar Point Amusement Land will open its 107th consecutive season Saturday with a revolutionary, upside-down roller coaster, the Corkscrew, a new midway and several new attractions and shows.

The Corkscrew if a $1.75 million coaster that will turn park guests upside-down three times during its 2,050-foot long ride—once through a 360 degrees loop-the-loop and twice more as it passes through the "eye" of the corkscrew.

The Corkscrew and a Swiss-imported ride, the Troika, will be located on a 1,000-foot-long midway that extends from the center of the park into a previously undeveloped area.

The new development represents the bulk of a $4.5 million capital improvements program for 1976, the second largest single-season budget in the park's history.

"The Corkscrew is our first major ride addition in three years and we expect it to generate quite a bit of excitement," Robert L. Munger, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer of Cedar Point, said. "Rides are our main attraction at Cedar Point and we feel the Corkscrew offers our guests the ultimate thrill ride."

The two corkscrew loops, located directly over the new Midway, will also provide a thrill for those persons viewing the coaster while park guests turn overhead. Planning and Design Manager Lee Jewett calls it "the greatest spectator ride ever built."

Rides are not the only new attractions this season. The Cedar Point Cinema, which opened which opened its doors last year with the world's largest indoor motion picture screen, will feature a new movie, "Circus World." The 23-minute film is an in-depth look at the life of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's Circus, seen through the eyes of the IMAX-motion picture system and displayed on a screen 67 feet high and 88 feet wide.

In Sealand, lemon sharks will be on display for the first time. The recent movie "Jaws" has created an increased interest in sharks, Curator Steve Trott said, and three, seven-foot long lemon sharks will join nurse and leopard sharks in a 28,000 gallon tank.

Live entertainment will offer music from the Gay 90s through the mid 70s

Woman convicted in six deaths

FRANKLIN, Ind. (AP) — A live-in babysitter was convicted Monday in the deaths of a Greenwood family of six.

A Johnson Circuit Court jury convicted Sarah I. "Cindy" White, 18, on six-counts of first-degree murder. She was accused of setting the house fire last New Year's Eve which killed Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberson and their four children.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated three hours.

Sentencing was scheduled May 21, and Miss White faces life in prison.

Compromise set on watchdog panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key senators have agreed to support a compromise that would create a new Senate committee with authority to tighten congressional control over U.S. intelligence activities, sources say.

The compromise agreement would give the new panel exclusive jurisdiction over the CIA, but it would share authority over the FBI and military spy agencies with other committees.

The agreement is expected to head off a bitter floor fight between those who want the intelligence community watched over by a single panel and members of four committees that currently oversee the operations of the intelligence agencies.

The compromise, reached Monday night, is expected to satisfy senators insisting on much tighter congressional control over the agencies in the wake of a 15-month Senate investigation of intelligence agency abuses. The abuses ranged from involvement in domestic politics to alleged attempts to assassinate foreign leaders.

The agreement was worked out at a meeting in the office of Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., a longtime advocate of tighter control of intelligence agencies.

The compromise is expected to be offered on the Senate floor, probably on Wednesday, by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nevada, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee.

No action on the compromise was expected today because it is the date of the West Virginia primary in which Senate Majority Whip Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., is on the ballot as a candidate for his Senate seat and for the Democratic nomination for president.

Byrd was one of the key figures in working out the compromise.

Debate on proposals for creating a new intelligence committee was scheduled to start Monday, but the matter never came up and there was no outward indication of the efforts underway to reach a compromise.

Sources said the proposed new committee would have 17 members, two each from the four committees currently having jurisdiction over intelligence agencies, and nine from outside those panels.

It was Mansfield who insisted that a majority come from outside the four committees that have had the responsibility for overseeing intelligence agencies, the sources said.

Those panels are Armed Services and Foreign Relations, which are responsible for the CIA and military intelligence; the Judiciary Committee, which has FBI jurisdiction, and the Appropriations Committee, which has budget jurisdiction over all of them.

Senators would serve on the new committee for no more than nine years. However, there would be no time limit for staff members.

Ohio Theatre to host four children's shows

The Columbus Association for the Performing Arts will present four professional groups performing for children at the Ohio Theatre on four separate Wednesdays this summer. The presentations are designed to capture the imaginations of children and grownups alike, featuring delightful settings, costumes and polished casts.

Opening June 30 will be "Jamboree" presented by the Nicolo Marionettes. The musical centers around Do, Re, and Mi who spring to life and take a spectacular trip through time to explore the whole panoramic sweep of American musical history. "Jamboree" features a large cast of specially articulated marionettes, enormous stylized hand-puppets and rod-figures in a rollicking, revue-style production.

"Robin Hood" presented by the Traveling Playhouse will arrive at the Ohio Theatre on July 28. No character in history is more beloved than Robin Hood, and the stories of his courage, honesty, and physical prowess have always been exciting to children. The spirit of "Merrie Engleland" has been captured not only in the folklore and music of the time, but also in the colorful costumes and settings.

Sytco will present "One for the Money - Five for the Show" on August 11. It's the fanciful story of an evil prime minister who attempts to squash all of the artistic people in his kingdom. Music, dance, and comedy are all in abundance to please both young and old.

Finally, the Fanfare Players will present "Pinnocchio" on August 25. The time-honored children's story of Geppetto, the lonely woodcutter, and the puppet he fashions to take the place of the little boy of his dreams has been a traditional favorite since it was written by Carlo Collodi in 1880.

Each production will be presented twice on their respective Wednesdays, at 11:00 a.m. and at 2:00 p.m. Subscriptions to the entire series are now on sale at the Ohio Theatre Box Office. Subscribers realize generous savings over "at-the-door" prices and subscription tickets can be used in any combination throughout the summer.

MOVING HISTORY — Eight members of the Homer Lawson American Legion Post are shown wearing the uniforms of particular wars the U.S. has been involved in over the past 200 years. The bicentennial float, with its theme of "We Were There - Two Hundred Years of Black History," has already appeared in a recent Chillicothe parade, and will be seen July 4 in Washington C.H. and Bloomingburg. The float may appear in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, held annually in New York City. Elevated and covered with carpet, the float features nine different historic U.S. flags.

Carter eyes Ohio vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jimmy Carter's Ohio campaign manager says the remainder of Carter's Ohio campaign will be focused on 11 congressional districts, the keys to what he sees as a chance of copying Ohio's entire delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Campaign manager Ted Celeste said Tuesday Carter will be aiming at the 11 districts where well-known local politicians are running as favorite son candidates against Carter.

If Carter can defeat those candidates, Celeste said, all 152 Ohio delegates may fall to the former Georgia governor.

"I think that's a real possibility," Celeste said.

He said the potential spoiler is Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., the most prominent national candidate still challenging Carter for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"If Udall's still alive, he has a shot in two or three congressional districts," Celeste said, singling out the 9th, 14th and 22nd districts, "and possibly the 10th. He's got a lot of good people working."

But if Udall—winless in the presidential primary sweepstakes—should drop from the contest soon, Celeste said, it would narrow the campaign to the 11 favorite son districts. In the other 12 districts, he said, Carter would be the frontrunner against already-eliminated national candidates.

Week honors small businesses

It's easy enough to overlook the usual array of special weeks observing national sausage week, national pickle week or the like, but this week honors a very special national institution to which much is owed for America's well-being.

This week is "National Small Business Week." There won't be much commemorating the event on nationwide television or even in the pages of national print media because for years small business has been quietly laboring on main streets and in shopping centers, making each town a better place to live and not expecting much recognition in return.

That's unfortunate when one realizes that small business delivers over half of the nation's jobs, 43 per cent of goods and services and directly and indirectly affects the lives of over 100 million Americans.

However, it should be noted that while these are indeed impressive figures, they show a dwindling of the small business share of the economy. As individuals, small businessmen have had to fight for a fair position in the country's marketplace. The small businessman must deal with the impact of big labor, big government and big business — all of which have been driving small business off the competitive map.

Those forces have also served to keep potential small business owners from striking out on their own. That in itself represents a loss of an important part of the legacy handed down by our founding fathers.

Mouseketeers professional

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brand-new, racially integrated set of Mouseketeers, without any Ohioans, will be singing the Mickey Mouse Club anthem on home television screens starting next year.

The Walt Disney studio in Burbank is producing a new version of the 1950s show, which staged a comeback with reruns across the country last year.

"Applicants came here from all over the country," added coproducer Ed Ropolo. "During the first week of tryouts, women arrived with children from Cheyenne, St. Louis and Athens, Ohio."

Despite the wide-ranging hunt, all the new Mouseketeers have had some professional experience, and many have appeared on television shows or commercials.

Rhodes signs five law bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill giving the state Transportation Director authority to extend school speed zones up to 300 feet beyond school property lines has been signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The school zone bill, sponsored by Rep. Michael DelBane, D-56 Hubbard, will enable Transportation Director Richard Jackson to determine locations where a 20 mile per hour limit should be enforced beyond school boundaries to ensure safety of pupils.

A measure sponsored by another Mahoning County legislator, Rep. Thomas J. Carney, D-71 Boardman, makes it easier for industries to drill for oil or gas on their own property.

The bill bars counties and townships from using zoning ordinances to block drilling by companies on land the firm owns or leases.

Rhodes also signed:

—A bill sponsored by Rep. A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, authorizing temporary commitment of delinquent children to district detention homes and state aid to such facilities from the Ohio Youth Commission.

—Legislation, sponsored by Rep. William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, allowing maximum state reimbursement for certain community mental health and mental retardation projects.

A bill, sponsored by Sen. William F. Bowen, D-9 Cincinnati, granting broader power to regional transit authorities and authorizing their use of state grants for participation in federal mass transit programs.

Man seeks freedom for Liddy

OXON HILL, Md. (AP) — James A. Gavin had no trouble enlisting a neighbor to be editor of the Indian Queen Elementary School PTA newsletter. Only one thing might get in the way, the neighbor said. "I might have to go back to prison."

That was 1½ years ago.

The neighbor, G. Gordon Liddy, did go back to prison to serve the longest term of any of the 58 men convicted of a Watergate or Watergate-related crime.

Gavin said Monday he thinks Liddy has been a prisoner far too long and his five children are suffering because of it.

Gavin is heading a petition drive to get him out.

He first tried the idea on 75 people. "Maybe two of the 75 said they would sign such a petition," he said. Of the others, "One said he never signed anything, another said they ought to throw away the key."

Liddy was the architect and field marshal of the Watergate break-in. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica sentenced him to six to 20 years for his role and another 18 months for his obstinate silence before the grand jury. He has now served three years and is not eligible for a parole hearing until May 1981.

"I lived in the neighborhood for eight years and never knew the Liddys," says Gavin, assistant director of the Washington office of Tenneco. "But our children play on the same teams — baseball, basketball, Boys' Club."

Students, officials plan youth government program

Tuesday evening, members of the Washington Senior Hi-Y Club met at the school in order to talk with the city officials that they will be emulating on Saturday, City Youth-in-Government Day.

The orientation program opened with a speech from Tim O'Flynn, president of the Senior Hi-Y Club, who explained the purpose of City Youth in Government Day to the group.

George Shapter, city manager, addressed the students and city officials and gave a detailed account of how one goes about writing an ordinance. He defined such terms as resolution, emergency ordinance and emergency legislation, and outlined the proper steps one must go through to write a proper piece of legislation. After Shapter's speech, O'Flynn briefed those present on Saturday's schedule.

At 9 a.m., the students and their adult partners will meet in Persinger Hall at the First Presbyterian Church 214 N. Hinde St., for an opening session. Immediately following this, the youth officials will spend time with the adult officials discussing problems and solutions to city problems. At 11:30 a.m. the participants will meet once again at the church for a luncheon which is being sponsored by the Huntington Bank of Washington Court House. A keynote address will be given at this time.

At 1 p.m. the students and the persons advising them will meet again and make last minute preparations for the mock council meeting. At 1:30 p.m. everyone will gather for a joint city council meeting during which time, each official and department will bring up ordinances, resolutions, and concerns that the council should consider. The council will then discuss city problems with the city officials and act upon legislation.

The roles that the students will be assuming include that of city council, city manager, city auditor, fire chief, city inspector, chief of police, superintendent of streets, waste water treatment superintendent, city planning commission, municipal judge, municipal clerk, Washington school board, superintendent of schools, health board, health commissioner and welfare director.

The Senior Hi-Y Club is advised by Mr. George Shoemaker.

Hamilton campus director named

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Dr. M. Douglas Reed, 37, will replace Dr. Bernard F. Phelps as director of Miami University's Hamilton campus August 1, according to Miami President Dr. Phillip Shriver.

Phelps recently requested to be relieved of the position to resume teaching.

TWO CHIEFS — Fire Chief Joe Dennen is pictured speaking with Washington Senior High School student, Mike Provost, who, for the third year in a row, will assume the mock role of fire chief during City Youth in Government Day, Saturday. This annual event is sponsored by Washington Senior Hi-Y and was formulated with the intention of giving young people the opportunity to experience the duties and responsibilities which face our city officials.

Two scholarships awarded

Lions Club honors top area students

At the meeting of the Washington C. H. Lions Club Tuesday, president Dick Coates announced the winners of the Lions Club Scholarship. Also recognized were honor students from Washington Senior High School and Miami Trace High School who had maintained an average of 3.5 or higher.

Carmen White, the Miami Trace recipient of a $200 scholarship, is the daughter of Mrs. Frank White and the late Rev. Frank White. She plans to attend Otterbein College and major in religion and philosophy.

Kevin Pfeifer, who also received $200 is the son of Maurice and Peggy Pfeifer. He was the Washington Senior High School recipient of the scholarship. He too plans to attend Otterbein College and will major in pre-dentistry.

Students from the two schools, who were cited for their scholastic excellence, included Galen Bock, Tim

Dove, Mike Pope, David Thompson, Julie Looker, Lisa English, Ann Fenton, Debbie Bullock, Sue Moore and Karen Easterday, all from Washington Senior High School.

Honor students from Miami Trace are Brett Gundlach, Brian Spencer, Steve Paisley, Nicki Patton, Sheryl Pendleton, Bob Spengler, Kurt Klontz, Sharon Ann Smith, Elaine Puckett, David Knisley, Gretchen Krieger, Cindy Hendricks, Tammy West, Karmel Knedler, Denny Campbell, Denise Beoddy, Leora Burdge, Diane Burke, Scott Gerber, Jim McCoy, Diane Merritt, Ken Moon, Yvonne McCarty, and Paula McClure.

Ohio's Wilberforce University, founded in 1856, got its name from the English Bishop who led a long fight for abolition of the slave trade in the British Empire.

Panel bogs down over property tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) A joint legislative committee has bogged down in its efforts to draft a compromise version of a property tax relief bill, but members say they'll continue negotiations next week.

The committee of three senators and three representatives worked for two hours Tuesday, but failed to reach agreement on issues separating the two panels.

The committee is trying to find a version of the tax bill acceptable to both chambers of the General Assembly. Both the House and Senate have passed a tax relief bill, but neither version is acceptable to the other side.

In both forms, the bills aim at stabilizing property taxes paid by homeowners and at revamping the state's tax administration. Both would accomplish the task by shifting more of the tax burden from homeowners to business and industry.

Until a compromise version is reached and passed, however, the present system will remain. Howls of protest over the present system prompted the legislation earlier this year.

During their meeting Tuesday, the lawmakers discussed adding another tax measure to the bill which would lower the assessment rate on business equipment and inventory.

Rep. George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, chairman of the conference committee, said the question of business taxes must be resolved before the compromise version can be written.

The chief sponsor of the bill, Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, said he would accept the business tax cut to balance the bill, saying "I'm not out to soak business."

And, Rep. Fred B. Hadley, R-79 Bryan, pushed for the business tax cut, saying the bill was unfair to businessmen.

But, Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, said the committee could not cut taxes for everyone. He said earlier versions of the bill cut property taxes "at the expense of business and industry."

But with the business taxes cut, he said, "then the property tax relief will be provided at the expense of local government and school districts."

He said he would not accept the business tax cut unless provisions are made to recompense local government for the lost revenue.

Also during the meeting, Johnson said he would surrender his plan for appointment of judges to his proposed Tax Court of Appeals, conceding to a demand they be elected. But Senate conferees said they are not ready to accept the court at all.

"All we do is run a job employment agency for lawyers," grumbled Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R-4 Middletown. Lukens and Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, want to retain the present quasi-judicial Board of Tax Appeals, as was included in the Senate bill.

WLW's O'Neill auctioneer

DEAF to sponsor sale

The local Deaf Educational Assistance Facility (DEAF), Inc. will be sponsoring an auction to be held on May 22 with WLW disc jockey, James Francis Patrick O'Neill, acting as auctioneer.

Local merchants are presently donating merchandise for the auction which will be held at Kroger's. Some of the items donated include hand-made quilts, afghans, lap robes and paintings.

All proceeds will go to DEAF for teletype (TTY) equipment for the deaf in the Washington C. H. area.

DEAF was formed 18 months ago and one of their accomplishments so far is the installation of a teletype machine in the sheriff's office which provides the deaf with a means of communication.

When someone is trying to contact a person who is deaf, a light flashes on the deaf person's telephone. He then picks up the receiver and puts it on a cradle-like object called a coupler. The message is then sent to the deaf person through the teletype system. The deaf person can also contact the sheriff's office through this same method.

If anyone would like to make a donation to the auction, which is to become a yearly function, contact Mildred Duvall at 335-1069.

Wheat, flour data hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grinding of wheat into flour for use in foods has been heavy enough in recent weeks to prompt an increase by the Agriculture Department in the amount of the key grain it expects to see consumed this season in this country.

For corn, however, only the estimate on how much will be exported was changed Tuesday as USDA brought out its latest forecasts on present and future supplies of and demand for major grains.

That, too, went up — by 50 million bushels — to a new total of 1.6 billion. The change in the official estimates reflects previously reported new purchases by the Soviet Union and continued heavy shipments to other countries.

Both changes this late in the seasons could mean a mild boost to prices for farmers, because of the increased demand for their crops.

But USDA officials said the impact on food prices should not be noticeable because of the relatively small quantities involved.

They did point out that the more flour on the market can only help consumers if the savings from greater supplies are passed along to them.

The wheat grinding prompted a 9-million-bushel hike from April 23 estimates.

That still would leave a 66 per cent increase from a year ago in the amount of stock carried over into the new season July 1. The total supply in that new season is expected to be the largest ever.

Medicaid cutbacks blocked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal judge ordered today the Department of Public Welfare to delay its planned cuts in certain Medicaid programs.

Judge Robert Duncan of U.S. District Court instructed the welfare department to continue paying full Medicaid reimbursements to all recipients beyond May 15, when the department planned to make cuts.

The judge ruled in a case filed at the end of April by welfare recipients. They sought an injunction to halt the cuts on the basis that the services were federally mandated. Further court hearings are anticipated.

The Department of Public Welfare originally wanted to cut about a dozen Medicaid programs on April 1 to eliminate a $40 million budget deficit.

Raymond McKenna, then welfare director, wanted to stop reimbursements for nonprescription drugs; nonemergency ambulance transportation; dental services; psychological, physical and occupational therapy; optometry and occupational therapy.

The cuts were protested by recipients, health care providers and legislators. McKenna then extended the reduction date until May 1.

Jury returns guilty verdict in theft case

A two-day trial of a Washington C.H. man charged with receiving stolen property ended in a finding of guilty Tuesday in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Edward J. O'Keefe, 22, of 619 Columbus Ave., was found guilty of receiving stolen property of less than $150 in value. Though normally classed as a misdemeanor, O'Keefe's crime followed a previous conviction, and, under the Revised Ohio Code, it therefore became a felony offense.

Judge Evelyn W. Coffman sentenced him to one to five years in prison.

During the trial, eight witnesses were put on the stand by assistant Fayette County Prosecutor John H. Roszmann. O'Keefe's attorney, Michael J. Lander, had one witness testify for the defense.

O'Keefe had been arrested by the Washington C.H. Police Department on March 8, following their discovery of numerous articles of stolen property received by O'Keefe.

Much of the stolen property was found at his Columbus Avenue address. Relatives of O'Keefe's were also arrested on charges of receiving and possessing stolen property.

Historians say Ohio had no native Indians, but the first occupants are believed to have been the Eries of the lake region, destroyed by the Iroquois in 1655. After that, Ohio, like Kentucky remained unoccupied but was used for hunting grounds. Then in the early 1700's the Indian population of historic times entered the state. The Miami Indians, for instance, came from the Northwest along with some other tribes. Others entered from the south.

Seniors of the Week

Rajeane Marie Keiser is our first featured senior this week. Rajeane, daughter of Richard and Ruth Keiser, resides at 2023 Snowhill Road, Washington C.H. She has one younger brother, Randy.

Her courses for the year include bookkeeping, psychology, American government and short stories. Rajeane is a member of Future Teachers of America, American Field Service, and 4-H. She played flute in the marching band for two years, has been majorette for two years, and has played in concert and symphonic bands for three years.

Attending baseball games, especially the Cincinnati Reds, football and basketball games is what she enjoys doing. Other things she is interested in are horseback riding, twirling, being outdoors places with her fiancé and friends.

Rajeane plans to attend the Cincinnati Bible College and major in Christian education. Following college, she plans to get married and work with underprivileged children. "Life is a precious gift given to you by God; enjoy and live it to the very fullest through Him," comments Rajeane.

Allan Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Larreck, resides at 3924 CCC Highway-E and has two brothers and a sister: Steve, Susan, and Brian.

Business law, media, consumer economics, family living, government, composition, international studies, and a member of the basketball team and baseball teams. He is editor of the Mitra, vice-president of Varsity "M", and is also a gym assistant.

He enjoys playing all sports, going to the horse races, and just being outdoors.

His future plans are to attend Morehead University and major in education and play baseball. Later he would like to become a teacher and coach. "Underclassmen, make many friends and become active in sports and clubs, and make these four years fun because they are gone before you know it," is Allan's advice to underclassmen.

Jim Ingram, son of Herman and Beverly Ingram, is our next senior this week. He lives at 2080 CCC Highway-W.

His courses include bookkeeping, media, speech, contemporary literature, filmmaking, composition, international studies, government, family living; and he is a chemistry lab assistant. Jim is a member of the bowling club, two year member of the "In the Know" team, and for four years has taken the Scholastic Achievement tests at Ohio State in English. He also works part time at Buckeye Mart. Marking movies and having a good time are some things he likes to do. Jim also enjoys all sports, especially baseball, and travel.

He plans to work this summer and then attend Eastern Kentucky University to major in secondary education. His advice to underclassmen is, "Get in many activities to be the best student and person you can be."

Howard Whiteside is the final senior this week. His the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Whiteside, and resides at 328 E. Market Street. He has one brother Ronald, and two sisters, Carolyn and Patricia.

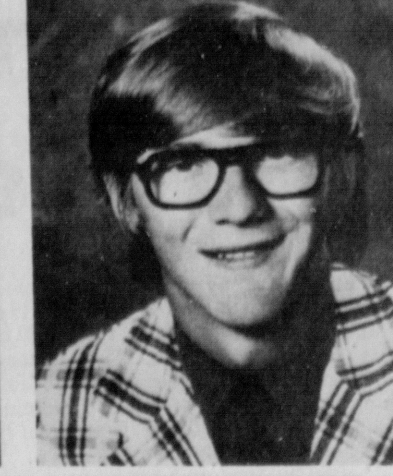

His classes this year are advanced math, machine shop,

Porpoises protected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today ordered tuna fishermen to stop using a common method of fishing which kills hundreds of thousands of porpoises each year along with the tuna catch.

Porpoises are an endangered species.

The ban, effective May 31, will severely affect the tuna industry. Estimates are that between one-third and one-half of the domestic tuna catch is taken by using porpoises to show the locations of large schools of the fish.

U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey, awarding a decision to 14 environmental groups, said he realized the per-ton cost of catching tuna in some ocean areas may rise if purse seiners are prevented from using the porpoises.

"But steps which ensure the protection and conservation of our natural environment must, almost inevitably, impose temporary hardships on those commercial interests which have long benefitted by exploiting that environment," Richey said.

Ohio's first constitutional convention composed of 35 delegates, half of whom were under 40 years of age, convened Nov. 1, 1802. It completed its work in 25 days at a cost of less than $5,000.

Vocal concert

Don't forget the vocal concert Thursday evening. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Freshman Choir, Symphonic Choir, and Folksingers will be performing. There also will be selections from this spring's production of "South Pacific", and other special numbers presented. There is no admission charge.

Sharp Nolan, Reds blank Pirates, 6-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — You have to get-up pretty early to beat Gary Nolan. "You can't come to the park against a club like Pittsburgh and get your program together at 8:05," said Nolan, who says his game-day preparation begins over breakfast coffee.

"You'll be out of there in a hurry if you do. You can't take a club like Pittsburgh lightly," he said.

Nolan ran his record to 3-1 Tuesday night, snapping the Pirates' six game winning streak with a six-hit, 6-0 shutout that gave him 18 scoreless innings in a row.

It was the latest highlight in the comeback of the 28-year-old righthander who was once written off after two years out of baseball.

"He was a magician out there," said catcher Bill Plummer.

Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson says Nolan "is a better pitcher now than any time last year."

Anderson doesn't hesitate to go a step further.

"If he had the fastball now that he had when he first came up and had the control he has now, along with the changeup, you'd be looking at the best pitcher in the game in 20 years," said Anderson.

Hot-hitting Tony Perez supported Nolan's precision pitching with a two-run homer and a bases-loaded single that gave him four runs batted in for the night.

"I'm getting my stuff together," said Perez, who hit his third homer in two games and boosted his RBI total to 10 in the last four outings. The victory pushed the Reds' record to 16-10 and kept them in front of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the battle for first place in the National League West.

Nolan, in lowering his earned run average to 2.16, has not allowed a run in 23 of his last 24 innings. He has yielded only three runs in his last 29 innings.

The Reds, in winning their fourth in a row, routed by Buc starter Bruce Kison for three runs in the first inning. Dan Driessen drove in the first run and Perez drilled a bases-loaded single.

Perez, who has boosted his average from .187 to .250, hit his homer off Ramon Hernandez, who had not allowed a gopher ball in two years.

The shutout was Nolan's first of the year, though he went nine scoreless in a nondecision against the New York Mets in his last outing and combined with Rawly Eastwick for shutout earlier.

"I had excellent command of my off-speed pitch," said Nolan, who had not thrown a complete game since June 8.

"For me the most important thing is hours before. One to four o'clock is the most important. While everybody is on the field, I can think and relax."

Only two Pirate runners got past first base as Nolan didn't issue a walk.

"I'm mentally tired," Nolan said, who has turned to a thinking man pitcher since his shoulder injuries eroded his fastball.

Tonight, Don Gullett, 2-1, duels Jim Rooker, 3-1.

How long is a 13-game losing streak? "About two heart attacks and several sleepless nights," says Dave Bristol, manager of the Atlanta Braves.

Bristol finally was able to get a good night's sleep Tuesday after his Braves posted an 8-7 decision over the New York Mets, ending the longest losing streak in major league baseball this season.

But it didn't come easy. The Braves blew a 7-5 lead in the late innings and had to come back to win on Rowland Office's RBI single with two out in the ninth.

"No human being knows the joy that goes on inside you after breaking a streak like that," Bristol said. "It's a big burden off 30 guys."

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Diego Padres 9-1, the Cincinnati Reds shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-3.

After Office drove home Marty Perez with his ninth-inning single, the Atlanta dugout emptied and the young outfielder was mobbed coming off first base.

"I looked up and thought we had won the World Series," he said.

Phil's 9, Padres 1

Steve Carlton stopped San Philo on six hits to help the first-place Phils to their ninth victory in the last 10 games. Philadelphia scored six runs in the first two innings, then major league home run leader Mike Schmidt belted his 13th of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

Astros 5, Expos 3

Homers by Jose Cruz and Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first inning that carried Houston over Montreal.

Expos starter Clay Kirby, 0-2, failed to retire a batter, Larry Milbourne and Enos Cabell walked, Cruz belted a three-run homer, Bob Watson walked and Johnson smacked a two-run homer, knocking out Kirby.

Reliever Tom Griffin got the victory, allowing just one hit in 4 1-3 innings.

Dodgers 4, Cards 0

Ron Cey hit two home runs and Joe Ferguson one to back the five-hit pitching of Don Sutton, who posted his 42nd career shutout. The three homers give the Dodgers 16 in their last seven games.

Cubs 4, Giants 0

Chicago snapped a five-game losing streak, scoring all its runs in the sixth inning. Manny Trillo belted a two-run double to highlight the uprising.

Tigers 4, Yankees 3

Gary Sutherland's two-run single with two out in the ninth inning capped a three-run rally that lifted Detroit over New York. Rusty Staub opened the ninth with a double and came around on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Aurelio Rodriguez. Pinch-hitter Dan Meyer and Tom Verzer singled and moved up on a wild pitch by Ed Figueroa, 2-2, who had allowed only four hits until the ninth. Sutherland then bunched his game-winning hit up the middle.

Orioles 5, Brewers 2

Ken Singleton doubled home two first-inning runs and Lee May slapped a two-run single in the third, sparking Baltimore over Milwaukee. Mike Cuellar, 1-2, who entered the game with an 11.20 ERA, checked the Brewers on two runs and five hits through the first six innings. Wayne Garland finished up for Baltimore with three hitless innings as the Brewers lost their third game in a row and fifth in six starts.

Royals 6, Twins 3

George Brett, swinging the hottest bat in the American League, knocked in the go-ahead run with his third hit of the game as Kansas City snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning and went on to defeat Minnesota. It was the fourth straight game that the Royals' 22-year-old third baseman, who is batting over .350, has had three hits.

Rangers 6, White Sox 5

Toby Harrah's bases-loaded sacrifice fly with none out in the bottom of the ninth inning lifted Texas over Chicago. Juan Beniquez tripled off loser Dave Hamilton to start the ninth-inning rally and Lenny Randle and Mike Hargrove were purposely walked. Reliever Pete Vuckovich served up the pitch to Harrah, who drove it to medium center field and the sliding Beniquez beat the throw to the plate.

A's 6, Angels 4

Pinch-hitter Ken McMullen singled in two runs as Oakland scored four times in the eighth inning to beat California. The Angels took a 3-2 lead into the eighth with relief pitcher Dick Drago on the mound. With one out, Billy Williams walked and Bert Campaneris doubled. McMullen faced Paul Hartzell, who was called in from the bullpen. McMullen lined a single to left and Tim Hosely followed with his first home run of the season to score two more runs.

Healthy Lions top Unioto

CHILLICOTHE — The Washington C.H. track team tucked a dual meet win under its belt Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's sectional track meet at Rio Grande.

The Blue Lions easily handled Unioto, 71-56, in the meet. Rick Crooks' squad lost a dual the previous night, but he was missing three of his top performers. They returned Tuesday and all three figured in the point total.

Joe Cox, who sat out Monday's meet because of illness, led a Blue Lion sweep in the 100-yard dash with a :10.65 clocking. Teammate Mark Forsythe took second in :10.7 and Greg Greene placed third in :10.9.

Cox also anchored the half-mile relay team's win. The Blue Lions won the race with a slow 1:42.3 time, but a Unioto runner fell insuring the Lions of a win. Cox eased up on his anchor leg according to Crooks and won easily.

Jim Runnels is still hampered by an early season ankle sprain. He still won the pole vault with a 10-foot jump.

Teammate George Jones finished second.

Tim Dove turned in his best low hurdles time of the season after finishing third in the highs. Dove covered the 180-yard course in :22.2. Forsythe, Donahue, Dewey Foster and Jason Rummel also won events.

Forsythe took first in the 220 followed by Ed DeWees who took second. DeWees also took second in the long jump.

Foster won the 880 for the second day in a row. Teammate Tracey Wilson finished second in both the half-mile and the mile runs.

Rummel and Donahue won the mile and two-mile runs respectively.

Bob Matson dominated the weight events as usual. Dan Dean picked up two points for the Blue Lions with thirds in both events.

Sacrifice fly dooms Court House

CHILLICOTHE — An eighth inning sacrifice fly broke up a 1-1 pitching duel between Chillicothe's Jeff Kern and Washington C.H.'s Tom Dean and gave the Cavaliers a non-league baseball win Tuesday.

Dean tossed a four-hitter, but took the loss when Chillicothe's Radcliffe singled, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a fly ball by Carl.

Kern got credit for the win giving up seven Blue Lion hits, but issuing no walks.

Chillicothe scored a run in the first inning and the Blue Lions tied it in the second on an RBI single by Jeff DeWees scoring Kevin Bonecutter. Neither team scored until the extra-inning sacrifice fly.

Randy Sparkman led the Blue Lions in hitting with three safeties and DeWees rapped out two singles.

The Blue Lions will resume league action Wednesday when they host Miami Trace. They will resume sectional play Thursday at Waverly.

Waverly beat Hillsboro in a sectional semifinal match this week. As in basketball, the Blue Lions will be after the sectional tournament championship against Waverly.

Babe Ruth draft held

The Washington C.H. Babe Ruth League held its annual draft Monday. Team selections follow:

The Medics will hold its first practice Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Roszmann Field, Willis coached by Dale Lynch will practice at 8 a.m. Saturday at Roszmann, Girtton under coach Kenneth Stillings will practice Saturday at 10 a.m. and members of the Craigs team should contact manager John Faris (335-5572) for practice information.

Nuggets rediscover win formula

DENVER (AP) — When they needed it most, the Denver Nuggets rediscovered the formula that had produced such successful results during the regular season.

With balanced scoring, a fastbreak offense, pressing defense and a patented third-quarter blitz, the Nuggets fought back into contention in the American Basketball Association championship series, beating the New York Nets 118-110 Tuesday night.

The victory trimmed the Nets' advantage in the best-of-seven series to 3-

2. Game Six is scheduled for Thursday night at Uniondale, N.Y. A seventh game, if necessary, would be played in Denver Sunday.

A number of Denver players, including rookie David Thompson, were convinced that a seventh game would, indeed, be required.

"I think we have a great chance of winning the next game," said Thompson, who scored nine of Denver's 42 points in the big third quarter. "If we play as well as we did tonight, especially in the third quarter, we'll beat them for sure."

Sports briefs

Larry Hunter named Wittenberg coach

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Larry Hunter, for three years an assistant coach at Wittenberg University, was appointed Tuesday as head basketball coach.

The new head coach was the varsity assistant coach under Hamilton and led the junior varsity squads to a 34-4 record over the period.

Hunter joined the Wittenberg staff in 1973, after two years as assistant basketball coach at Marietta College.

Houston Aeros beat New England

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The New England Whalers put the pressure on Houston in the final period of their World Hockey Association playoff game Tuesday night, but the Aeros kept their cool.

"We almost blew it, but our guys hung in there when it counted," said Houston Coach Bill Dineen after watching his team almost blow a three-goal third-period lead before outlasting the Whalers 4-3.

Hubie Brown Atlanta Hawks coach

ATLANTA (AP) — Hubie Brown, who relies on teaching, organization and discipline to produce a winner, signed a multiyear contract Tuesday to attempt to guide the Atlanta Hawks out of the National Basketball Association doldrums.

"I'm taking a positive attitude from day one," said Brown, who resigned earlier in the day as coach of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

"I feel I'm entitled to take an optimistic approach because I feel I can get the job done," he said. "If I didn't, I wouldn't be here."

Armbrick Rick winner of Scioto feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Armbrick Rick breezed to victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, covering the mile in 2:03 4-5.

The winner paid $4, $3.60 and $3.80. Georgiana Double returned $19.80 and $8.60 for second and Torero Hanover, $5.60 for show.

The 2-2 double combination of Gay Irish and Karna Hanover was worth $20.20.

Near flawless Cavs stop Celtics in NBA playoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's young Cavaliers, back on the game of sparse mistakes, are confident they can pull even with Boston's veteran Celtics Friday night in the National Basketball Association semifinals.

"We're known for a team that doesn't turn the ball over. When we do, we're in trouble," reflected Bill Fitch after his Cavaliers committed only seven mistakes in an 83-78 verdict over the Celtics Tuesday night.

It had been an entirely different story in Cleveland's opening two losses to Boston in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals. The Cavaliers erred 17 times in Game One, 24 in Game Two.

Fitch also lauded his team's fluid defense that contained Boston on a 34 per cent shooting night. "We stopped their break just as good as anybody has," he said.

Tom Heinsohn wasn't that impressed, grumbling, "We played high school offense. We didn't make them play."

Cleveland has rationed the Celtics' famed offense to an average of 86 points in the last two playoff games, a fact disturbing Heinsohn.

"We've got to rectify a lot of things before Friday. We're going to have to talk about it," he said.

Meanwhile, Fitch was confident the Cavaliers could reach the finals in their first try at the NBA playoffs.

"This is the only team I've coached that can get down 3-1 and still win it. I'm hopeful we can get out of here with a 2-2 split. I think we can," said Fitch.

Jim Clemons, whose 18 points led the victory, said the Cavaliers are becoming accustomed to playing with Nate Thurmond. The 34-year-old center has been pressed into duty because of injured regular Jim Chones, out with a broken toe.

"As the series goes along and we get used to playing with Nate," said Clemons, "it's going to make a difference."

Thurmond, the darling of an NBA playoff record-tying Coliseum throng of 21,564, steadies Cleveland's defense, handling Dave Cowens in the middle.

"You've got to give him credit," Fitch said of Thurmond. "He's doing a helluva job against a guy who changes his uniform in a telephone booth."

Thurmond, who has limited Cowens to 48 points in three games, knows he's on the spot.

"If we can keep Cowens from dominating the series, I think we can win it. If anyone can hold him down, I think I can," said Thurmond.

Heinsohn and Cowens appear ruffled over all the fuss of the matchup at center.

"Thurmond is not a factor," said a scowling Heinsohn. "I'm tired of hearing he's a factor."

Cowens, who scored 19 against the 6-foot-11 veteran Tuesday night, said of his rival's defense: "It was okay. He blocked a couple of shots. He should, as big as he is."

Boston's hopes have been damaged with a foot injury to John Havlicek. The 35-year-old forward managed just nine points in the third game.

"It's not good, but well enough to play Friday," said Havlicek, looking down at his left foot, wrapped in a towel in the quiet Celtics' dressing room.

Jo Jo White's 22 points paced Boston. Cleveland put four players in double figures, headed by Clemons' 18 and 17 by reserve guard Austin Carr.

Driver suffers broken neck

Rookie injured at Indy trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Heck, the rookie test isn't anything terrific in the way of speed," said a confident Janet Guthrie.

But another rookie, Eddie Miller, proved the speed could be terrifying.

Miller started the final half of his rookie test Tuesday after Miss Guthrie had finished the first half of her test, mandatory for all rookies entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Gliding smoothly around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at about 167 miles per hour on the seventh of 20 laps, Miller's Offenhauser-powered Eagle started to slide sideways coming out of the first turn.

It careened into a drainage ditch, launching the car over a five-foot photographer's fence. It bounced once, flew high in the air over an eight-foot spectator's fence, and landed upside down less than five feet from a crowded spectator grandstand. The car wedged into another fence which prevented the auto from plunging down a 20-foot tunnel.

"I can't remember a car getting that far out of the ballpark since 1951," said one veteran U.S. Auto Club official.

The spectacular accident demolished the car and trapped Miller, 31, from Lakewood, Colo., inside the battered cockpit for nearly 20 minutes.

Miller suffered a broken neck, but his condition was given as "excellent ... considering" by his doctor.

Miss Guthrie, who did not see the accident, was philosophical.

"You accept the risks in this game," said Miss Guthrie, who planned to complete the final phase of her rookie test today. "I saw someone die at Watkins Glen. So I know ..."

It will take a speed of probably at least 180 m.p.h. to make the May 30, $1 million race, and the rookie test speeds are considered safely slow. But Miss Guthrie said she could see how something might go wrong.

"When you're trying not to go as fast as you can, you lose your concentration — and you're not going all that slow that you can afford to lose it," she said. "I don't know if that's what happened to Eddie, but I know I was bored to tears" during the test.

Miss Guthrie said she had planned to complete all 40 laps of the test Tuesday, but ran out of time. She almost didn't even get half done.

"I got through six laps and the oil pressure dropped, and I brought the car back in. Anticipating perhaps I could not complete the test" she threw her driving gloves in disgust.

The problem was very minor and she was able to return to the track and finish the segment of the test.

Royce Berry sent to Bears

CINCINNATI (AP) — Royce Berry, who served six years as defensive captain of the Cincinnati Bengals before a fallingout with Coach Paul Brown, has been traded to the Chicago Bears for an undisclosed draft choice.

The 30-year-old veteran defensive end sat out the 1975 season with a broken wrist.

Berry, 6-foot-3, 250 pounds, said he "knew I was going to be traded...I'm just surprised at the team."

Opening lead - king of hearts.

Most players are familiar with the Bath Coup, even though they may not know the technical name for the play. It gets this name because the play is said to have originated in the resort town of Bath, in England.

Consider this deal where West leads the king of hearts. If South knows his way around a bridge table, he plays the four on the king, hoping that West will continue the suit and so hand him an extra heart trick. This duck of the king, holding A-J-x, is called a Bath Coup.

However, if West is acquainted with this hold-up play, he switches to a different suit after East plays the discouraging deuce of hearts on the king.

Let's suppose West shifts to a club at trick two. South cannot afford to finesse, since this would subject him to defeat if the finesse lost and East returned a heart. So he goes up with the ace in order to insure the contract.

He next plays the K-Q of trumps, followed by the queen of diamonds. East wins either this diamond or the next one with the ace and returns a heart. South wins with the ace and, after discarding his heart loser on dummy's third diamond, concedes a club trick to the king, thus making the contract.

Note that if South wins the king of hearts at trick one, he goes down. East later takes the lead with either a diamond or a club and returns a heart through declarer's J-4. The Bath Coup proves to be absolutely essential to making the contract, even though West does not fall into the trap of leading a second heart at trick two.

The Cause of Contact Dermatitis

I get severe itching and redness of my ears whenever I have my hair dyed. I do this every two months and suffer intensely for several days.

Mrs. L. G. E., III.

Dear Mrs. E.:

The reaction you describe may be due to an allergy to one of the substances in the dye or to a chemical irritant.

An "irritant contact der-matitis" may be caused by the acid, the alkalis and the chemicals in the dyes, even in those people who are not allergic.

"Allergic contact der-matitis," on the other hand, occurs in people who are highly sensitive and would react "allergically" to a great many substances.

People who suffer from
"irritant contact dermatitis" are not benefited by allergic desensitization. Those with "allergic dermatitis" may be effectively treated in this way.

Sensitivity to cosmetics is a common experience. Every effort must be made to protect your ears during the dyeing process. Sometimes, shifting from one dye to another or using nonallergic products may be helpful.

Dermatologists are able to study these two varieties of contact dermatitis and are often able to pinpoint the exact cause.

Wreck sends three to Fayette hospital

A Tuesday afternoon accident sent three people to Fayette County Memorial Hospital, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

A car driven by Helen T. Mellinger, 65, of Cincinnati, travelling northbound on the Old Chillicothe Road, reportedly pulled into the path of a car proceeding northeast on Ohio 753. The second car was driven by Kenneth A. Easter, 20, of Bainbridge.

Ms. Mellinger, who suffered a fractured pelvis, and Easter, also seriously injured, were both admitted to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where they are listed in "satisfactory" condition. A passenger in Ms. Mellinger's car, William K. Boldman, 43, of Greenfield, was treated and released for abrasions.

The cars were severely damaged as a result of the 1:40 p.m. Tuesday accident, and Ms. Mellinger was charged with failing to yield to an oncoming vehicle.

Two rods of fence were damaged when a car driven by Danny W. Cox, 19, of 524 Fifth St., went off the right side of the Rowe Ging Road, just west of Ohio 41-S at 8 p.m. Tuesday. He was charged with failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

No lawsuit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Municipal Court judges decided Tuesday against suing the City of Cincinnati to provide them with space for two courtrooms following their eviction from the Hamilton County Courthouse by the Common Pleas Court.

Presiding Municipal Court Judge Thomas Crush said the decision was reached during a meeting which followed the eviction notice.

Arrests

SHERIFF

TUESDAY — Danny W. Cox, 19, of 224 Fifth St., failure to drive on right half of roadway; Marvin E. Cook, 39, of 2219 Rowe Ging Rd., reckless operation.

MONDAY — Donald E. Robinette, 44, of Jeffersonville, failure to drive on right half of roadway; Donald E. Cornell, 26, of Jeffersonville, failure to drive on right half of roadway; Ralph N. Agle, 83, of Jeffersonville, failure to drive on right half of roadway.

POLICE

TUESDAY — William Garrett Sr., 25, of 724 Paint St., failure to display license plates; Mark E. Pettiford, 23, of Chillicothe, bench warrant; James E. Dewees, 61, of 513 E. Paint St., driving while intoxicated; a 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest; Robert C. Cockerill, 75, of Rt. 2, Washington-New Martinsburg Rd., failure to yield.

As Ralph W. Thomas, 20, of Bloomingburg, was backing from the Lewis E. Thomas residence, 57 Lincoln St., his car struck a tree on the property at 1 a.m. Wednesday. There was slight damage to Thomas' car.

Washington C.H. police officers checked a 3:04 p.m. Tuesday accident.

A car driven by Robert C. Cockerill, 75, of Washington-New Martinsburg Rd., was westbound on Western Avenue, when he reportedly failed to yield to a car northbound on Delaware Street. A collision resulted.

The driver of the second car was Patricia J. Young, 22, of Jeffersonville, and her car was slightly damaged, as was Cockerill's. Cockerill was charged with failing to yield.

Youth cited for disorderly conduct, resisting arrest

After a chase by Washington C.H. police officers, a 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Upon receiving a complaint of two male subjects in a vacant apartment, police officers discovered the youth in the building. The subject refused to identify himself, reportedly used abusive language, and then fled on foot from the N. Fayette Street apartment.

The youth was soon apprehended, taken into custody, and charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest as a result of the 3:40 p.m. incident.

Numerous jackets, all valued at $100 were reported stolen from the Bill Wilson residence, 114 W. Paint St., between 8:30 p.m. Monday and 5 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was apparently made through a broken window.

Robert A. Burlile, aged three, of 335 Bogus Rd., was reportedly bitten by a dog while both were on the back porch of his home 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. The boy was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies checked an alleged theft and a dog bit report.

Charles Stroud, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., told sheriff's deputies that six quarts of oil, a rope and pulley, and an oil filter, all valued at $20 were missing from his home. Their loss is believed to have occurred sometime between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. or 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Monday.

Thelma P. Moore, Octa, was reportedly bitten by a dog while she was picking up wood in her back yard around 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Seek man for slaying of children

KIRTLAND, Ohio (AP) — Police continued their search today for Roy E. Smith of Painesville who is wanted in connection with the beating deaths of two Kirtland children.

An aggravated murder warrant was issued Tuesday by the Lake County prosecutor's office against the 26-year-old Smith.

The bodies of the children, Kim

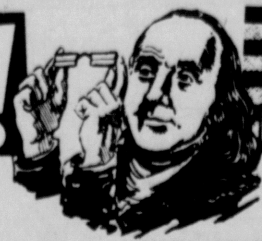

Bracken, 14, and brother, Kenneth, 12, were found in the Kirtland apartment Monday. Their mother, Sandra Bracken, a divorced barmaid, arrived Tuesday from Las Vegas where she had been vacationing.

Lake County Coroner Maxwell E. Burnham said that the children died of skull fractures and brain damage caused by repeated blows to the head with a blunt instrument. He said the children were fully clothed and a preliminary examination showed they had not been sexually molested.

Paul H. Mitrovich, the county prosecutor, warned that Smith should be considered armed and dangerous. Mitrovich said Smith was "known to the mother."

Board OKs publication

Presses to roll on '75 Sunburst

By GEORGE MALEK

In the wake of the Ohio Supreme Court's decision, the Washington C.H. Board of Education has approved the publishing of the 1975 Sunburst with pictures of all students.

The board met Wednesday morning in the superintendent's office and voted unanimously to authorize the printing. There was no dissent on the issue, and the special board meeting was completed in 10 minutes. Several spectators, mostly high school-age students, attended the session.

The board noted that Sunburst advisor Miss Helen Hutson has two complete versions of the annual ready for the printers. One includes some 40 pictures of students who were in violation of the school code.

Miss Hutson said a copy of the proper yearbook can be sent almost immediately, and publication would be done by late summer. Distribution of the annual is expected by early fall.

Their concern appeared to be not only the yearbook publication but also the board's policy for the coming year. That subject was not discussed during the meeting, and board president Fred Domenico said the entire student handbook would be reviewed at a later date.

grooming code informally following the session.

OHIO SUPREME Court justices voted 5-2 last week to uphold a lower court decision which stated that the school must include the picture of Thomas McClung in the 1975 annual. Allen McClung, 546 Comfort Lane, the boy's father, filed suit some 15 months ago seeking an injunction against publication without his son's picture.

Washington Senior High School administrators had notified the parents that McClung's picture would not appear because the length of his hair violated the school's grooming code. Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman denied the injunction. She said the school had reasonable rules for grooming and the right to enforce those rules.

An appeal to the Second District Court of Appeals in Dayton overturned the local judge's decision, and the Supreme Court concurred.

The high court, however, did not rule on whether or not the rule itself was valid. It cited inconsistent enforcement of the regulation as the basis for its decision. This leaves the question of the school's authority to regulate dress and grooming unresolved.

FOLLOWING MONDAY'S meeting, board members seemed to reach a consensus that they must either eliminate the grooming code altogether or incorporate in their school policy specific penalties for infractions.

Consistent application of penalties for any policy established would apparently satisfy the objections cited by the Supreme Court. On the other hand, the high court did not state that it necessarily found the current regulation within the boundaries of authority established by law. It is possible that even uniform enforcement of the present code would eventually be found unconstitutional.

Another factor which cannot be overlooked by the board is the effect of Title IX. This is a federal regulation which prohibits sexual discrimination by bodies receiving federal funds.

The regulation itself, established by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, states only that grooming codes may not be applied CIGARETTE VENDORS, wholesale and retail, in the Fayette County area must purchase their new cigarette license by May 24.

The licenses may be picked up at the County Clerk's office in the Courthouse. Retail licenses will cost $25 and wholesale licenses will cost $100.

LOCAL RESIDENTS wishing to join the United States Army can find the Washington C.H. recruiter, Sgt. Jerry Hill, at the Paul H. Huey Post 25 American Legion building, 212 N. Fayette St.

Sgt. Hill moved his recruiting office from the Army National Guard Armory, 201 S. Fayette St., earlier this month.

CHILDREN themselves need not be present for kindergarten registrations being held Thursday and Friday for the city school system.

Parents may register their children at Eastside School beginning at 1 p.m. each of the two days. They are asked to bring birth certificates and immunization records, but not the children.

Although babysitting services will be available, they will be limited, and parents are asked to make other arrangements if possible.

CORVETTE DRIVERS are invited to attend an organizational meeting of the South Central Ohio Corvette Club Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Sabina.

The club, a member of the National Council of Corvette Clubs, will serve members from Clinton, Fayette and Highland counties.

The club will sponsor rallies, tours and all types of sports car events according to Carl Anders. Meetings will rotate monthly through the three counties.

Thursday's meeting will be held in the Clinton County National Bank Community Service Room in Sabina. For further information contact Anders at 513-584-2871.

Foundation gives $2,000 to Community Education

At the annual meeting of the Charitable Foundation of Fayette County, which was held this week in the Senior Citizens Center, Hank Shaffer, of the Community Education Program, appeared before the group to discuss his program and the need for funds. Members of the Foundation agreed to give Community Education $2,000, the largest contribution made this year.

Shaffer described Community Education as a program which provides educational, recreational and cultural activities throughout Fayette County and for areas bordering the county. The program, which is financed entirely through donations, consists of classes which range from speed-reading to macrame. Since its creation in 1974, a total of 21,668 persons have been involved in the program.

When learning that the foundation had decided to contribute $2,000 to the program, Shaffer said, "This will certainly help since the amount of money we receive through contributions completely determines what we can do with our program. Now we will be able to continue providing the same classes that have been part of our curriculum in the past for at least another six months."

The election of officers was held at the recent meeting of the Charitable Foundation. George Finley, who was advanced from vice president, will serve as president. He is a former supervisor at Dayton Power and Light Company and is now the executive secretary of the Fayette County Fair Board. John Breiner is the immediate past president of the foundation.

Kenneth Walters was elected to the post of vice president and Frances White was chosen to serve as secretary for another term. Finley and William Lovell were re-elected to serve another 10-year term as trustees. Persons re-elected to the executive committee were William Junk, Willard Perrill and Joseph Peters.

Junk, who serves as treasurer for the foundation, reported that total assets of the organization are $24,629.39. He also announced that the only allocation made during the year was to the United Church Women, in the amount of $250, to help defray rent and upkeep at their used clothing center.

The Charitable Foundation was founded in 1953 and

The funds in the foundation do not consist only of the gifts of a single individual or family, but of the many small and medium-sized gifts left at different times by various donors. Potential contributors, who in the absence of such an organization might feel that their gift alone would be insufficient to set up a separate trust, can use the general framework of the foundation for their charitable purpose. At the same time, separate identities are maintained and the gift can be used along with others in accomplishing a larger purpose.

The funds are placed in the custody of the foundation trustees and local financial institutions and thus are safe-guarded and invested, making available the income, and under certain conditions, the principal, for the purposes of the Charitable Foundation. At regular intervals, the trustees will make public, accounts of receipts and expenditures.

Membership of the trustees will change through rotation of appointments and all members will be chosen for their knowledge of the needs of the county and serve without compensation. Any contributor may designate his preference, and such wish will be observed by the trustees until changing conditions made such purpose unnecessary, undesirable, impractical, or impossible.

In such case, by proper action of the foundation, the funds can thereafter be used for other charitable purposes as well, in the opinion of the trustees, more effectively promote the original interest of the donor.

Trustees of the foundation are Wayne Bower, John Breiner, J. Roush Burton, Colin C. Campbell, Robert A. Craig, Mac Dews Sr., Jean H. Dice, Ed Vollette, L.M. Hayes, Clifford E. Hughes, and Carroll Halliday.

William A. Lovell, Carolyn Mace, Emerson Marting, Edward F. Moser, Willard H. Perrill, Joseph E. Peters, Arch O. Riber, Kenneth Walters, and Frances White.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the Charitable Foundation can consult any of the trustees, a local attorney, or banking institution.

Church upsets Carter in Nebraska

Ford playing high-risk politics

AP Special Correspondent

President Ford is playing high-risk politics in his struggle with Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination, raising the stakes state by state — and now he has virtually everything wagered on victory in Michigan next Tuesday.

There and in Maryland there is suddenly the chance of an opening for Democrats out to stop Jimmy Carter, still the dominant candidate for their nomination.

His string of primary victories was halted abruptly by Sen. Frank Church, an upset winner in Nebraska in his debut as a candidate.

Reagan gained 54 per cent of the vote to beat Ford in the Republican primary in Nebraska. Ford won in West Virginia with 56 per cent of the GOP ballots.

And while Carter was losing a close one in Nebraska, he won narrowly over Rep. Morris K. Udall in Connecticut.

Those decisions in Tuesday's primaries were the prelude to bigger tests next week.

Reagan confronts Ford in Michigan, the President's home state. Udall tests Carter there, while California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. challenges the Democratic frontrunner in Maryland.

Since Reagan started winning on May Day, Ford and his managers have pointed each week to the next set of primaries, calling them crucial ones.

That won't work in Michigan. Rogers C. B. Morton, the Ford campaign manager, said the President will have to win there to "prove he's viable ... to get his campaign turned around."

Another Ford strategist acknowledged that a defeat at home would put the President in deep trouble. Ford was campaigning there today, and returning this weekend. Reagan was to hunt Michigan votes Thursday and Friday.

The Ford team is worried about possible crossover voting by conservative Democrats in Michigan now that George C. Wallace is virtually finished as a candidate. Wallace won the Democratic primary there four years ago, with 809,239 votes.

Reagan noted pointedly that his Nebraska victory was in a Republican-only primary, with none of the crossover vote Ford managers had blamed for earlier losses to the challenger. "This confirms my support is not a Wallace vote," he said.

Nonetheless, his Michigan organization is working to entice Democrats across the party boundary, into the Republican primary this time. Those Wallace votes are going to go somewhere.

Church, meanwhile, said he was stunned with a Nebraska primary victory he called a miracle. Udall said that vote, and his close second in Connecticut, meant Carter's bandwagon had been stalled.

"Well, I can't win them all," the black-tied Carter said after a Democratic congressional fundraising dinner in Washington. "As far as a bandwagon goes, take one state at a time and campaign in all of them."

But unless he starts winning again next week, the stop-Carter effort he thought he had quashed by driving Sen. Henry M. Jackson out of active competition may be revived.

And that would mean new hope for the Democrats who seek to head him off and try to win another nomination for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who is not running but stresses at every opportunity that he is available.

Carter remains the commanding leader in Democratic delegate strength, his total at a projected 594 pending final counts in Nebraska and Connecticut. It will take 1,505 to choose a Democratic nominee.

Latest Hughes will 'probably phony'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Spokesmen for Hughes Tool Co. say they know nothing about a second purported will of the late billionaire Howard Hughes that was sealed in an envelope bearing the firm's name.

The three-page handwritten document that surfaced Tuesday was dated June 22, 1969, addressed to the Summa Corp. in care of the Clark County clerk, and delivered by mail. The return address read "Hughes Tool Co., Houston, Tex."

Summa Corp., the umbrella firm which controls the Hughes empire, was named executor of the estate.

But Summa spokesman Arelo Sederberg said in Los Angeles that the firm was not incorporated until December 1972 and that the name was not even under consideration much before then.

Sederberg said there is no connection between Summa and Hughes Tool Co. He said Hughes Tool's oil well division was sold to the public in 1972 and the remaining assets incorporated into Summa.

In Houston, Raymond Holliday, board chairman of Hughes Tool, said he knew nothing about the new document.

The envelope containing the document also held a small, handwritten note which asked that the purported will "be mail (sic) 30 days after my demise." It was signed Howard R. Hughes.

A court clerk said she turned the unopened envelope over to Summa executive Jim Cullen. It was later filed at the courthouse by William Morse, a Nevada attorney for Summa, and Wayne Williams, a trust officer of the First National Bank of Nevada, Hughes' temporary estate administrator in Nevada.

Judge Keith C. Hayes of the Eighth Judicial District Court will ultimately decide whether any purported Hughes wills are authentic.

Hayes earlier set a hearing on May 21 for a will found two weeks ago in the Salt Lake City offices of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

Distribution of the estimated $1.5 billion to $2.5 billion estate was earmarked as follows in the new will:

"First: To all my blood relatives I leave one-twelfth of my estate.

"Second: To Hughes Medical Institute of Miami, Fla., I leave one-sixth of all my assets.

"Third: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the University of Nevada and the University of California.

"Fourth: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the Universities of Texas and the University of Mexico City, Mex.

"Fifth: One-twelfth of my estate to be divided among the blind and homeless children of America and to the ones with medical needs.

"Sixth: One-sixth of all my assets to be divided among 10 living American individuals, bearers of the social security account numbers — 009-22-3345, 339-55-6648, 669-88-9951, 999-11-2254, 119-33-4446, 449-66-7749, 779-99-0052, 229-44-5547 and 559-77-8850."

Although the document said 10 Americans, it listed only nine numbers.

"Seventh: One-sixth of all my estate, I leave to all my blood relatives to put to use as they wish. May this document bring contentment and peace of mind to all."

Patricia Hearst faces Harrises in courtroom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst prepared to confront William and Emily Harris in court today as codefendants, not comrades, in their first meeting since arrest ended their underground voyage last year.

The three, once joined on FBI posters as America's most wanted fugitives, were due in court for a hearing on Miss Hearst's request to sever her legal ties to the Harrises.

The 22-year-old newspaper heiress, now a convicted bank robber, wants to be tried separately on charges involving a day and night of violence in Los Angeles two years ago.

She was to be driven to court by U.S. marshals from the Metropolitan Correctional Center at San Diego, about 150 miles south of here, where she is undergoing diagnostic tests.

"She is not apprehensive at this time" about her meeting with the Harrises, said her attorney, Al Johnson. "She feels it's something that has to be done and she's ready to face whatever has to be."

Miss Hearst has denounced the Harrises as her tormentors and kidnapers. They have reviled her as a snitch.

The Harrises, still avowed members of the Symbionese Liberation Army, oppose a severance of their trial from Miss Hearst's case.

Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler has set a tentative trial date of June 1, but federal prison officials say Miss Hearst cannot be available by then.

Miss Hearst, whose previous court date in the case was canceled when she suffered a collapsed lung last month, has not even entered a plea to the local charges of kidnaping, assault and robbery.

It appeared unlikely that she would plead until federal authorities have completed her psychiatric evaluation based on the San Diego tests. That examination is scheduled to continue until July 25 and could be extended another 90 days if doctors need more time.

The tests are a prelude to her final sentencing by U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver J. Carter on the March 20 San Francisco bank robbery conviction.

The charges against Miss Hearst and the Harrises stem from a series of events on May 16, 1974, in which the three allegedly kidnaped two men, stole cars and participated in a shooting at a suburban Inglewood sporting goods store.

Candidates

Nebraska

With 97 per cent of the precincts counted:

Reagan 110,830 or 54 per cent.

Ford 92,833 or 46 per cent.

In the separate delegate election, with 73 per cent of the precincts tallied, Reagan led for 18, Ford for seven.

On the Democratic side there it was: Church 66,693 or 39 per cent.

Carter 64,810 or 38 per cent.

Humphrey 12,735 or 7 per cent.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, listed, like Humphrey, despite his disclaimers of candidacy, got four per cent.

West Virginia

With 80 per cent of the precincts tallied:

Ford 67,467 or 56 per cent.

Reagan 52,201 or 44 per cent.

The 28 Republican delegates there were uncommitted under state law.

Favorite son Sen. Robert C. Byrd won the Democratic primary there with 246,601 votes or 89 per cent.

Wallace had 31,968 or 11 per cent.

There are 33 Democratic delegates, also uncommitted.

Connecticut

Carter 35,415 or 33 per cent.

Udall 32,959 or 31 per cent.

Jackson 18,962 or 18 per cent.

Uncommitted 13,774 or 13 per cent.

That was in party-sponsored balloting that is part of a complex delegate selection process. The 51 delegates will be selected in conventions in one month. The popular vote pointed to a lineup of 17 delegates for Carter, 15 for Udall, 5 for Jackson with the balance likely to be uncommitted.

FEC bill signed; no cash yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cash-starved presidential candidates will have to wait at least a few more days before they receive millions of dollars in matching federal campaign funds, despite President Ford's signature on a bill that releases the money.

The Federal Election Commission is now legally back in the business of handing out matching funds to qualifying candidates, but the new FEC has no members yet. Ford signed the bill restructuring the six-member board Tuesday, but he did not name anyone to the new FEC.

White House officials said they expect Ford to make nominations in the next few days, possibly by Thursday.

Ford said in signing the bill that he has some reservations about the constitutionality of some provisions.

It could be less than 24 hours between nomination of the new commissioners and $2.1 million in treasury checks being deposited in the campaign war chests of 11 candidates.

But there could be delays. The process includes Senate confirmation of nominees, which could be done in one day, swearing in ceremonies, an FEC meeting and writing of checks by the treasury.

If Ford nominated the new commissioners Thursday and the Senate acted immediately to confirm them, they could be sworn in and approve the staff recommendations on matching funds that same day.

FEC staff members say that in that case checks to the candidates could be available by late Thursday or Friday.

The candidates have received no federal funds since March 22 as a result of a Supreme Court ruling that the FEC was unconstitutionally structured. Candidates have had to make economies and some have stopped active campaigning.

Ford's GOP opponent, Ronald Reagan, and some Democratic candidates have complained that they have to pay many expenses, especially for travel, in advance, while Ford uses the presidential jet and pays his bills later.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., quit actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination, blaming the lack of federal funds.

Ford is in the best shape financially. His campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, has announced a 25 per cent cut in the staff of the President Ford Committee because the Ford campaign is at the upper end of the legal spending limits and must conserve funds for the primaries yet to come and the GOP Convention in August.

Ford stands to gain the most from the first rush of funds from the commission — $865,674 already approved by the FEC staff. Reagan will get $389,895. Ford has requested $1.4 million and Reagan $603,000.

Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter leads Democrats in funds approved by the FEC staff — $313,886. His pending requests add up to $520,055.

Stock list goes down

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices settled back today amid some evident disappointment over the market's mixed showing on Tuesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off nearly 2 points in the early going, and losers took a 5-3 lead over gainers in the over-all tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said some selling had been prompted by the market's inability to move past its previous high for the year in two attempts during Tuesday's session.

The Dow, which hit a high of 1,011.02 on April 21, reached the 1,010 level early Tuesday and again at mid-afternoon. But each time it dropped back again.

Today's early prices included Transco Cos., up 3/4 at 11 1/2 in a 176,600-share block trade; NCR, off 1/4 at 29; Kaufman & Broad, down 1/4 at 9 1/2, and Raytheon, up 1/2 at 54 1/2.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average slipped .87 to 1,006.61.

Gainers held a 7-6 edge on losers among NYSE-listed issues, but the exchange's composite index was off .06 at 54.84.

Big Board volume climbed to 23.59 million shares, the heaviest total in nearly three weeks.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose 1.00 to 104.75.

differently to boys and girls. This would apparently prohibit any rules on length of hair which did not apply equally to both sexes.

Title IX does not specifically prohibit rules barring mustaches or beards, but HEW officials have issued opinions stating that they felt such rules were prohibited.

Board members stated following the meeting that they had attempted to enforce rules which were in keeping with the general preferences of the community at large.

Domenico stated that many people choose Washington C.H. rather than Dayton, Columbus or other large cities because of the intimacy and character of the community. Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor said school rules on grooming and other matters were devised to reinforce the standards set by the community in general.

The board president stated that he hoped there would be input from the student body as well as area residents to assist the board in reaching a decision on any policy changes.

All board members reached agreement that the jungle of governmental regulations was becoming overbearing. They noted that federal funds invariably have strings attached which tend to lessen the control of local officials over their own institutions.

Nestor said this has a leveling effect on all phases of government. It tends to require that every community have the same rules as every other community.

Jerry Sheppard, board member, said that if the trend continues, boards of education will be unnecessary. He said the matter of governing the schools could be turned over to an attorney who would simply interpret the rules and regulations established by state and federal authorities.

Bloomington committeewomen

In Paint Township, Bloomington Village, Charline T. Cunningham and Mildred A. Hunt will be running for posts as committeewomen.

Mrs. Cunningham, who resides at 91 Midland Ave., Bloomington, has never run for this position although she has been involved in the politics of the Republican party since she became eligible to vote. She presently is serving as Fayette County chairwoman, to which she was appointed in 1970, and she is a member of board of elections. Mrs. Cunningham said that she enjoys working with the public in this capacity.

Mrs. Hunt, who lives lives at 81 Biddle Blvd., is the Democrat candidate. She has never served as a committeewoman before but was asked to do so when the former committeewoman from Bloomington decided not to run for re-election.

Uranium enrichment debate set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to end the 30-year government monopoly over uranium enrichment is being sent to the House and Senate for floor debate by unanimous action of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

The bill, which the committee approved 10-0 Tuesday, would:

—Authorize the Energy Research

and Development Administration (ERDA) to negotiate government guarantees for the establishment of private uranium enrichment facilities.

—Retain congressional veto power over agreements negotiated by ERDA.

—Direct ERDA to work toward government construction of the next uranium enrichment plant, in case a construction agreement cannot be reached with Uranium Enrichment Associates (UEA), a private venture.

Nuclear power plants use enriched uranium fuel.

The bill, called the Nuclear Fuel Assurance Act, would authorize the federal government to guarantee up to $8 billion of private investment in a series of private plants providing uranium enrichment.

Ford administration officials who support the proposal have said there was little chance of private project failures that would require the government to spend most of this money. Nonetheless, the bill would authorize ERDA to guarantee the enrichment plants, using government technology, would work.

It would also authorize ERDA to sell enriched uranium from its own stockpiles to private ventures or to purchase their private excess production to help them get started. That provision could end up requiring substantial federal investments, although not as substantial as the full cost of future uranium enrichment.

The Ford administration says enrichment plants needed in the future may cost $30 billion to $50 billion.

The U.S. government now owns and operates the nation's only three enrichment plants and would have to make the huge future investment if enrichment remained in government hands.

Sen. John O. Pastore, chairman of the Joint Committee, said Tuesday that the Nixon and Ford administrations were unwilling to finance further government plants, so there was no alternative but to promote private ventures.

The committee readily went along with his assessment, after revising the bill to make it clear that ERDA may not make any formal commitments to private uranium enrichers without specific congressional approval.

More controversial, however, was the UEA proposal to build the next enrichment plant, a huge $3.5 billion installation near Dothan, Ala. Two nuclear power plants planned there would cost another $1.2 billion.

New earth tremors shake up Italians

UDINE, Italy (AP) — Strong new earth tremors shook quake-ravaged northeastern Italy early today, knocking down more buildings and triggering landslides that isolated towns already devastated by six days of shocks.

Police said they were checking Italian news agency reports that four persons were missing and believed buried under rubble caused by the latest shocks.

The new jolts leveled houses and destroyed Gemona's fine arts palace heavily damaged by previous tremors.

Also in Gemona, a town of about 6,000 on the foothills of the eastern Alps near this provincial capital, a police captain and a civilian were trapped by falling debris. Rescuers dug them out.

Tuesday evening a severe quake centered in the Ionian Sea jolted Zakynthos and other Greek islands and parts of southern Italy. Thousands on Zakynthos spent the night in the open. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

Nine more tremors were recorded in the Friuli region of northeast Italy that was devastated by the killer quake last Thursday. A woman was injured in Braulinz di Trasaghis when a house fell, and injuries were reported to several other persons. Many one-story and two-story buildings weakened by the big quake and more than 50 aftershocks collapsed in Maiano, Venzone, Osoppo, Moggi Udinese and Peonis di Trasaghis.

The tremors were also felt in Venice, Trieste and Padua, but no damage or casualties were reported in those cities.

In Vicenza, 75 miles southwest of the destruction area, many of the 100 prisoners in the local jail climbed to the roof and demanded to be freed to insure their safety. Despite warning shots from guards, the convicts refused to return to their cells, and police surrounded the jail.

Many of Udine's 90,000 residents were spending the night at home for the first time in six nights. When they felt a particularly strong tremor just before midnight, they rushed back to cars, tents and other makeshift shelters.

The toll from Thursday's quake remained at 914 dead, more than 3,000 injured and about 80,000 homeless. About 400 persons are not accounted for.

As national leaders of the ruling Christian Democrats and their Communist rivals bickered over the adequacy of the government's relief measures with an eye to the national election June 20, rival local political leaders joined hands to create a single body to coordinate relief work.

But Loris Fortuna, a Socialist member of Parliament, warned that the parties would soon be fighting over allocation of the relief funds.

"We want the money to go to the cooperatives, to the people who must rebuild their homes, to the municipalities, to the legislature," he said. "Naturally the Christian Democrats will be trying to re-establish the big industries, the big towns."

New military aid proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committees in both the House and Senate are offering new bills to replace a $4-billion foreign military aid measure vetoed by President Ford. The new bills retain some of the provisions Ford liked least.

Ford vetoed the military aid bill on Friday, objecting to sections that would have temporarily lifted the U.S. embargo against Vietnam and allowed Congress to veto some of his military aid decisions. Both chambers decided not to try to override the veto.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and House International Relations Committee approved new bills Tuesday. Both bills drop the Vietnam trade provision, but retain some congressional veto powers.

The Vietnam provision would have lifted the trade embargo for six months, and then permanently if the Vietnamese cooperated in accounting for the Americans still listed as missing in the Vietnam war.

Both committees tacked the $4 billion authorization for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 onto an authorization for next year. The Senate committee produced a $6.7 billion two-year bill, while the House committee offered a $7 billion bill.

Opinion And Comment

Time limit on justice

In its section updating readers on past news stories a metropolitan newspaper recently touched upon two that are wholly different, yet alike in one respect. What they have in common is the statute of limitations.

One of the stories had to do with more than $148,000 in 1969 income taxes for which Richard M. Nixon became liable when the IRS rejected his claimed deduction of $576,000 for a gift of his papers. The other concerned an armed robbery in Brooklyn, that same year, in which thieves made off with $1.3 million. We make no invidious comparisons; that is not at all the point of this comment. Our point is that in both cases the statutes of limitations have run out, and that further legal process is thus stymied.

The IRS ruling, coming after an exhaustive investigation, clearly made the former president liable for the 1969 tax — but because of the statute of limitations he could not be compelled to pay up, though before leaving office he said he would do so voluntarily. And the practical consequence in the armed robbery case is that, even if conclusively damning evidence now came to light, the criminals could no longer be prosecuted.

All this calls into question the wisdom of placing rigid statutory time limits on prosecution. Nixon owes the tax money. Does it make sense that, because three years passed before this was determined, he need not pay? The robbers got away with $1.3 million. Does it make sense that, because a legal time limit has expired, they could not now be brought to book even if there were an airtight case against them? Does the rationale in favor of statutes of limitation outweigh their potential harm? It is a matter which should be thoughtfully considered.

Joys of grocery shopping

It has been well known for years that a college education is a requirement for a variety of positions in the job market, but did you realize it's becoming a necessity for survival in the grocery market.

As the economy tightened, I became increasingly aware of the need to seek bargains at the grocery. Food is my single largest weekly expense, and I was determined to do my best to save money.

Let me recap a few of the observations I have made at a variety of stores in the past several months into "one grand trip to the market."

Having been taught for years that the larger packages of products were cheaper than smaller ones per unit, I decided to check it—just to make sure. I soon found that two one-pound cans of coffee were priced a penny less than the two-pound can. First lesson: check the prices of both sizes before buying any.

Armed with this knowledge, I attacked the frozen foods. Four packages of frozen peas for $1. Each weighed four ounces, and the pound bag cost only 89 cents. Save 11 cents on the large bag.

How about corn? Whoops, only three for $1, or $1.33 per pound, but the pound bag was $1.39. Better here to buy the boxes. A check of other frozen vegetables showed some higher in the bag, others in the boxes.

I moved on to find cereal, but things got tougher there. The small box was 10 ounces while the large one was 14 and one-half ounces. Now I do all right in math, but splitting ounces to fractions was a little difficult. I resolved to bring a calculator next time to make things easier.

Boy, did the grocery fool me on that one. I went for some product, and forgive me but I can't remember what it was, and the package was marked in ounces. The competitive brand of the same product was marked in grams, and for the life of me I couldn't remember the conversion factor.

I gave up there and tried the fresh produce. It was tomato season, and they looked delicious. Not only did I want some, but I was determined to get the best buy.

There were quarts of cherry tomatoes that looked great. However, the packages of larger tomatoes looked good, and so did the individual tomatoes that were priced "two for..."

The only problem was the weight of the cherry tomatoes was not on the package, they were just so much per quart. The weight of the larger tomatoes was marked. The individual tomatoes had no weight recorded, and counting the number that fit in a quart basket didn't seem very useful.

The answer, of course, was the produce weighing machine. After spending 10 minutes trying to figure out the dials, lines, and scales, I figured I'd already lost more money in time than I could ever save by weighing the things and comparing prices.

Disgusted at the ordeal, I ate my salad plain that night. I'd lost my taste for tomatoes anyway.

My last chance to get even with the store lie in cashing my coupons. I hurried over to the cooking oil which was on sale. Fifty-one cents off the 24-ounce bottle for a price of 55 cents. Cashing that in would teach them!

Although there were no 24-ounce bottles, there were two 12-ounce ones, and they'd do. Or should I say, I thought they'd do. The clerk thought differently. Her best offer was 51 cents off the regular price of two 12-ounce bottles, a cost of 65 cents—or take a rain check for use later.

Now the computation was really tough. I tried to guess the cost of gas to return the next day, but finally concluded it was more than a dime. Next I tried to figure the probability that I wouldn't lose the rain check by the time I came for my next weekly supply of groceries.

Completely confused, decided to turn the tables. I left the store and my groceries behind. I hope the store took the time to calculate how much it cost to pick the groceries off the counter, put them in a basket and deliver them to the shelves.

My guess is it was 10 times the 10 cents they refused to allow me, not to mention the profit lost on $50 worth of groceries.

If my recent shopping has taught me one thing, it is that I'd better brush up on my math if I'm to continue to survive simple tasks like buying food.

Bowen won't fire highway chief

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Otis R. Bowen says he will not fire his state highway commission executive director for failing to identify certain contributors to his bid for Congress.

The governor granted Roger F. March a leave of absence from his $35,700 highway post to seek the Republican nomination for 10th District congressman. He was defeated and returns to the highway commission today.

Clarification sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Issue 4 on Ohio's June 8 primary ballot is among a series of proposals designed to get rid of obsolete language and make clarifications in Ohio's constitution.

It originated, after hearings and study, in the Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission, created in 1969 to recommend ways to update the existing 125-year-old document.

The constitution can be changed only by a vote of the people or by a constitutional convention, which also has to be authorized by the people. The last convention was in 1913, but there have been scores of piecemeal amendments over the years.

Issue 4 makes two changes that already have been placed in effect as a result of amendments to the U.S. Constitution or because of federal court decisions. One lowers the voting age from 21 to 18. Another does away with Ohio's six-month voter residency requirement.

Federal statutes now place the residency requirement at 30 days.

The proposed amendment also removes unnecessary language with regard to particular felonies that may cause ineligibility for voting and holding public office. Drafters said this language, is, in effect, excess baggage because the subjects are covered in existing sections of law.

Issue 4 also would take out of the constitution language that says Ohioans may not be arrested while on their way to or from the polls.

Another law already grants such immunity but only when persons are charged with violation of a civil law. Arrests on felony charges wouldn't be included in the exemption as is now the case.

Like the five other June 8 ballot issues recommended by the commission (Issue 1 and Issues 5 through 8), there is no organized support for or opposition to Issue 4.

The legislature, which put Issue 4 on the ballot with the required three-fifths majority vote, usually is called upon to have its members back home explain the need for such housekeeping proposals to local civic groups and others who have influence among voters.

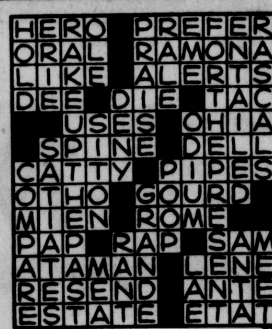

However, there are inherent pitfalls, some stemming from what many officials fear is a still growing distrust in government in the post-Watergate era. Voters traditionally vote against issues they don't understand.

Explanations of all the issues, in layman's language, may be obtained from county election board offices.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Don't force your man off the road

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a sales executive with a very large company that has hundreds of men on the road. He worked his way up from the ranks, enjoys his work and makes excellent money. The problem: He's gone more than he's home.

Our children are teenagers, and they need him home, Abby. I am also very lonely when he's away, and although friends invite me out, I don't enjoy going places without him.

I know that my husband is working hard to give his family all the material advantages that money can buy, but what good are they if the family is apart during these important years?

Would it be a mistake for me to talk to the wife of the company president and ask her to use her influences to take my husband off the road and keep him in the office in an executive capacity? Both she and her husband think a lot of me.

UNHAPPY WIFE

DEAR UNHAPPY: Please don't ask the company president's wife to take your husband off the road! (That would be like scalping a man to get rid of his dandruff.) Level with your husband about your feelings, but keep it strictly between yourselves.

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Burton for six months and then we broke up. Since then, I have heard that Burton has been bad-mouthing me to all my friends. Abby, I never gave him anything more than a goodnight kiss at the door, but he's going around telling everyone that he quit me because he got all he wanted!

MURIEL

DEAR MURIEL: Maybe that's all he wanted.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago I sent my niece, whom I shall call "Jane," a very handsome and expensive Oriental bowl for a wedding gift.

I purchased the gift at a store where Jane never shops because she dislikes the owner.

When Jane received the gift, she phoned to tell me how much she liked it. A few days later I received the identical bowl from her with the following note: "For your new home. We liked it so much, we bought the same thing for you."

Abby, do you believe that Jane bought another bowl exactly like the one I sent? Or do you think it was the same bowl?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS: You know Jane better than I do. In any case, why complain? At least you received a house gift you truly like.

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to make a woman desire him without any desire on whatsoever on his part?

E.

DEAR E.: Yes. Entertainers have this effect on some women.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: P.O. Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, May 12, the 133rd day of 1976. There are 233 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1949, the Soviets announced the lifting of the Berlin Blockade, which had closed all but air routes to isolated West Berlin for 328 days.

On this date —
In 1774, the Boston Committee of Correspondence proposed that the American Colonies suspend trade with Britain because of British repressive measures.

In 1820, the English woman who founded modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnaped baby son of Charles Lindbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, New Jersey.

In 1938, Japanese warships captured the Chinese island of Amoy.

In 1943, the World War II Battle of North Africa ended with the German surrender of Cape Bon in Tunisia.

In 1965, West Germany and Israel established diplomatic relations.

Ten years ago: Communist China accused the United States of shooting down a Chinese plane over Chinese territory.

Five years ago: the American Command in Vietnam reported that U.S. planes had knocked out 13 anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam in less than an hour.

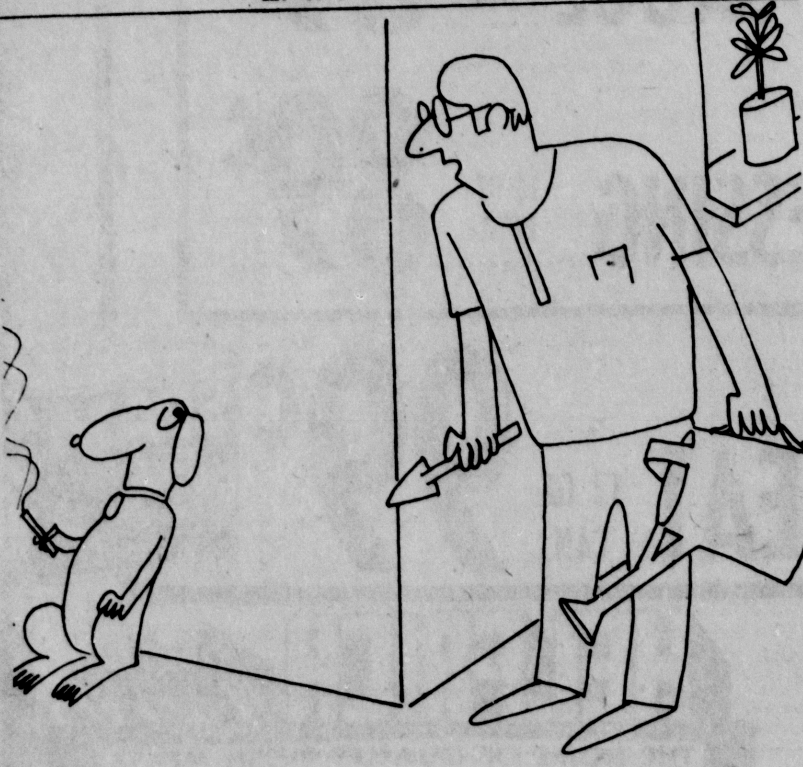

One year ago: the White House announced that a Cambodian naval ship had seized the U.S. merchant ship Mayaguez in international waters 60 miles off the coast of Cambodia.

Today's birthdays: coach Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees is 51. Composer Burt Bacharach is 47.

Thought for today: so much to do; so little done — Cecil Rhodes, British administrator and financier in South Africa, 1853-1902.

Bicentennial footnote: 200 years ago today, Benjamin Franklin, who had been in Canada to check on progress of the American invasion, was on his way back to Saratoga and Albany in New York. Franklin was ill and was pessimistic over American prospects in the Canadian venture.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — "It is my devout wish to bring emotional depression into the open and so treat it as one does a physical infirmity... it must be treated, and the sooner the better."

So wrote ex-astronaut "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. in "return to Earth," a book in which he told of his quiet struggle to overcome emotional illness two years after becoming the second man in history to walk on the moon.

The book, which he coauthored with newsman Wayne Warga, now is a television movie starring Cliff Robertson as Aldrin and Shirley Knight as his wife, Joan. It'll be on ABC this Friday night and we urge you to see it.

It isn't a simplistic heroes-are-human yarn. It's a subtle, sympathetic, story of how one man acclaimed as a hero realized he had an emotional problem, how it affected him and his family and how he coped with it.

Most of Aldrin's book was devoted to his boyhood life, his Air Force career and what happened to him in the space program before, during and immediately after his historic Apollo 11 flight in July 1969.

In Friday's movie, the emphasis is on the last part of the book, which deals with his affair with a New York divorcee named Marianne, the psychiatric help he sought for acute depression after Apollo 11 and the disintegration of his 17-year marriage to Joan.

As Aldrin, Robertson does a superb, finely shaded job of depicting the gradual deterioration of a once supremely confident man now slowly withdrawing from the pressure of fame and a life-long desire to excel.

The tone is set early in the film, when he meets the divorcee — played by Stefanie Powers — at an aerospace industry dinner here. He tells her NASA prepared its astronauts well for the trip from earth.

"But they didn't prepare us for the return — that's the funny thing," he muses, speaking in a vague, detached, uncertain manner that becomes more pronounced as the story of his return continues.

Assigned as commandant of the Aerospace School at Edwards Air Force Base in California, he secretly seeks psychiatric help.

He tells his psychiatrist, "I'm not having fun anymore. There're no challenges, no goals. It's useless."

The treatment briefly helps. His spirits rebound, he wants a fresh start, wants to divorce Joan, the mother of his three children, and marry Marianne. It does no good that his doctor warns him "the other side of depression is an excessive sense of well-being."

But Aldrin's euphoria soon collapses when, after he tells his wife he wants a divorce, Marianne tells him she doesn't want to get married (in his book he says she married another man she dated during their affair).

He realizes he still needs psychiatric help. The final scene, a tense, strained meeting with Joan on a beach, contains a faint hint of hope — until an off-screen narrator says they later were divorced.

Aldrin, now a director of the National Association for Mental Health and a technical consultant for several business firms, has since married again.

Ice blamed for crop cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ice in northwestern Ohio was blamed Tuesday for cutting production of winter wheat by 11 per cent from last year.

The Ohio Crop Reporting Service said production probably would reach 66 million bushels, down from record 1975 production of 74.3 million bushels.

The forecast is for a yield of 41 bushels an acre in Ohio, one bushel an acre below the yields the last two years.

Harvested acreage is expected to total 1.61 million acres, 9 per cent below the total last year.

Abandoned acreage is expected to reach 140,000 acres or 8 per cent of planted area.

Production of winter wheat across the nation is forecast at 1.46 million bushels, down 12 per cent from last year's 1.65 million bushels. Yield is estimated at 30.8 bushels an acre, down 1.2 bushels an acre from 1975.

Class organized 45 years ago

The Marguerite Class held its spring banquet in Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church. The buffet dinner was catered by Miss Maxine Gilmerr. Mrs. Kenneth Arnold gave the invocation preceding the meal.

Mrs. Leonard Dellinger, president, introduced Mrs. Orville Jenkins who told that the class was organized 45 years ago and three of the eight charter members were present: Mary Alice Campbell, Dorothy Dellinger and Mildred Rodgers.

Mrs. Jenkins welcomed class members and their guests and also recognized Mrs. Florence Cook, assistant class teacher. Members introduced their guests. Mrs. William Rogers, presented John Huffman, a former student of the late Mrs. Robert E. Willis, who presented three piano selections: Poem by Fibich, Waltz-A flat by Brahms, and Nocturne by Grieg.

Mrs. Richard Rankin showed slides of "Old Homes of Fayette County" and gave an interesting running commentary. She also stated she is having a National Historical Record compiled of homes over 100 years old. She answered questions from those present.

The tables were beautifully decorated using white place mats, red, white and blue candles, small American Flags and Bi-centennial napkins. Favors of red, white and blue petunias with blue and silver wrapping were quite colorful.

OSU Mothers meeting set

The Spring State Meeting for The Ohio State University Mothers' Association will be held Saturday, May 22nd, in the Tap Room of Drake Union at Ohio State Campus. Mrs. Donald Schorr of Mt. Gilead, state president, will preside at the business meeting at 10:00 a.m. State officers for 1976-77 will be elected and installed. Faculty members from the Office of Dean of University College will be present for question and answer period.

Lunch will be served at noon and can be attended by reservation only. Reservations are $3.25.

Dr. Wilbur A. Gould will present a program with slides on "Food Technology Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow". Dr. Gould is professor of Food Processing and Technology in the Department of Horticulture at The Ohio State University.

Membership in the association is open to mothers and guardians of any former of present student. Mothers not geographically located to permit active membership in an organized county chapter may become an associate member for $1.00 and order their luncheon reservation and membership

Posy Garden club entertains at picnic

The Posy Garden Club entertained the older class of children from the Fayette Progressive School with a picnic on Tuesday and a "Day on the Farm" at the home of Mrs. Jess Schlichter, president of the club. This completes the third year the club has worked with this group of 10 children.

After a walk to a little stream and a "spooky" old house, the children enjoyed a bountiful picnic luncheon served at one long table in the dining room. They also enjoyed games and "playing" the organ.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Cathy White and Mrs. Helen Pfeifer, teachers. Assisting Mrs. Schlichter were Mrs. Harry Thrailkill, Mrs. Easter Woods, Mrs. Lester Haines, Mrs. Dorothy Bihl, Mrs. Bess Seaman and Mrs. Arthur Schlichter.

On June 16, the club plans a tour of Adena, the home and gardens. Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, tour chairman, will conduct a tree identification contest.

Phi Beta Psi Associate II elects officers

Nine members of Phi Beta Psi Associate II chapter met at the Pizza Hut for a noon luncheon, then went to the home of Mrs. William Heinz for a brief meeting, conducted by Mrs. Robert Hagerty, president. Reports were heard, and nominations for officers for the year were made.

Appointed were Mrs. Ford Wilson, president; Mrs. Frank Weade, vice president; Mrs. Paul Crosby, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Hugh Payton, smile girl; and Mrs. Heinz, librarian.

The next gathering will be June 9 in the home of Mrs. Omar Schwart, when the members will meet and then go to the dinner-theater at Reynoldsburg.

Founder's Day luncheon set

"Founder's Day" will be observed by Delta Kapa Gamma when the members assemble for a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Pickaway Arms, Circleville. Mrs. William Mace will be in charge of the Founder's Day ceremony entitled "Together We Remember Our Heritage." Mrs. Lucille Davis will be in charge of the initiation ceremony for four new members.

Mrs. Joe McClure will give the invocation and Mrs. John Rhoads will be in charge of the music.

The planning committee is composed of Mrs. Tom Mark, chairman; Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter, Mrs. James Eakins and Miss Marian Christopher.

First Presbyterian Church setting for marriage vows

Miss Linda Sue Van Bibber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Bibber, 1593 Ohio Rt. 41SE, became the bride of Gary Lee Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas of London.

The Rev. Gerald Wheat performed the double-ring ceremony May 8 in the chapel of First Presbyterian Church. Two vases of yellow daisies and white carnations two single candelabra and an open Bible graced the altar. Mrs. John Case was the organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin. The gown had an empire waistline, bodice overlay of lace, with round neckline and long lace sleeves. The train was of Chantilly lace with scallops on both edges. Her headpiece was a Camelot style cap with lace and pearl trim and two tier nylon tulle veil. She carried a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies, and a center corsage of white canrations and baby's breath.

Miss Janet Van Bibber was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a green and white checked gown with round neckline, empire waist and short puff sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Duane (Diane) Earles, another sister of the bride, was bride's matron.

Wedding plans announced by Miss VanDyke

Plans have been completed for the open church wedding of Miss Cathy VanDyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanDyke of New Martinsburg, and Garry Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Garrison of Greenfield. The Rev. Earl Russell will perform the double-ring ceremony at 3:30 p.m.

Her gown was yellow styled like the maid of honor. She also carried a colonial bouquet of green daisies and baby's breath.

Melvin Hamilton, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Duane Earles seated the wedding guests.

Melissa Van Bibber, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Wendy Van Bibber, also a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Their gowns were styled like the honor attendants. They each carried a white wicker basket of yellow and green daisies and baby's breath. Mrs. Melvin Hamilton, sister of the groom, was at the guest book.

Little Amy Van Bibber, niece of the bride, and Timmy Earles, nephew of the bride, were the ring bearers.

Mrs. Van Biber chose for her daughter's wedding a street-length dress of aqua double knit. She also had an orchid corsage.

Smorgasbord planned by White Oak Grove

Sixteen members of the White Oak Grove United Methodist Women met at the church when Mrs. Donald Rife conducted the meeting. It was reported that five cards had been sent to ill members and 12 calls made to shutins. The annual Mother-Daughter banquet is planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, at the church, when a dessert smorgasbord will be featured. The Miami Trace Folksingers will present the program.

A Retreat for Women was announced for Saturday, May 15, at Lancaster

Campgrounds. On Sept. 29, a bus tour to Jackson is planned.

Mrs. Lawrence Newbrey presented the program theme, "All Are Called."

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. June 2 at the church.

Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, once an Ohio Supreme Court judge, became the first woman ever to serve on a high federal court. President Franklin D. Roosevelt named her to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Little guests attending the party were T.J.'s brother, Jamie, his cousins, April Dawn, Bruce and Kevin Eggleton, Christa Snyder, Darrell Hannah, and Amy and Gary Massie. They played games and all were given large balloons, as favors.

After T.J. opened his gifts, cake, ice cream sandwiches and Kool-aid were served. The cake was decorated with aqua and chocolate roses, and a donkey in the center. Additional guests were T.J.'s grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fries.

Women's Camp set in June at Kirkmont

Ladies of Fayette County-do you want some fun and enjoyment? Want to get away from doing laundry, dishes and cleaning for a few days? Well, Ohio's Women's Camp at Kirkmont Center, near Bellefontaine, is planned for June 10, 11 and 12. This is just the place to "get away from it all."

Any women from Fayette County is eligible to attend. Camp begins at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 10, and end after breakfast on June 12.

The ski-type lodge overlooks Logan County, and is near the highest point in Ohio. The registration fee of $18 includes meals and lodging and use of camp facilities for the three days. The deadline for registration is June 2. All registrations must be sent to Mrs. Dixie Anderson, 300 E. Walnut St., Hillsboro, Ohio 45133.

Marriages declining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer people are getting married and more are getting divorced, according to the latest government reports, but some experts say declining marriage figures don't mean a rejection of traditional values.

A new study by the Center for Health Statistics shows the number of marriages performed in the United States declined about 7 per cent from 1973 to 1975.

The center's provisional data shows an estimated 2.1 million couples were married in 1975, compared with 2.2 million in 1974, and an estimated 2.3 million in 1973.

But Paul C. Glick, a senior demographer in the Census Bureau's marriage and family division, says the decrease in marriages is more likely a result of changing population patterns than a rejection of traditional values.

"We're now seeing a passing of a peak effect of the post-World War II baby boom," he said. He said a marriage peak was reached in the early 1970s, when the bulk of the post-World War II baby-boom generation reached the early 20s, traditional marrying years.

POTATOES WITH HAM-CELERY SAUCE

4 Idaho potatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups (½ pound) diced cooked ham.

The Major Samuel Myers Chapter U.S. Daughters of 1812 held the annual "Sunset Supper" in the Fellowship Hall of the Staunton Methodist Church on Monday.

After a sumptuous picnic lunch, the group was entertained with an illustrated talk entitled "America The Beautiful" given by Miss Mabel Spray. Miss Spray is a former Home Management and Family Economist associated with the Ohio State

Extension Service. Miss Spray stated that in his this Bi-Centennial Year all should review the past of this country and preserve the good, and good all, teach to the coming generations the love of the beautiful, the love of the good and the love of our country whose freedom all can enjoy.

"First, said Miss Spray, "in viewing the beautiful in America all need to look at the history of these United States." Much of it is preserved for all from Plymouth Rock to the present in the villages of New England — such as Sturbridge and Williamsport in Virginia. It is reflected by the monuments — Paul Revere in Boston, the Jefferson Memorial in Washington. It is found in the homes of great men as Mt. Vernon, Monticello, the Hermitage, or the home of Longfellow.

The second beautiful thing in America, the family and the familv home, whether it be a log cabin or a mansion, tells much about this country, the family from the baby, the toddler, the school years the marriage and the beginning of another family through to old age which built this great nation.

The third beauty in America lies in the realm of religion represented by the churches throughout the land — from the log church of the pioneers or in the mountain community, the little white church by the side of the road, the country churches, the city churches to the beautiful cathedral. Beautiful buildings; beautiful settings!

For the next source of beauty, she chose nature. There are the animals—buffalo, bear, deer that have roamed this land since before man; birds; the flowers; and trees, from the flaming colors of the eastern trees in the fall to the palms of Hawaii; the mountains—Alaska's Mt. McKinley, the Grand Tetons, the Rockies and the Appalachians; the Alaskan Glacier; the numerous rock formations — the Bad Lands of the Dakotas — the Grand Canyon; the rivers, the lakes, the waterfalls, the ocean, the prairies, the fertile fields. From Maine to Alaska to Hawaii, wherever one goes God's handiwork can be seen.

The final beautiful thing is when man works with God to create. There is Mt. Rushmore, Hoover Dam, the replicas the Parthenon in Tennessee, Alaska

Pipeline, the Space Program with the flight to the moon; and many more. Truly, these United States of America are beautiful, she said.

In the course of the business meeting, which followed, it was announced that three books had been placed in the Carnegie Public Library as memorials for the late Mrs. Leroy Sollars, Mrs. Howard Stewart and Mrs. William Theobald. The books are "Talley's North-east Kentucky Papers," "They Went That-a-Way" by Hamlin and "The History of the Hocking Valley, Ohio 1883."

Other guests were Mrs. Paul Engle, Mrs. Harry Bell and Mrs. Martin O'Cull.

QUARTER HOUR COOKING features a handsome Banana-Corned Beef Hash Bake for the days when the clock is always way ahead of you.

Banana your way to dinner

Everybody has days when nothing comes out on time. Every task seems to take longer than it should. Suddenly everybody's asking: when are we going to have dinner? That's the time to turn to quarter hour cooking. Yes, it can be done — dinner in 15 minutes flat!

Banana-Corned Beef Hash Bake is a budget specialty, and it gives you a good main dish in 15 minutes. Bananas are a good value all year around, as the Banana Bunch, industry-sponsored center for consumer information, points out, and bananas are well-liked by everyone. In the corned beef hash bake, whole bananas are peeled, sliced lengthwise, and baked along with the canned hash.

Cooked bananas lend a mellow flavor in dishes made with meat, something special, yet so affordable. Another example of this handy art of quick cooking, combining bananas and meat, is a dish called Banana Rolls, in which slices of ham, bologna or turkey are wrapped around whole peeled bananas, brushed with a tangy mixture, and broiled. Nothing could be simpler, quicker — and the taste is delicious, the appearance different and appetizing.

BANANA-CORNE BEEF HASH BAKE

1 can (15½ ounces) corned beef hash
2 large bananas
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

1 large tomato sliced
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Mound corned beef hash on heatproof platter. Broil 6 inches from heat for 10 minutes, until heated. Peel bananas, cut in half lengthwise and arrange around hash. Brush bananas with butter. Place tomato slices over hash. Broil 3 to 5 minutes or until bananas are heated through. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve with Mustard-Horseradish Sauce, if desired.

YIELD: 4 servings.

BANANA ROLLS

4 teaspoons prepared mustard
4 teaspoons currant or other tart jelly
4 slices ham, bologna or turkey
4 bananas

In small cup mix mustard and jelly, set aside. Wrap one slice of meat around each banana, brush with mustard and jelly mixture. Broil 3 to 5 minutes or until heated through. YIELD: 4 servings.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION, JUNE 8, 1976

1 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend Article III, Section 3 and Article V, Section 2 to adopt Article III, Sections 1 and 1b, and to repeal Article III, Section 1b, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR TO BE ELECTED SEPARATELY FROM THE GOVERNOR AND TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW THE METHOD OF NOMINATING CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR AND LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

2. TO REQUIRE THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE DUTY OF PRESIDING OVER THE STATE SENATE TO BE PROVIDED THAT HIS DUTIES SHALL BE THOSE ASSIGNED TO HIM BY THE GOVERNOR AND THOSE PRESCRIBED BY LAW.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL

Section 1b of Article III authorizing the governor to assign duties in the executive department to the lieutenant governor and the repeal of Section 1b of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1

The Ohio Constitution currently provides for the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected separately. This frequently results in the election of a governor and lieutenant governor of opposing political parties. The proposed amendment would require the nominees of each political party for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team in the general election. A single vote would be recorded as a vote both for the candidate for governor and his running mate for lieutenant governor. The amendment would not require the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor to "team up" before filing their petitions of candidacy, thereby bringing the Ohio election process into accord with federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and at the present time persons by right of federal law can vote at the age of 18 and with residence requirements as required by federal law. This amendment would remove any barrier to the general assembly from providing that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor would run as a team in the primary. Separate ballots would be cast for both offices in that case. The amendment requires that the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor run as a team in the general election.

Presently the lieutenant governor as presiding officer of the Senate has the authority to resolve a tie in that body when it is equally divided and also to sign legislation certifying to the constitutionality of the legislative procedure. This amendment would relieve the lieutenant governor of his duties as presiding officer, leaving it to the Senate to choose one of its own members as presiding officer. The lieutenant governor would then be assigned to him by the governor, in addition to any duties which the General Assembly may assign to him by law.

2 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 14 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

TO AUTHORIZE THE STATE, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, AND REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITIES TO LEND THEIR AID AND CREDIT TO FEDERAL, STATE, AND LOCAL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE WITHIN THE STATE.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS AUTHORIZED TO PROVIDE PROPERTY TAX REDUCTIONS FOR PROPERTY USED TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE AND TO REIMBURSE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS FOR THE REVENUE LOST AS A RESULT OF SUCH TAX REDUCTIONS.

TAX MONIES MAY NOT BE USED FOR THE REPAIR OF ANY DEBT INCURRED FOR THESE PURPOSES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 2

The purpose of the amendment is to permit the state and its subdivisions to aid federal, state, and local agencies to provide rail transportation service within the state. To accomplish this, the state, its political subdivisions, or regional transportation authority may give or loan its credit to aid corporations created under federal law, such as Amtrak and Conrail, or state agencies which have been created to provide rail transportation service. The General Assembly is authorized to provide by law for this procedure.

Laws could be passed to reduce taxation of property which is used to provide the state with rail transportation service. They could also permit reimbursement of local government units for revenues lost to a local government because of property tax reductions.

Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations which are issued for these purposes.

3 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend section 13 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

TO INCLUDE ENERGY FACILITIES AMONG THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH PUBLIC BONDS MAY BE ISSUED AND LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS UNDERTAKEN WITHOUT OBLIGATING OR PLEDGING MONEYS RAISED BY TAXATION. PROVIDED THAT SUCH OBLIGATIONS SHALL NOT BE MADE FOR FACILITIES OWNED OR LEASED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 3

The stated purpose of the resolution is to enable state revenue bond and loan guarantee programs to include self-help efforts to produce natural gas, oil, or other forms of energy.

To accomplish this the proposed amendment would authorize financial aid for energy development and use facilities to any governmental agency or to any private individual or firm but prohibits such aid to public utilities, as defined by law. Such financing is done through issuance of revenue bonds or guarantees or loans, with moneys for repayment coming from the operation of the facilities. Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for payment of the bonds or guarantees.

4 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 4 and to repeal sections 3 and 5 of Article V, Ohio Constitution

1. TO CONFORM THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND TO FEDERAL COURT DECISIONS BY LOWERING THE VOTING AGE TO EIGHTEEN AND ELIMINATING THE SIX MONTHS RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT.

2. TO PERMIT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY BY LAW TO DENY PERSONS CONVICTED OF A FELONY THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING OR BEING ELIGIBLE FOR PUBLIC OFFICE.

3. TO REPEAL PROVISIONS GRANTING VOTERS PRIVILEGE FROM ARREST AND REPEAL THE SECTION WHICH PROHIBITS MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM VOTING FROM A RESIDENCE ON A MILITARY INSTALLATION WITHIN THIS STATE.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 4

The Ohio Constitution provisions setting the voting age at 21 and a residency requirement within the state of six months have been invalidated by federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and at the present time persons by right of federal law can vote at the age of 18 and with residence requirements as required by federal law. This amendment would remove any barrier to the general assembly from providing that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor would run as a team in the primary. Separate ballots would be cast for both offices in that case. The amendment requires that the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor run as a team in the general election.

The section which prohibits the arrest of electors in or going to or from a polling place is repealed because there is a similar provision already in the law.

The section which prohibits a person from acquiring a voting residence on a military installation in this state is repealed because it has been held to be unconstitutional by the federal court.

5 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY CHARTERS TO PROVIDE FOR TERMS OF EVEN-NUMBERED YEARS FOR Elected OFFICERS.

2. TO REQUIRE VACANCIES IN ANY Elected STATE OFFICE CREATED BY ARTICLE II AND III, AND BY OR PURSUANT TO ARTICLE IV TO BE FILLED ONLY AS PROVIDED IN SUCH ARTICLES. VACANCIES IN Elected STATE OFFICES NOT SO CREATED SHALL BE FILLED BY THE GOVERNOR UNTIL A SUCCESSOR CAN BE ELECTED FOR THE UNEXPIRED TERM.

3. THE PROVISION AUTHORIZING THE GOVERNOR TO FILL A VACANCY IN THE OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS REPEALED.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 5

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to remove from the Constitution language which either duplicates or is inconsistent with language elsewhere in the Constitution relating to terms of office and vacancies in elective office.

If this amendment is adopted and should the office of lieutenant governor be vacated, the governor could not be filled by the governor. If the office of governor subsequently becomes vacant, then the president of the Senate would become governor as provided in Section 17, Article III.

The amendment adds a provision which would require regional and county charters to provide for terms of office of even-numbered years for elected officers.

6 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 7 and to repeal section 11 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO MAKE PROVISION FOR RETIREMENT OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS AND NOTES OF POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS FROM LEGALLY AVAILABLE SOURCES NOT LIMITED TO PROPERTY TAXES AND FOR LIMITATIONS ON THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON THE AMOUNTS OF SUCH BONDS AND NOTES ISSUED SUBDIVISIONS.

2. TO REQUIRE THE TIMELY PAYMENT OF GENERAL OBLIGATION DEBT INCURRED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION.

3. TO REPEAL CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS OPERATING TO INDIRECTLY LIMIT THE AMOUNTS OF BONDS AND NOTES ISSUED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION WITHOUT A VOTE OF THE ELECTIONS.

4. TO REPEAL REQUIREMENTS THAT POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS CREATE A SINKING FUND OR PAYMENT OF DEBT AT MATURITY.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 6

The amendment provides for the repayment of general obligation bonds and notes of political subdivi-visions from legally available sources not limited to property taxes. The General Assembly has the authority to determine the amount of the bonds and notes which may be issued by political subdivisions. The Constitution presently limits the amount of property tax that can be imposed without a vote of the electors. This provision remains unchanged by this amendment. Reference to the state is not included in the new section because limitation on and provision for retirement of state debt are made in other sections of the Constitution. The proposed amendment requires timely payment of political subdivision debt and repeals the requirements of establishing sinking funds for the repayment of debt at maturity. Most incurred indebtedness is now repaid by bonds maturing serially (a portion of the principal of the debt becomes due periodically rather than all at once, thereby permitting the issuer to spread the installment plan), and the requirement for a sinking fund is no longer necessary.

7 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 4 and 9 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE A RETURN OF NOT LESS THAN 50 PERCENT OF THE ESTATE TAXES TO POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS IN WHICH THEY ORIGINATE, AS MAY BE PROVIDED BY LAW.

2. TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO RAISE SUFFICIENT REVENUE ANNUALLY TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON THE STATE DEBT AS IT BECOMES DUE.

SCHEDULE

The Secretary of State shall assign section 9 if on the effective date of the amendment section 9 is already assigned.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 7

The proposed amendment conforms the Constitution to current fiscal practices by:

1. Requiring that the state annually raise sufficient moneys to pay the principal as well as the interest on the state debt. Currently this section only requires raising sufficient moneys to pay the interest.
2. Mandating that not less than 50 percent of the state taxes be returned to the political subdivisions in which they originated (county, school district, city, village, or township), as provided by law. Since Ohio has moved to the estate tax, a portion of that tax should be returned to the source from whence it was collected similar to the return required for inheritance and income taxes.

8 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 3 of Article XII and to repeal sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO AUTHORIZE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW THE AMOUNT OF AN ESTATE WHICH IS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

2. TO CONSOLIDATE TAKING POWERS WHICH ARE IN FOUR SECTIONS INTO ONE SECTION.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 8

The Ohio Constitution currently limits the amount which may be exempted from estate taxation to the sum of $20,000. The amendment removes any limit on the maximum value of an estate that could be exempted from taxation. Statutory law could grant exemptions from estate taxation in excess of $20,000.

Four sections of the Constitution dealing with the taxing power of the state are consolidated into a single section and extraneous language has been eliminated.

practical and appropriate to the voting procedure used. At any election in which a candidate's name appears on the ballot, the name or designation of each candidate's party, if any, shall be printed under or after each candidate's name in less prominent type face than that in which the candidate's name is printed. An elector may vote for either each candidate for Governor and Lieutenant Governor and Vice-President of the United States, and other than candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor only and in no other way than by indicating his vote for each candidate separately from the indication of his vote for any other candidate.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 3 and 5 of Article III shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL

Section 1b of Article III authorizing the Governor to assign duties in the executive department to the lieutenant governor and the repeal of section 1b of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

ISSUE 2 (Amended House Joint Resolution No. 85)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio by adding thereto Section 14, to authorize the state, local governments, and regional transportation authorities to lend their aid and credit to federal, state, and local transportation service within the state, and to provide property tax reductions for property used to provide rail transportation service, and to reimburse local governments for the revenue lost as a result of such tax reductions.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Sec. 14. For the public purpose of providing the state with modern passenger rail, interstate, and freight transportation service, credit of the state, and pursuant to laws passed for such purpose, the credit of the state, county, township, or regional transportation authority, may be given or loaned to, or in aid of, a corporation, partnership, or other legal entity, such as the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK) or the Consolidated Rail Corporation (CONRAIL), or any other entity created under the laws of Ohio, to provide rail transportation service in the state and law may be passed to reduce the tax on property used to provide the state with rail transportation service, and to provide for the reimbursement of local government units out of the general revenue fund for revenue that may be lost as a result of any such property tax reduction.

The laws passed pursuant to this section and the lending of aid and credit pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of sections 2, 6, and 11 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, that money raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations issued pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE

ISSUE 3 (Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 39)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to authorize issuance of bonds for projects that conserve energy or energy resources.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Section 13. To create or preserve jobs and employment opportunities to improve the economic welfare of the people of the state, to control air, water, or thermal pollution, to dispose of solid waste, to develop, produce, recover, store, transport, utilize, or conserve energy or energy resources, it is the public interest and a proper public purpose for the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public utilities, or other agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, to acquire, construct, enlarge, improve, or equip, and to sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of property, real or personal, and facilities within the State of Ohio for industry, commerce, distribution, and research, to make or grant loans, to make or borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide moneys for the acquisition, construction, enlargement, improvement, or equipment, of such property, structures, equipment and facilities. Election of officers held

Kiwanians hear history of telephone companies

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club elected officers for the coming year at its monthly meeting Monday.

Tom Mossbarger was elected president while Gerald Ragland was voted to president-elect; Jack Sommers to vice-president; George Gibbs to treasurer; and Lester Bower, Kenneth Hughes and Robert Lawrence to the board of directors.

Also during the meeting Jerry Begin was presented with a nine-year perfect attendance pin and a schedule for club members to take care of the Old Washington Cemetery was announced.

Mrs. Susan Link, the local commercial manager for Ohio Bell, presented a slide and commentary program entitled "Hello Ohio." It traced the history and growth of the telephone industry.

This year the telephone is celebrating its 100th birthday, Mrs. Link said.

In 1876, Alexander Graham Bell and his associate, Dr. Thomas Watson, applied for a patent for a talking machine on Valentines Day. On that same day, an Ohio Inventor, Elisha Gray, filed his intent to invent a telephone.

The rivalry between Bell and Gray was one of the most celebrated in patent history. Gray joined with Thomas Edison to work with the powerful Western Union Company to drive Bell's company out of business. The climax was that Western Union would settle out of court.

The first telephone was considered a hoax. Bell secured financial assistance and licenses were granted to local groups.

The first telephone established in Ohio was for Rhoads and Company, a coal company in Cleveland. The hook up was between the retail store and the wholesale office.

In 1877 telephones came in pairs—one for the house and one for the business, a truly private line. The need for a system of links between others was set up by Theodore H. Vail and the first switching exchange came into existence in 1878.

Early Ohio frontier society plagued by wealth of vices

Gambling, blasphemy, drunkenness and fighting were among the vices which troubled early Ohio frontier society. Severity of the Blue laws passed Feb. 9, 1809, will come as a surprise to modern Ohioans, for in many cases they included public whippings.

The laws were passed in the administration of Gov. Samuel Huntington, who grew up in Connecticut where such statutes had been in force for more than 100 years.

Use of corporal punishment (whipping) provided in some of the early laws was designed as a substitute for imprisonment, since at that time there were no suitable places of imprisonment except a few rude jails. Some argued corporal punishment was the best means of creating a proper respect for the law.

An 1809 law prescribed whipping for such crimes as attempted rape (rape was punishable by death); maiming, robbery, forgery, horse-stealing, burglary, counterfeiting and theft. The number of lashes specified for these crimes was the traditional maximum of 39, except for maiming and horse theft which could call for as many as 150. In practice, judges used wide discretionary powers in disregarding the letter of the law, or at least reduced the number of lashes to a minimum.

When a woman was whipped in Newark in 1812 "reaction of pain and disgust" made it the last of its kind in Licking County. Debate in the legislature over whipping continued in 1822 under the administration of Gov. Thomas Worthington. In the revised code of 1824 whipping was omitted from the list of penalties.

Worthington said he was much opposed to public whipping both because it was "a horrid spectacle and because, after suffering such punishment, the offender would have no remorse toward society thereafter."

High pressure moving into Ohio from Lake Superior brought cool temperatures overnight, but promises two days of sunny skies.

Skies will be clear through Thursday before increasing cloudiness spreads gradually east through Ohio late Thursday.

Cold Canadian air covered the state overnight, sending temperatures to record lows in Cleveland and Youngstown. Both cities reported 32 degrees at daybreak.

Today's highs were to climb into the upper 50s and low 60s north, reaching the 60s central and south.

Grease fire investigated

Washington C.H. firemen investigated the scene of a grease fire Tuesday.

An oven and surrounding structure in the Thomas A. McMurray residence, 331 Rawlings St., was burned when grease within the oven caught fire around 5 p.m. Tuesday, firemen reported.

The blaze had been extinguished by the time firemen arrived. The loss was estimated at $2,000.

Sleeping bags make great strides

By The Associated Press

A bone-chilling October wind spits pellets of freezing rain. The forecast was for steadily falling temperatures, sleet mixed with snow and brisk breezes throughout what promised to be a miserable night.

If we hadn't come so far, or if we had a little more sense, we might have called off overnighting in the tent next to the broad salmon river we hoped to fish the next day.

At turn-in time, my fishing partner and I wondered if we could stand the cold inside the 9 by 12-foot cotton shelter. We had no source of heat in the tent and would have to depend on warm clothing and our sleeping bags from dark till dawn.

My friend bundled up in as many different layers as he could wear and still fit inside the bag. I wore only one set of thermal underwear.

By morning I was quite comfortable and had not been awakened during the night because of cold. My friend shivered all night long and swore he was turning blue by sunrise.

The difference was our sleeping bags. He slept in an older bag with a fiber fill that was well mashed from use. My duck down bag was relatively new and immensely more efficient at retaining essential body heat.

Like almost everything else in the outdoor recreation field, sleeping bags have come a long way in a short time.

They now come in a wide variety of colors, insulating materials, styles, price ranges and sizes, from bags that will double up to sleep two to a half pint size for youngsters.

Despite improvements in man-made insulating fibers, experienced campers generally agree that prime northern goose down is the best all-round insulation available today.

Down is lightweight, highly efficient at retaining body heat while allowing moisture to "breathe" out, easy to maintain and long-lasting if cared for properly.

A good choice for the frequent camper who occasionally braves moderately cold weather is the lower priced bags of duck down and feathers. I have used duck down bag that is comfort rated from 25 to 70 degrees for years with good results. A flannel liner will keep you warm below 25 degrees and additional insulated thermalwear will lower the comfort range into the teens. A bag of this quality today would cost from $50 to $75.

One of the best man-made fibers in use today is dacron. Polyester fiber also is a relatively good insulating material which usually costs less than dacron.

"THE LAND OF HAPPY FEET"

121 East Court Street

CORKSCREW — Cedar Point's "ultimate in a thrill ride," the Corkscrew, is being readied for opening day, May 15 at the Sandusky amusement park. At left are the corkscrew turns that will carry riders upside-down twice as it passes directly over the new Midway. In the background (center) is the 85-foot high hill, a quick dip and the 360 degree loop-the-loop. The addition of the Corkscrew makes five roller coasters at Cedar Point and increases coaster ride capacity by 35 per cent.

Park unveils upside-down coaster

SANDUSKY, — Cedar Point Amusement Land will open its 107th consecutive season Saturday with a revolutionary, upside-down roller coaster, the Corkscrew, a new midway and several new attractions and shows.

The Corkscrew is a $1.75 million coaster that will turn park guests upside-down three times during its 2,050-foot long ride—once through a 360 degrees loop-the-loop and twice more as it passes through the "eye" of the corkscrew.

The Corkscrew and a Swiss-imported ride, the Troika, will be located on a 1,000-foot-long midway that extends from the center of the park into a previously undeveloped area.

The new development represents the bulk of a $4.5 million capital improvements program for 1976, the second largest single-season budget in the park's history.

"The Corkscrew is our first major ride addition in three years and we expect it to generate quite a bit of excitement," Robert L. Munger, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer of Cedar Point, said. "Rides are our main attraction at Cedar Point and we feel the Corkscrew offers our guests the ultimate thrill ride."

The two corkscrew loops, located directly over the new Midway, will also provide a thrill for those persons viewing the coaster while park guests turn overhead. Planning and Design Manager Lee Jewett calls it "the greatest spectator ride ever built."

Rides are not the only new attractions this season. The Cedar Point Cinema, which opened which opened its doors last year with the world's largest indoor motion picture screen, will feature a new movie, "Circus World." The 23-minute film is an in-depth look at the life of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's Circus, seen through the eyes of the IMAX-motion picture system and displayed on a screen 67 feet high and 88 feet wide.

In Sealand, lemon sharks will be on display for the first time. The recent movie "Jaws" has created an increased interest in sharks, Curator Steve Trott said, and three, seven-foot long lemon sharks will join nurse and leopard sharks in a 28,000 gallon tank.

Live entertainment will offer music from the Gay 90s through the mid 70s in four indoor and one outdoor theatre. Live entertainment manager from the Gay 90s through mid 70s production duties for the shows, said the trend to provide more informal, outdoor entertainment will continue, with four travelling troupes appearing in different sections of the park.

The Frontier Trail will again feature craftsmen in authentic log cabins and shops. The Grist Mill, built in 1834 in North Carolina, will grind corn this year, and the Candle Shop that burned during this spring has been rebuilt.

Jungle Larry's domed theatre "Circus Africa," new in 1975, will be located on the new Midway. Tigers and striped cats will return to Cedar Point for the first time in three years, due to a recent amendment in the Endangered Species Act that will allow Larry to bring them from Florida to Cedar Point. A 20-year-old female lion trainer, Pat White, of Clare, Michigan, will also be a new feature.

Prices for 1976 are $7.50 for adults and $6.50 for juniors, ages four through 11. Children three and under are admitted free. For Fridays in May and June, adult tickets will be discounted to $6.75. The admission price is good for unlimited use of all rides and attractions. Cedar Point opens daily at 9 a.m.

Compromise set on watchdog panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key senators have agreed to support a compromise that would create a new Senate committee with authority to tighten congressional control over U.S. intelligence activities, sources say.

The compromise agreement would give the new panel exclusive jurisdiction over the CIA, but it would share authority over the FBI and military spy agencies with other committees.

The agreement is expected to head off a bitter floor fight between those who want the intelligence community watched over by a single panel and members of four committees that currently oversee the operations of the intelligence agencies.

The compromise, reached Monday night, is expected to satisfy senators insisting on much tighter congressional control over the agencies in the wake of a 15-month Senate investigation of intelligence agency abuses. The abuses ranged from involvement in domestic politics to alleged attempts to assassinate foreign leaders.

The agreement was worked out at a meeting in the office of Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., a longtime advocate of tighter control of intelligence agencies.

The compromise is expected to be offered on the Senate floor, probably on Wednesday, by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nevada, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee.

No action on the compromise was expected today because it is the date of the West Virginia primary in which Senate Majority Whip Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., is on the ballot as a candidate for his Senate seat and for the Democratic nomination for president.

Byrd was one of the key figures in working out the compromise.

Debate on proposals for creating a new intelligence committee was scheduled to start Monday, but the matter never came up and there was no outward indication of the efforts underway to reach a compromise.

currently having jurisdiction over intelligence agencies, and nine from outside those panels.

It was Mansfield who insisted that a majority come from outside the four committees that have had the responsibility for overseeing intelligence agencies, the sources said. Those panels are Armed Services and Foreign Relations, which are responsible for the CIA and military intelligence; the Judiciary Committee, which has FBI jurisdiction, and the Appropriations Committee, which has budget jurisdiction over all of them.

Senators would serve on the new committee for no more than nine years. However, there would be no time limit for staff members.

Ohio Theatre to host four children's shows

The Columbus Association for the Performing Arts will present four professional groups performing for children at the Ohio Theatre on four separate Wednesdays this summer. The presentations are designed to capture the imaginations of children and grownups alike, featuring delightful settings, costumes and polished casts.

Opening June 30 will be "Jamboree" presented by the Nicolo Marionettes. The musical centers around Do, Re, and Mi who spring to life and take a spectacular trip through time to explore the whole panoramic sweep of American musical history. "Jamboree" features a large cast of specially articulated marionettes, enormous stylized hand-puppets and rod-figures in a rollicking, revue-style production.

"Robin Hood" presented by the Traveling Playhouse will arrive at the Ohio Theatre on July 28. No character in history is more beloved than Robin Hood, and the stories of his courage, honesty, and physical prowess have always been exciting to children. The spirit of "Merrie Engleland" has been captured not only in the folklore and music of the time, but also in the colorful costumes and settings.

Sytco will present "One for the Money - Five for the Show" on August 11. It's the fanciful story of an evil prime minister who attempts to squash all of the artistic people in his kingdom. Music, dance, and comedy are all in abundance to please both young and old.

Finally, the Fanfare Players will present "Pinnocchio" on August 25. The time-honored children's story of Geppetto, the lonely woodcutter, and the puppet he fashions to take the place of the little boy of his dreams has been a traditional favorite since it was written by Carlo Collodi in 1880.

Each production will be presented twice on their respective Wednesdays, at 11:00 a.m. and at 2:00 p.m. Subscriptions to the entire series are now on sale at the Ohio Theatre Box Office. Subscribers realize generous savings over "at-the-door" prices and subscription tickets can be used in any combination throughout the summer.

MOVING HISTORY — Eight members of the Homer Lawson American Legion Post are shown wearing the uniforms of particular wars the U.S. has been involved in over the past 200 years. The bicentennial float, with its theme of "We Were There - Two Hundred Years of Black History," has already appeared in a recent Chillicothe parade, and will be seen July 4 in Washington C.H. and Bloomingburg. The float may appear in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, held annually in New York City. Elevated and covered with carpet, the float features nine different historic U.S. flags.

Carter eyes Ohio vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jimmy Carter's Ohio campaign manager says the remainder of Carter's Ohio campaign will be focused on 11 congressional districts, the keys to what he sees as a chance of copying Ohio's entire delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Campaign manager Ted Celeste said Tuesday Carter will be aiming at the 11 districts where well-known local politicians are running as favorite son candidates against Carter.

If Carter can defeat those candidates, Celeste said, all 152 Ohio delegates may fall to the former Georgia governor.

"I think that's a real possibility," Celeste said.

He said the potential spoiler is Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., the most prominent national candidate still challenging Carter for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"If Udall's still alive, he has a shot in two or three congressional districts," Celeste said, singling out the 9th, 14th and 22nd districts, "and possibly the 10th. He's got a lot of good people working."

But if Udall—winless in the presidential primary sweepstakes—should drop from the contest soon, Celeste said, it would narrow the campaign to the 11 favorite son districts. In the other 12 districts, he said, Carter would be the frontrunner against already-eliminated national candidates.

Week honors small businesses

It's easy enough to overlook the usual array of special weeks observing national sausage week, national pickle week or the like, but this week honors a very special national institution to which much is owed for America's well-being.

This week is "National Small Business Week." There won't be much commemorating the event on nationwide television or even in the pages of national print media because for years small business has been quietly laboring on main streets and in shopping centers, making each town a better place to live and not expecting much recognition in return.

That's unfortunate when one realizes that small business delivers over half of the nation's jobs, 43 per cent of goods and services and directly and indirectly affects the lives of over 100 million Americans.

However, it should be noted that while these are indeed impressive figures, they show a dwindling of the small business share of the economy. As individuals, small businessmen have had to fight for a fair position in the country's marketplace. The small businessman must deal with the impact of big labor, big government and big business — all of which have been driving small business off the competitive map.

Those forces have also served to keep

Mouseketeers professional

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brand-new, racially integrated set of Mouseketeers, without any Ohioans, will be singing the Mickey Mouse Club anthem on home television screens starting next year.

The Walt Disney studio in Burbank is producing a new version of the 1950s show, which staged a comeback with reruns across the country last year.

"Applicants came here from all over the country," added coproducer Ed Ropolo. "During the first week of tryouts, women arrived with children from Cheyenne, St. Louis and Athens, Ohio."

Despite the wide-ranging hunt, all the new Mouseketeers have had some professional experience, and many have appeared on television shows or commercials.

Rhodes signs five law bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill giving the state Transportation Director authority to extend school speed zones up to 300 feet beyond school property lines has been signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The school zone bill, sponsored by Rep. Michael DelBane, D-56 Hubbard, will enable Transportation Director Richard Jackson to determine locations where a 20 mile per hour limit should be enforced beyond school boundaries to ensure safety of pupils.

A measure sponsored by another Mahoning County legislator, Rep. Thomas J. Carney, D-71 Boardman, makes it easier for industries to drill for oil or gas on their own property.

The bill bars counties and townships from using zoning ordinances to block drilling by companies on land the firm owns or leases.

Rhodes also signed: —A bill sponsored by Rep. A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, authorizing temporary commitment of delinquent children to district detention homes and state aid to such facilities from the Ohio Youth Commission.

—Legislation, sponsored by Rep. William G. Batchelder, R-93 Medina, allowing maximum state reimbursement for certain community mental health and mental retardation projects.

A bill, sponsored by Sen. William F. Bowen, D-9 Cincinnati, granting broader power to regional transit authorities and authorizing their use of state grants for participation in federal mass transit programs.

Man seeks freedom for Liddy

OXON HILL, Md. (AP) — James A. Gavin had no trouble enlisting a neighbor to be editor of the Indian Queen Elementary School PTA newsletter. Only one thing might get in the way, the neighbor said. "I might have to go back to prison."

That was 1½ years ago.

The neighbor, G. Gordon Liddy, did go back to prison to serve the longest term of any of the 58 men convicted of a Watergate or Watergate-related crime.

Gavin said Monday he thinks Liddy has been a prisoner far too long and his five children are suffering because of it.

Gavin is heading a petition drive to get him out.

He first tried the idea on 75 people. "Maybe two of the 75 said they would sign such a petition," he said. Of the others, "One said he never signed anything, another said they ought to throw away the key."

Liddy was the architect and field marshal of the Watergate break-in. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica sentenced him to six to 20 years for his role and another 18 months for his obstinate silence before the grand jury. He has now served three years and is not eligible for a parole hearing until May 1981.

"I lived in the neighborhood for eight years and never knew the Liddys," says Gavin, assistant director of the Washington office of Tenneco. "But our children play on the same teams — baseball, basketball, Boys' Club."

Students, officials plan youth government program

Tuesday evening, members of the Washington Senior Hi-Y Club met at the school in order to talk with the city officials that they will be emulating on Saturday, City Youth-in-Government Day.

The orientation program opened with a speech from Tim O'Flynn, president of the Senior Hi-Y Club, who explained the purpose of City Youth in Government Day to the group.

George Shapter, city manager, addressed the students and city officials and gave a detailed account of how one goes about writing an ordinance. He defined such terms as resolution, emergency ordinance and emergency legislation, and outlined the proper steps one must go through to write a proper piece of legislation. After Shapter's speech, O'Flynn briefed those present on Saturday's schedule.

At 9 a.m., the students and their adult partners will meet in Persinger Hall at the First Presbyterian Church 214 N. Hinde St., for an opening session. Immediately following this, the youth officials will spend time with the adult officials discussing problems and solutions to city problems. At 11:30 a.m. the participants will meet once again at the church for a luncheon which is being sponsored by the Huntington Bank of Washington Court House. A keynote address will be given at this time.

At 1 p.m. the students and the persons advising them will meet again and make last minute preparations for the mock council meeting. At 1:30 p.m. everyone will gather for a joint city council meeting during which time, each official and department will bring up ordinances, resolutions, and concerns that the council should consider. The council will then discuss city problems with the city officials and act upon legislation.

The roles that the students will be assuming include that of city council, city manager, city auditor, fire chief, city inspector, chief of police, superintendent of streets, waste water treatment superintendent, city planning commission, municipal judge, municipal clerk, Washington school board, superintendent of schools, health board, health commissioner and welfare director.

The Senior Hi-Y Club is advised by Mr. George Shoemaker.

Hamilton campus director named

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Dr. M. Douglas Reed, 37, will replace Dr. Bernard F. Phelps as director of Miami University's Hamilton campus August 1, according to Miami President Dr. Phillip Shriver.

Phelps recently requested to be relieved of the position to resume teaching.

TWO CHIEFS — Fire Chief Joe Dennen is pictured speaking with Washington Senior High School student, Mike Provost, who, for the third year in a row, will assume the mock role of fire chief during City Youth in Government Day, Saturday. This annual event is sponsored by Washington Senior Hi-Y and was formulated with the intention of giving young people the opportunity to experience the duties and responsibilities which face our city officials.

Two scholarships awarded

Lions Club honors top area students

At the meeting of the Washington C. H. Lions Club Tuesday, president Dick Coates announced the winners of the Lions Club Scholarship. Also recognized were honor students from Washington Senior High School and Miami Trace High School who had maintained an average of 3.5 or higher.

Carmen White, the Miami Trace recipient of a $200 scholarship, is the daughter of Mrs. Frank White and the late Rev. Frank White. She plans to attend Otterbein College and major in religion and philosophy.

Kevin Pfeifer, who also received $200 is the son of Maurice and Peggy Pfeifer. He was the Washington Senior High School recipient of the scholarship. He too plans to attend Otterbein College and will major in pre-dentistry.

Ohio's Wilberforce University, founded in 1856, got its name from the English Bishop who led a long fight for abolition of the slave trade in the British Empire.

Panel bogs down over property tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) A joint legislative committee has bogged down in its efforts to draft a compromise version of a property tax relief bill, but members say they'll continue negotiations next week.

The committee of three senators and three representatives worked for two hours Tuesday, but failed to reach agreement on issues separating the two panels.

The committee is trying to find a version of the tax bill acceptable to both chambers of the General Assembly. Both the House and Senate have passed a tax relief bill, but neither version is acceptable to the other side.

In both forms, the bills aim at stabilizing property taxes paid by homeowners and at revamping the state's tax administration. Both would accomplish the task by shifting more of the tax burden from homeowners to business and industry.

Until a compromise version is reached and passed, however, the present system will remain. Howls of protest over the present system prompted the legislation earlier this year.

During their meeting Tuesday, the lawmakers discussed adding another tax measure to the bill which would lower the assessment rate on business equipment and inventory.

Rep. George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, chairman of the conference committee, said the question of business taxes must be resolved before the compromise version can be written. The chief sponsor of the bill, Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, said he would accept the business tax cut to balance the bill, saying "I'm not out to soak business."

And, Rep. Fred B. Hadley, R-79 Bryan, pushed for the business tax cut, saying the bill was unfair to businessmen.

But, Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, said the committee could not cut taxes for everyone. He said earlier versions of the bill cut property taxes "at the expense of business and industry."

But with the business taxes cut, he said, "then the property tax relief will be provided at the expense of local government and school districts."

He said he would not accept the business tax cut unless provisions are made to recompense local government for the lost revenue.

Also during the meeting, Johnson said he would surrender his plan for appointment of judges to his proposed Tax Court of Appeals, conceding to a demand they be elected. But Senate conferees said they are not ready to accept the court at all.

"All we do is run a job employment agency for lawyers," grumbled Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R-4 Middletown. Lukens and Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, want to retain the present quasijudicial Board of Tax Appeals, as was included in the Senate bill.

Jury returns guilty verdict in theft case

A two-day trial of a Washington C.H. man charged with receiving stolen property ended in a finding of guilty Tuesday in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Edward J. O'Keefe, 22, of 619 Columbus Ave., was found guilty of receiving stolen property of less than $150 in value. Though normally classed as a misdemeanor, O'Keefe's crime followed a previous conviction, and, under the Revised Ohio Code, it therefore became a felony offense.

Judge Evelyn W. Coffman sentenced him to one to five years in prison.

During the trial, eight witnesses were put on the stand by assistant Fayette County Prosecutor John H. Roszmann. O'Keefe's attorney, Michael J. Lander, had one witness testify for the defense.

O'Keefe had been arrested by the Washington C.H. Police Department on March 8, following their discovery of numerous articles of stolen property received by O'Keefe.

Much of the stolen property was found at his Columbus Avenue address. Relatives of O'Keefe's were also arrested on charges of receiving and possessing stolen property.

Historians say Ohio had no native Indians, but the first occupants are believed to have been the Eries of the lake region, destroyed by the Iroquois in 1655. After that, Ohio, like Kentucky remained unoccupied but was used for hunting grounds. Then in the early 1700's the Indian population of historic times entered the state. The Miami Indians, for instance, came from the Northwest along with some other tribes. Others entered from the south.

WLW's O'Neill auctioneer

DEAF to sponsor sale

The local Deaf Educational Assistance Facility (DEAF), Inc. will be sponsoring an auction to be held on May 22 with WLW disc jockey, James Francis Patrick O'Neill, acting as auctioneer.

Local merchants are presently donating merchandise for the auction which will be held at Kroger's. Some of the items donated include hand-made quilts, afghans, lap robes and paintings.

All proceeds will go to DEAF for teletype (TTY) equipment for the deaf in the Washington C. H. area.

DEAF was formed 18 months ago and one of their accomplishments so far is the installation of a teletype machine in the sheriff's office which provides the deaf with a means of communication.

When someone is trying to contact a person who is deaf, a light flashes on the deaf person's telephone. He then picks up the receiver and puts it on a cradle-like object called a coupler. The message is then sent to the deaf person through the teletype system. The deaf person can also contact the sheriff's office through this same method.

If anyone would like to make a donation to the auction, which is to become a yearly function, contact Mildred Duvall at 335-1069.

Wheat, flour data hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grinding of wheat into flour for use in foods has been heavy enough in recent weeks to prompt an increase by the Agriculture Department in the amount of the key grain it expects to see consumed this season in this country.

For corn, however, only the estimate on how much will be exported was changed Tuesday as USDA brought out its latest forecasts on present and future supplies of and demand for major grains.

That, too, went up — by 50 million bushels — to a new total of 1.6 billion.

The change in the official estimates reflects previously reported new purchases by the Soviet Union and continued heavy shipments to other countries.

Both changes this late in the seasons could mean a mild boost to prices for farmers, because of the increased demand for their crops.

But USDA officials said the impact on food prices should not be noticeable because of the relatively small quantities involved.

They did point out that the more flour on the market can only help consumers if the savings from greater supplies are passed along to them.

The wheat grinding prompted a 9-million-bushel hike from April 23 estimates.

That still would leave a 66 per cent increase from a year ago in the amount of stock carried over into the new season July 1. The total supply in that new season is expected to be the largest ever.

Medicaid cutbacks blocked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal judge ordered today the Department of Public Welfare to delay its planned cuts in certain Medicaid programs.

Judge Robert Duncan of U.S. District Court instructed the welfare department to continue paying full Medicaid reimbursements to all recipients beyond May 15, when the department planned to make cuts.

The judge ruled in a case filed at the end of April by welfare recipients. They sought an injunction to halt the cuts on the basis that the services were federally mandated. Further court hearings are anticipated.

The Department of Public Welfare originally wanted to cut about a dozen Medicaid programs on April 1 to eliminate a $40 million budget deficit.

Raymond McKenna, then welfare director, wanted to stop reimbursements for nonprescription drugs; nonemergency ambulance transportation; dental services; psychological, physical and occupational therapy; optometry and occupational therapy.

WHY CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS — "Even though knowledge is factually the same for the Christian and for the non-Christian, no subject can be taught in the totality of its truth if the Creator, God, is ignored or denied. God must be honored and proclaimed as Creator and Sustainer in every subject. Education that honors God is based on the premise that God is the integrating factor. ## Seniors of the Week

Rajeane Marie Keiser is our first featured senior this week. Rajeane, daughter of Richard and Ruth Keiser, resides at 2023 Snowhill Road, Washington C.H. She has one younger brother, Randy.

Her courses for the year include bookkeeping, psychology, American government and short stories. Rajeane is a member of Future Teachers of America, American Field Service, and 4-H. She played flute in the marching band for two years, has been majorette for two years, and has played in concert and symphonic bands for three years.

Attending baseball games, especially the Cincinnati Reds, football and basketball games is what she enjoys doing. Other things she is interested in are horseback riding, twirling, being outdoors places with her fiancé and friends.

Rajeane plans to attend the Cincinnati Bible College and major in Christian education. Following college, she plans to get married and work with underprivileged children. "Life is a precious gift given to you by God; enjoy and live it to the very fullest through Him," comments Rajeane.

Allan Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Larreck, resides at 3924 CCC Highway-E and has two brothers and a sister: Steve, Susan, and Brian.

Business law, media, consumer economics, family living, government, composition, international studies, and a member of the basketball team and baseball teams. He is editor of the Mitra, vice-president of Varsity "M", and is also a gym assistant.

He enjoys playing all sports, going to the horseraces, and just being outdoors.

His future plans are to attend Morehead University and major in education and play baseball. Later he would like to become a teacher and coach. "Underclassmen, make many friends and become active in sports and clubs, and make these four years fun because they are gone before you know it," is Allan's advice to underclassmen.

Jim Ingram, son of Herman and Beverly Ingram, is our next senior this week. He lives at 2080 CCC Highway-W.

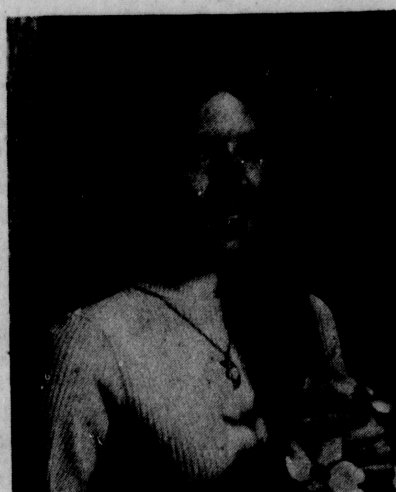

His courses include bookkeeping, media, speech, contemporary literature, filmmaking, composition, international studies, government, family living; and he is a chemistry lab assistant. Jim is a member of the bowling club, two year member of the "In the Know" team, and for four years has taken the Scholastic Achievement tests at Ohio State in English. He also works part time at Buckeye Mart. Marking movies and having a good time are some things he likes to do. Jim also enjoys all sports, especially baseball, and travel.

He plans to work this summer and then attend Eastern Kentucky University to major in secondary education. His advice to underclassmen is, "Get in many activities to be the best student and person you can be."

Howard Whiteside is the final senior this week. His son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Whiteside, and resides at 328 E. Market Street. He has one brother Ronald, and two sisters, Carolyn and Patricia.

His classes this year are advanced math, machine shop,

Porpoises protected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today ordered tuna fishermen to stop using a common method of fishing which kills hundreds of thousands of porpoises each year along with the tuna catch.

Porpoises are an endangered species.

The ban, effective May 31, will severely affect the tuna industry. Estimates are that between one-third and one-half of the domestic tuna catch is taken by using porpoises to show the locations of large schools of the fish.

U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey, awarding a decision to 14 environmental groups, said he realized the per-ton cost of catching tuna in some ocean areas may rise if purse seiners are prevented from using the porpoises.

"But steps which ensure the protection and conservation of our natural environment must, almost inevitably, impose temporary hardships on those commercial interests which have long benefitted by exploiting that environment," Richey said.

Ohio's first constitutional convention composed of 35 delegates, half of whom were under 40 years of age, convened Nov. 1, 1802. It completed its work in 25 days at a cost of less than $5,000.

Vocal concert

Don't forget the vocal concert Thursday evening. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Freshman Choir, Symphonic Choir, and Folk Singers will be performing. There also will be selections from this spring's production of "South Pacific", and other special numbers presented. There is no admission charge.

Sharp Nolan, Reds blank Pirates, 6-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — You have to get-up pretty early to beat Gary Nolan. "You can't come to the park against a club like Pittsburgh and get your program together at 8:05," said Nolan, who says his game-day preparation begins over breakfast coffee.

"You'll be out of there in a hurry if you do. You can't take a club like Pittsburgh lightly," he said.

Nolan ran his record to 3-1 Tuesday night, snapping the Pirates' six game winning streak with a six-hit, 6-0 shutout that gave him 18 scoreless innings in a row.

It was the latest highlight in the comeback of the 28-year-old righthander who was once written off after two years out of baseball.

"He was a magician out there," said catcher Bill Plummer.

Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson says Nolan "is a better pitcher now than any time last year."

Anderson doesn't hesitate to go a step further.

"If he had the fastball now that he had when he first came up and had the control he has now, along with the changeup, you'd be looking at the best pitcher in the game in 20 years," said Anderson.

Hot-hitting Tony Perez supported Nolan's precision pitching with a two-run homer and a bases-loaded single that gave him four runs batted in for the night.

"I'm getting my stuff together," said Perez, who hit his third homer in two games and boosted his RBI total to 10 in the last four outings. The victory pushed the Reds' record to 16-10 and kept them in front of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the battle for first place in the National League West.

Nolan, in lowering his earned run average to 2.16, has not allowed a run in 23 of his last 24 innings. He has yielded only three runs in his last 29 innings.

The Reds, in winning their fourth in a row, roughed up Buc starter Bruce Kison for three runs in the first inning. Dan Driessen drove in the first run and Perez drilled a bases-loaded single.

Perez, who has boosted his average from .187 to .250, hit his homer off Ramon Hernandez, who had not allowed a gopher ball in two years.

The shutout was Nolan's first of the year, though he went nine scoreless in a nondecision against the New York Mets in his last outing and combined with Rawly Eastwick for shutout earlier.

"I had excellent command of my off-speed pitch," said Nolan, who had not thrown a complete game since June 8.

"For me the most important thing is hours before. One to four o'clock is the most important. While everybody is on the field, I can think and relax."

Only two Pirate runners got past first base as Nolan did not issue a walk.

"I'm mentally tired," Nolan said, who has turned to a thinking man pitcher since his shoulder injuries eroded his fastball.

Tonight, Don Gullett, 2-1, duels Jim Rooker, 3-1.

How long is a 13-game losing streak? "About two heart attacks and several sleepless nights," says Dave Bristol, manager of the Atlanta Braves.

Bristol finally was able to get a good night's sleep Tuesday after his Braves posted an 8-7 decision over the New York Mets, ending the longest losing streak in major league baseball this season.

But it didn't come easy. The Braves blew a 7-5 lead in the late innings and had to come back to win on Rowland Office's RBI single with two out in the ninth.

"No human being knows the joy that goes on inside you after breaking a streak like that," Bristol said. "It's a big burden off 30 guys."

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Diego Padres 9-1, the Cincinnati Reds shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-3.

After Office drove home Marty Perez with his ninth-inning single, the Atlanta dugout emptied and the young outfielder was mobbed coming off first base.

"I looked up and thought we had won the World Series," he said.

Phil's 9, Padres 1

Steve Carlton stopped San Diego on six hits to help the first-place Phils to their ninth victory in the last 10 games. Philadelphia scored six runs in the first two innings, then major league home run leader Mike Schmidt belted his 13th of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

Astros 5, Expos 3

Homers by Jose Cruz and Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first inning that carried Houston over Montreal.

Expos starter Clay Kirby, 0-2, failed to retire a batter, Larry Milbourne and Enos Cabell walked, Cruz belted a three-run homer, Bob Watson walked and Johnson smacked a two-run homer, knocking out Kirby.

Reliever Tom Griffin got the victory, allowing just one hit in 4 1-3 innings.

Dodgers 4, Cards 0

Ron Cey hit two home runs and Joe Ferguson one to back the five-hit pitching of Don Sutton, who posted his 42nd career shutout. The three homers gave the Dodgers 16 in their last seven games.

Cubs 4, Giants 0

Chicago snapped a five-game losing streak, scoring all its runs in the sixth inning. Manny Trillo belted a two-run double to highlight the uprising.

Tigers 4, Yankees 3

Gary Sutherland's two-run single with two out in the ninth inning capped a three-run rally that lifted Detroit over New York. Rusty Staub opened the ninth with a double and came around on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Aurelio Rodriguez. Pinch-hitter Dan Meyer and Tom Verzyer singled and moved up on a wild pitch by Ed Figueroa, 2-2, who had allowed only four hits until the ninth. Sutherland then bounced his game-winning hit up the middle.

Orioles 5, Brewers 2

Ken Singleton doubled home two first-inning runs and Lee May slapped a two-run single in the third, sparking Baltimore over Milwaukee. Mike Cuellar, 1-2, who entered the game with an 11.20 ERA, checked the Brewers on two runs and five hits through the first six innings. Wayne Garlow finished up for Baltimore with three hitless innings as the Brewers lost their third game in a row and fifth in six starts.

Royals 6, Twins 3

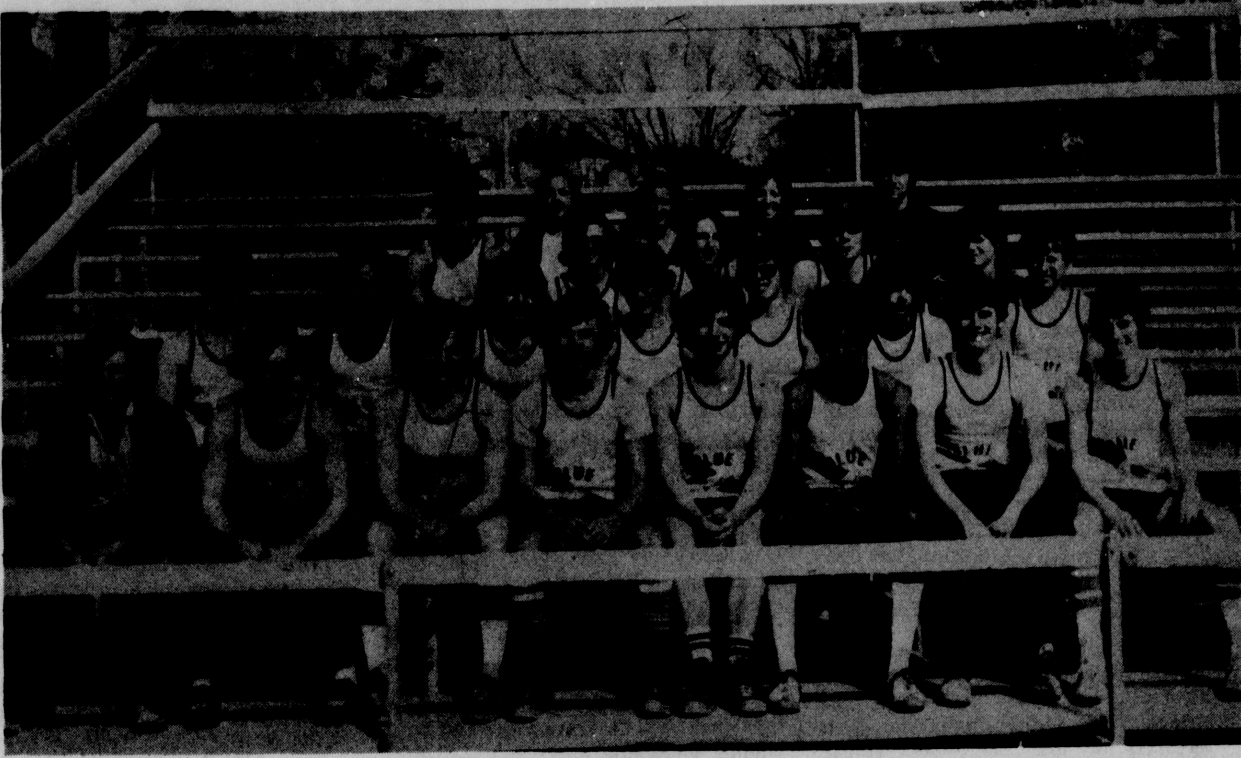

George Brett, swinging the hottest bat in the American League, knocked in the go-ahead run with his third hit of the game as Kansas City snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning and went on to defeat Minnesota. It was the fourth straight game that the Royals' 22-year-old third baseman, who is batting over .350, has had three hits.

Rangers 6, White Sox 5

Toby Harrah's bases-loaded sacrifice fly with none out in the bottom of the ninth inning lifted Texas over Chicago. Juan Beniquez tripled off loser Dave Hamilton to start the ninth-inning rally and Lenny Randle and Mike Hargrove were purposely walked. Reliever Pete Vuckovich served up the pitch to Harrah, who drove it to medium center field and the sliding Beniquez beat the throw to the plate.

A's 6, Angels 4

Pinch-hitter Ken McMullen singled in two runs as Oakland scored four times in the eighth inning to beat California. The Angels took a 3-2 lead into the eighth with relief pitcher Dick Drago on the mound. With one out, Billy Williams walked and Bert Campaneris doubled. McMullen faced Paul Hartzell, who was called in from the bullpen. McMullen lined a single to left and Tim Hosely followed with his first home run of the season to score two more runs.

Cindermen ready for sectional

Healthy Lions top Unioto

CHILLICOTHE — The Washington C.H. track team tucked a dual meet win under its belt Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's sectional track meet at Rio Grande.

The Blue Lions easily handled Unioto, 71-56, in the meet. Rick Crooks' squad lost a dual the previous night, but he was missing three of his top performers. They returned Tuesday and all three figured in the point total.

Joe Cox, who sat out Monday's meet because of illness, led a Blue Lion sweep in the 100-yard dash with a :10.65 clocking. Teammate Mark Forsythe took second in :10.7 and Greg Greene placed third in :10.9.

Cox also anchored the half-mile relay team's win. The Blue Lions won the race with a slow 1:42.3 time, but a Unioto runner fell insuring the Lions of a win. Cox eased up on his anchor leg according to Crooks and won easily.

Jim Runnels is still hampered by an early season ankle sprain. He still won the pole vault with a 10-foot jump. Teammate George Jones finished second.

Tim Dove turned in his best low hurdles time of the season after finishing third in the highs. Dove covered the 180-yard course in :22.2. Forsythe, Donahue, Dewey Foster and Jason Rummer also won events.

Forsythe took first in the 220 followed by Ed DeWees who took second. DeWees also took second in the long jump.

Foster won the 880 for the second day in a row. Teammate Tracey Wilson finished second in both the half-mile and the mile runs.

Rummer and Donahue won the mile and two-mile runs respectively.

Bob Matson dominated the weight events as usual. Dan Dean picked up two points for the Blue Lions with thirds in both events.

Sacrifice fly dooms Court House

CHILLICOTHE — An eighth inning sacrifice fly broke up a 1-1 pitching duel between Chillicothe's Jeff Kern and Washington C.H.'s Tom Dean and gave the Cavaliers a non-league baseball win Tuesday.

Dean tossed a four-hitter, but took the loss when Chillicothe's Radcliffe singled, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a fly ball by Carl.

Kern got credit for the win giving up seven Blue Lion hits, but issuing no walks.

Chillicothe scored a run in the first inning and the Blue Lions tied it in the second on an RBI single by Jeff DeWees scoring Kevin Bonecutter. Neither team scored until the extra-inning sacrifice fly.

Randy Sparkman led the Blue Lions in hitting with three safeties and DeWees rapped out two singles.

The Blue Lions will resume league

action Wednesday when they host Miami Trace. They will resume sectional play Thursday at Waverly.

Waverly beat Hillsboro in a sectional semifinal match this week. As in basketball, the Blue Lions will be after the sectional tournament championship against Waverly.

Sports briefs

Larry Hunter named Wittenberg coach

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Larry Hunter, for three years an assistant coach at Wittenberg University, was appointed Tuesday as head basketball coach.

Hunter, 26, succeeds Bob Hamilton, who resigned to become basketball coach at the U.S. Naval Academy.

The new head coach was the varsity assistant coach under Hamilton and led the junior varsity squads to a 34-4 record over the period.

Hunter joined the Wittenberg staff in 1973, after two years as assistant basketball coach at Marietta College.

Houston Aeros beat New England

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The New England Whalers put the pressure on Houston in the final period of their World Hockey Association playoff game Tuesday night, but the Aeros kept their cool.

"We almost blew it, but our guys hung in there when it counted," said Houston Coach Bill Dineen after watching his team almost blow a three-goal third-period lead before outlasting the Whalers 4-3.

Hubie Brown Atlanta Hawks coach

ATLANTA (AP) — Hubie Brown, who relies on teaching, organization and discipline to produce a winner, signed a multiyear contract Tuesday to attempt to guide the Atlanta Hawks out of the National Basketball Association doldrums.

"I'm taking a positive attitude from day one," said Brown, who resigned earlier in the day as coach of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

"I feel I'm entitled to take an optimistic approach because I feel I can get the job done," he said. "If I didn't, I wouldn't be here."

Armbrick Rick winner of Scioto feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Armbrick Rick breezed to victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, covering the mile in 2:03.45.

The winner paid $4, $3.60 and $3.80. Georgana Double returned $19.80 and $8.60 for second and Torero Hanover, $5.60 for show.

The 2-2 daily double combination of Gay Irish and Karna Hanover was worth $20.20.

A crowd of 4,359 wagered $234,938.

Near flawless Cavs stop Celtics in NBA playoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's young Cavaliers, back on their game of sparse mistakes, are confident they can pull even with Boston's veteran Celtics Friday night in the National Basketball Association semifinals.

"We're known for a team that doesn't turn the ball over. When we do, we're in trouble," reflected Bill Fitch after his Cavaliers committed only seven mistakes in an 83-78 verdict over the Celtics Tuesday night.

It had been an entirely different story in Cleveland's opening two losses to Boston in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals. The Cavaliers erred 17 times in Game One, 24 in Game Two.

Fitch also lauded his team's fluid defense that contained Boston on a 34 per cent shooting night. "We stopped their break just as good as anybody has," he said.

Tom Heinsohn wasn't that impressed, grumbling, "We played high school offense. We didn't make them play."

Cleveland has rationed the Celtics' famed offense to an average of 86 points in the last two playoff games, a fact disturbing Heinsohn.

"We've got to rectify a lot of things before Friday. We're going to have to talk about it," he said.

Meanwhile, Fitch was confident the Cavaliers could reach the finals in their first try at the NBA playoffs.

"This is the only team I've coached that can get down 3-1 and still win it. I'm hopeful we can get out of here with a 2-2 split. I think we can," said Fitch.

Jim Cleamons, whose 18 points led the victory, said the Cavaliers are becoming accustomed to playing with Nate Thurmond. The 34-year-old center has been pressed into duty because of injured regular Jim Chones, out with a broken toe.

"As the series goes along and we get used to playing with Nate," said Cleamons, "it's going to make a difference."

Thurmond, the darling of an NBA playoff record-tying Coliseum throng of 21,564, steadies Cleveland's defense, handling Dave Cowens in the middle.

"You've got to give him credit," Fitch said of Thurmond. "He's doing a helluva job against a guy who changes his uniform in a telephone booth."

Thurmond, who has limited Cowens to 48 points in three games, knows he's on the spot.

"If we can keep Cowens from dominating the series, I think we can win it. If anyone can hold him down, I think I can," said Thurmond.

Heinsohn and Cowens appear ruffled over all the fuss of the matchup at center.

"Thurmond is not a factor," said a scowling Heinsohn. "I'm tired of hearing he's a factor."

Boston's hopes have been damaged with a foot injury to John Havlicek. The 35-year-old forward managed just nine points in the third game.

"It's not good, but well enough to play Friday," said Havlicek, looking down at his left foot, wrapped in a towel in the quiet Celtics' dressing room.

Jo Jo White's 22 points paced Boston. Cleveland put four players in double figures, headed by Cleamons' 18 and 17 by reserve guard Austin Carr.

Driver suffers broken neck

Rookie injured at Indy trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Heck, the rookie test isn't anything terrific in the way of speed," said a confident Janet Guthrie.

But another rookie, Eddie Miller, proved the speed could be terrifying.

Miller started the final half of his rookie test Tuesday after Miss Guthrie had finished the first half of her test, mandatory for all rookies entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Gliding smoothly around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at about 167 miles per hour on the seventh of 20 laps, Miller's Offenhauser-powered Eagle started to slide sideways coming out of the first turn.

It careened into a drainage ditch, launching the car over a five-foot photographer's fence. It bounced once, flew high in the air over an eight-foot spectator's fence, and landed upside down less than five feet from a crowded spectator grandstand. The car wedged into another fence which prevented the auto from plunging down a 20-foot tunnel.

"I can't remember a car getting that far out of the ballpark since 1951," said one veteran U.S. Auto Club official.

The spectacular accident demolished the car and trapped Miller, 31, from Lakewood, Colo., inside the battered cockpit for nearly 20 minutes.

Miller suffered a broken neck, but his condition was given as "excellent ... considering" by his doctor.

Miss Guthrie, who did not see the accident, was philosophical.

"You accept the risks in this game," said Miss Guthrie, who planned to complete the final phase of her rookie test today. "I saw someone die at Watkins Glen. So I know ..."

It will take a speed of probably at least 180 m.p.h. to make the May 30, $1 million race, and the rookie test speeds are considered safely slow. But Miss Guthrie said she could see how something might go wrong.

"When you're trying not to go as fast as you can, you lose your concentration — and you're not going all that slow that you can afford to lose it," she said. "I don't know if that's what happened to Eddie, but I know I was bored to tears" during the test.

Miss Guthrie said she had planned to complete all 40 laps of the test Tuesday, but ran out of time. She almost didn't even get half done.

"I got through six laps and the oil pressure dropped, and I brought the car back in. Anticipating perhaps I could not complete the test" she threw her driving gloves in disgust.

The problem was very minor and she was able to return to the track and finish the segment of the test.

Royce Berry sent to Bears

CINCINNATI (AP) — Royce Berry, who served six years as defensive captain of the Cincinnati Bengals before a fallingout with Coach Paul Brown, has been traded to the Chicago Bears for an undisclosed draft choice.

The 30-year-old veteran defensive end sat out the 1975 season with a broken wrist.

Berry, 6-foot-3, 250 pounds, said he "knew I was going to be traded...I'm just surprised at the team."

The bidding:

South 1♠ West Pass North 3♠ East Pass

Opening lead - king of hearts.

Most players are familiar with the Bath Coup, even though they may not know the technical name for the play. It gets this name because the play is said to have originated in the resort town of Bath, in England.

Consider this deal where West leads the king of hearts. If South knows his way around a bridge table, he plays the four on the king, hoping that West will continue the suit and so hand him an extra heart trick. This duck of the king, holding A-J-x, is called a Bath Coup.

However, if West is acquainted with this hold-up play, he switches to a different suit after East plays the discouraging deuce of hearts on the king.

Let's suppose West shifts to a club at trick two. South cannot afford to finesse, since this would subject him to defeat if the finesse lost and East returned a heart. So he goes up with the ace in order to insure the contract.

He next plays the K-Q of trumps, followed by the queen of diamonds. East wins either this diamond or the next one with the ace and returns a heart. South wins with the ace and, after discarding his heart loser on dummy's third diamond, concedes a club trick to the king, thus making the contract.

Note that if South wins the king of hearts at trick one, he goes down. East later takes the lead with either a diamond or a club and returns a heart through declarer's J-4. The Bath Coup proves to be absolutely essential to making the contract, even though West does not fall into the trap of leading a second heart at trick two.

The Cause of Contact Dermatitis

I get severe itching and redness of my ears whenever I have my hair dyed. I do this every two months and suffer intensely for several days.

Mrs. L. G. E., Ill.

Dear Mrs. E.:
The reaction you describe may be due to an allergy to one of the substances in the dye or to a chemical irritant.

An "irritant contact dermatitis" may be caused by the acid, the alkalis and the chemicals in the dyes, even in those people who are not allergic.

"Allergic contact dermatitis," on the other hand, occurs in people who are highly sensitive and would react "allergically" to a great many substances.

People who suffer from "irritant contact dermatitis" are not benefited by allergic desensitization. Those with "allergic dermatitis" may be effectively treated in this way.

Sensitivity to cosmetics is a common experience. Every effort must be made to protect your ears during the dyeing process. Sometimes, shifting from one dye to another or using nonallergic products may be helpful.

Dermatologists are able to study these two varieties of contact dermatitis and are often able to pinpoint the exact cause.

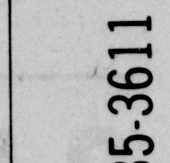

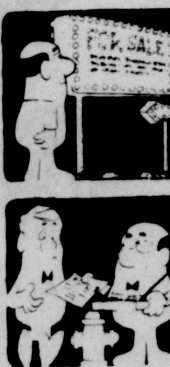

I had an operation on my

Wreck sends three to Fayette hospital

A Tuesday afternoon accident sent three people to Fayette County Memorial Hospital, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

A car driven by Helen T. Mellinger, 65, of Cincinnati, travelling northbound on the Old Chillicothe Road, reportedly pulled into the path of a car proceeding northeast on Ohio 753. The second car was driven by Kenneth A. Easter, 20, of Bainbridge.

Ms. Mellinger, who suffered a fractured pelvis, and Easter, also seriously injured, were both admitted to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where they are listed in "satisfactory" condition. A passenger in Ms. Mellinger's car, William K. Boldman, 43, of Greenfield, was treated and released for abrasions.

The cars were severely damaged as a result of the 1:40 p.m. Tuesday accident, and Ms. Mellinger was charged with failing to yield to an oncoming vehicle.

Two rods of fence were damaged when a car driven by Danny W. Cox, 19, of 524 Fifth St., went off the right side of the Rowe Ging Road, just west of Ohio 41-S at 8 p.m. Tuesday. He was charged with failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

No lawsuit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Municipal Court judges decided Tuesday against suing the City of Cincinnati to provide them with space for two courtrooms following their eviction from the Hamilton County Courthouse by the Common Pleas Court.

Presiding Municipal Court Judge Thomas Crush said the decision was reached during a meeting which followed the eviction notice.

As Ralph W. Thomas, 20, of Bloomingburg, was backing from the Lewis E. Thomas residence, 57 Lincoln St., his car struck a tree on the property at 1 a.m. Wednesday. There was slight damage to Thomas' car.

Washington C.H. police officers checked a 3:04 p.m. Tuesday accident.

A car driven by Robert C. Cockerill, 75, of Washington-New Martinsburg Rd., was westbound on Western Avenue, when he reportedly failed to yield to a car northbound on Delaware Street. A collision resulted.

The driver of the second car was Patricia J. Young, 22, of Jeffersonville, and her car was slightly damaged, as was Cockerill's. Cockerill was charged with failing to yield.

Youth cited for disorderly conduct, resisting arrest

After a chase by Washington C.H. police officers, a 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Upon receiving a complaint of two male subjects in a vacant apartment, police officers discovered the youth in the building. The subject refused to identify himself, reportedly used abusive language, and then fled on foot from the N. Fayette Street apartment.

The youth was soon apprehended, taken into custody, and charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest as a result of the 3:40 p.m. incident.

Numerous jackets, all valued at $100 were reported stolen from the Bill Wilson residence, 114 W. Paint St., between 8:30 p.m. Monday and 5 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was apparently made through a broken window.

Arrests

SHERIFF

TUESDAY — Danny W. Cox, 19, of 224 Fifth St., failure to drive on right half of roadway; Marvin E. Cook, 39, of 2219 Rowe Ging Rd., reckless operation.

POLICE

TUESDAY — William Garrett Sr., 25, of 724 Paint St., failure to display license plates; Mark E. Pettiford, 23, of Chillicothe, bench warrant; James E. Dewees, 61, of 513 E. Paint St., driving while intoxicated; a 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest; Robert C. Cockerill, 75, of Rt. 2, Washington-New Martinsburg Rd., failure to yield.

Robert A. Burlile, aged three, of 335 Bogus Rd., was reportedly bitten by a dog while both were on the back porch of his home 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. The boy was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies checked an alleged theft and a dog bit report.

Charles Stroud, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., told sheriff's deputies that six quarts of oil, a rope and pulley, and an oil filter, all valued at $20 were missing from his home. Their loss is believed to have occurred sometime between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. or 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Monday.

Thelma P. Moore, Octa, was reportedly bitten by a dog while she was picking up wood in her back yard around 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Seek man for slaying of children

KIRTLAND, Ohio (AP) — Police continued their search today for Roy E. Smith of Painesville who is wanted in connection with the beating deaths of two Kirtland children.

An aggravated murder warrant was issued Tuesday by the Lake County prosecutor's office against the 26-year-old Smith.

The bodies of the children, Kim

Bracken, 14, and brother, Kenneth, 12, were found in the Kirtland apartment Monday. Their mother, Sandra Bracken, a divorced barmaid, arrived Tuesday from Las Vegas where she had been vacationing.

Lake County Coroner Maxwell E. Burnham said that the children died of skull fractures and brain damage caused by repeated blows to the head with a blunt instrument. He said the children were fully clothed and a preliminary examination showed they had not been sexually molested.
